

PLEASE TELL ME WHY

By John Lipinski

She said goodbye, please tell me why
She said goodbye, I gave her my everything
Is there some other guy, please tell me why
Did I give her too much, we no longer touch
Please tell me why, she said goodbye

She's the girl of my dreams, I thought, truly one of a kind
Walkin' out of my life, need for you to vacate my mind
Wings of love, that don't fly, you went away and left me behind
You fell out of love, asked the man up above, please tell me why

She said goodbye, please tell me why
She said goodbye, I gave her my everything
Is there some other guy, please tell me why
Did I give her too much, we no longer touch
Please tell me why, she said goodbye

Right now, I'm useless, fighting with a will to survive
I can't breathe, I'm worthless, don't even know I'm alive
Been thinking, she might return, no rational reason applies
With my cards on the table, I never even lied, so please tell me why

She said goodbye, please tell me why
She said goodbye, I gave her my everything
Is there some other guy, please tell me why
Did I give her too much, we no longer touch
Please tell me why, she said goodbye
