

Messy vs. Mercy

When things
get messy,
show mercy.

Isolation and depression
are messy;
consolation and friendship
are mercy.

Opposition and violence
are messy;
peace and reconciliation
are mercy.

Greed and selfishness
are messy;
generosity and largesse
are mercy.

Departing from the Gospel,
you become messy;
returning to the Way,
you find mercy.

Apart from Jesus,
existence becomes
messy;
walking with Christ,
you encounter
mercy.

Following the spirit of the age
is messy.
Guided by the Spirit of the Lord,
you are bathed
in mercy.

For those who bestow
mercy,
life is never
messy.
