

MARCH 2024 NEWSLETTER

Fisherman, Writer Jim Hendricks is joining us!

Jim Hendricks is an excellent fisherman and writer. This will be a great time to pick up some tips about fishing and writing articles for our newsletter.

Our speaker for Wednesday March 13, 2024, will be Jim Hendricks, West Coast Editor, Salt Water Sportsman Magazine, Marketing chair for CCA CA. Jim has built a 40-year career in the marine and sportfishing industries in capacities that have ranged from advertising and public relations, to editor and publisher. He has also fought for years for marine conservation issues & anglers' rights. In the 1980s, he campaigned against inshore set gillnets along the California Coast. Proposition 132 was placed on the 1990 state ballot, was passed overwhelmingly and led to the phase-out of set gillnets in state waters. Hendricks currently serves on the state board of directors and executive committee for the Coastal Conservation Association of California, and is the chair of CCA Cal's Marketing Committee. He is also a member of the Ocean Resources Enhancement Advisory Panel, which helps guide the California Department of Fish and Wildlife regarding the white seabass hatchery program.

President's Message for March 2024

Hello anglers! The convention and show season is off to a wild start in anticipation of the opening of saltwater fishing. Freshwater fishing is available and if you like sculpin and bass so is saltwater to a degree. You got your gift cards from the banquet and so it's time to get that much needed terminal tackle or that new rod or reel. I tried to stay away from my favorite vendors as I have little self-control about new tackle and someday Denise is going to discover where it's hidden. Actually, it's not but one corner of my dining room is storage!

The saltwater schedule is 90% complete and the trips are filling fast. Make sure you sign up ASAP and if you have doubts place your name on the standby list. I understand things happen sometimes a good stand-in is what's called for. As of today, the saltwater charters are as follows:

1. Endeavor 1500 Anchors Way Drive Ventura, CA 93001 fishing FRIDAY May 31, 2024, leaving May 30, 2024. 4 openings

If you visit a show and see someone interesting, please get contact information so we can contact them as a possible speaker.

Not receiving the newsletter? Make sure Denise has your correct email address. When signing up for salt water charters make sure I have a phone number so you can receive texts AND to all members, check out our face book page and our web page. Teri Cobal and others put in some work to help keep you informed. If you haven't done so already, become a member of our face book page.

This is kind of the calm before the storm. Time to get you gear in order, new line, learn your knots etc. The season will be upon us sooner than we think and the time to prep is now.

Finally, for the past few months we've had visitors and new members. I want to thank everyone who brought in a friend and hope ALL members act as recruiters and ambassadors to our club and sport. See you at a meeting or on the water soon.

William Davis. President

BIG BEAR LAKE WEEKEND

The weekend freshwater event at Big Bear Lake will be May 18th and 19th this year. Fishing will be both Saturday and Sunday. Each day will be a separate fishing event. Big Bear offers a variety of options, you can stay overnight or drive up one or both days. Accommodations are plentiful with advance reservations, including camping.

If you plan to bring your boat, be sure to check the regulations ahead of time. Big Bear Lake is open 24/7 year-round. While we've seen Dick Giuliani out on the lake in his boat during a blizzard, it is not recommended.

Denise Davis contacted the Lodge that many used last year and received some special rates for our group. The Lodge is right on the lake and has docks. She sent out an email with the rates in case you want to stay there. You need to call the Lodge ASAP to get the "Turners' Fishing Cub" rate.

Bart Hall Shows Featured Women in Fishing Symposium

The Hall Shows both at Long Beach and Del Mar held a Women's Symposium. The Women's panel was moderated by CCA's Assistant Director Tonie Bangos. In addition to Tonie, also participating was Wendy Tochihara of Izorline and CCA's board, Lori Byron Sachau of San Diego Turner's Outdoorsman, Capt. Tiffany Vague of Vague Custom Rods, JoJo Pemberton co-owner of Hookup Baits, Celia Condit of Searcher Sportfishing, Donna Kalez of Dana Wharf Sportfishing, and Sophia Huynh of Seeker. Sponsors stated that by far the fastest growing segment of the sportfishing industry is women. It was an interesting discussion of how women have continued to work and thrive in the sportfishing industry at all levels.

After briefly introducing themselves and sharing the time they have spent in the fishing industry, the gals went on to answer questions from the moderator as well as the crowd. Some of their discussion focused around their success in the fishing industry, whether they married into it or worked their way up through the ranks. Many years in the fishing industry were represented, and it was interesting to hear what education and additional skills the ladies had that enabled them to reach their current status.

Also mentioned were possible barriers in the industry and how to overcome them. While one man posed the question of how to get his wife out on a fishing boat, other questions focused on the availability of clothing and fishing gear appropriate for women. Even the topic of women's tournaments came up. While some of these panelists fish together already, it was agreed that more female oriented fishing charters were needed to welcome new ladies to the sport. The ladies on the panel agreed to continue to work together with the mutual goal to support women who sportfish as well as to attract more women to the sport.

Editor's Note: While Turner's Rod & Reel does not have a Lady's Charter, we have expanded over the years with female members as well as more family memberships that are welcome to all of our club events.

Editor's Note: The following is a charter story submitted in 2007 by member Mike Maurizio. I'm sharing it to give the members, new and old, some ideas of how great member-written stories were in the past. Mike wrote this story because he was the Jackpot winner of the trip. Reading this story sure brought back a lot of memories of that trip that I was on. We need to continue this tradition of sharing our fishing trips and events with the entire membership. We need to do this for every trip. Some of the "characters" are still in the Club while others have moved away or passed on. I hope you enjoy the story.

Island Tak Trip Oct 27 2007 as told by Mike "Mikie" Maurizio.

As I arrive at Laney's house Friday night and precede to load my gear into his truck, I tell him I have this cosmic, karma feeling that something good is going to come out of this trip. I'm sure everyone has felt it, it's unexplainable, but we all know the feeling. A very positive, adrenaline pumping flow that runs through our veins as every trip begins. Maybe the white seabass will break loose, or a big school of yellowtail will come through, or it'll be a calico bass bite that'll top all others. The usuals are on the boat, Glen, Gary, Paul, Warren, our glue that holds these trips together Rich Jenkins, and a surprise to me William and Denise show up, Jim and Dennis to round out the field. Unbeknownst to us, I think Steve Kelly already had game plan in his mind. The water had been cold, no calicos had been caught, and all other gamefish were non-existent. At early light we pass Anacapa and head out in the direction of Santa Cruz , maybe doing some rockfish/lingcod fishing. But as we head in towards the far west end of S.C. close to the island, Steve's plan is to target shallow water rockfish or whitefish (heaven forbid). Now generally speaking we consider whitefish as a last resort to fill our sacks to get limits as a good count for the boat. Needless to say, these would be the only thing biting this day, and what's so exciting about catching 1 & 2-pound fish that don't pull very hard!! Well as it turns out this day will top out as good as any albacore trip, rockfish, bass, or any other trip that we all have experienced. I had that Karma feeling mentioned earlier, hooking the first large whitefish of the day, a 6 1/2 pounder on the scales. Many of us were already catching 3 and 4 pounders, so when a big one was pulled over the rail, I eyeballed it hoping my fish was still in contention as the jackpot fish. Soon 7 & 8 ponders were being caught. So much for my JP lead. But low and behold I catch a 9 lb. fish to take the lead again. Now a story in itself. Dennis seemed to have one of those days where nothing wanted to bite his hook. It's frustrating when everyone is catching fish and you're not. Good old Glen (Mr. Lucky) helped him by changing his RED line, but that didn't to get more bites either. Steve Kelly, the Island Tak's captain, even helped by rerigging his gear. I told Dennis not to give up as we all had such days. I had one of those days on the May or July trip. I couldn't buy a bite. It was only after the drifts for sculpin that I started catching fish. And I mean big toad sculpin. So, within those last two drifts I limited out on those big rattlesnakes. As the saying goes it isn't over til the fat lady sings or the last hook is out of the water. Well as it turns out Dennis hooks up to probably the largest whitefish of the trip. Now I'm pissed in a competitive way, but very happy for him to see a smile from ear to ear as we all shake his hand in congratulations. There went my JP fish. When someone starts catching fish or their rod is bendo all the time on this small boat everyone knows. No secrets here. Now I hook another monster fish that burns drag and takes me from one side of the boat to the other. After I YELL for a gaff, the fish is pulled over the rail but Dennis's fish still looks like the top dog , and I'm convinced he's got the JP in the bag. In the end John scales both fish and mine happens to be a bit heavier. To my surprise I get the jackpot. What a trip, any one of us could have been in contention for first place, as many freakishly big whitefish were caught. Imagine these brutes as small yellowtail and pulling just as hard, taking you around the boat from side to side. That's the kind of trip we all had. That's it.
