Wilby Limited have been very impressed with the service provided by Go Shred

THE BACKGROUND

Wilby are a large and independent Chartered Insurance Broker and risk management specialist based in West Yorkshire serving clients across the United Kingdom.

To ensure that their client's details are kept secure and to also keep their internal paperwork; such as human resources, purchasing and corporate information safe and compliant with their industry safety standards as well as the Data Protection Act, they retained the services of Go Shred.

THEIR PROBLEM

Virtually every piece of paper generated at, or coming into Wilby Limited is packed with ultra-sensitive information.

They needed to make sure that the company looking after their secure shredding needs would be able to implement a system internally and externally that would ensure the security of these materials.

In addition, Wilby Limited wanted to maintain their policy of using local independent suppliers working to the highest international standards possible. With Go Shred they were able to achieve that

THE SOLUTION

Wilby went back to the market to find a suitable provider and performed a rigorous due diligence exercise to ensure the provider was equal to the task of securing their sensitive data.

Go Shred were able to come to the Head Office and do a full site survey, specifying a robust internal method of collection and a service that would destroy their materials at the EN15713 site in West Yorkshire. Additionally, all of Wilby's paper is recycled into tissue and paper products giving a closed loop.

“ Thank you! We would definitely recommend your services ”
