

I love teaching children about the love of Jesus!
I love seeing children become confident in new found abilities.
I love having the opportunity to make a difference in the lives of children and their families!

In my classroom of predominately 4-year-old children, we focus on social and emotional development. As children improve their self-regulation & social skills and increase their emotional intelligence in the classroom environment, they are better prepared for the rapid academic growth of transitional kindergarten and elementary school.
