

Statement of Principles

There is One Creative Force of which all life is a part. This One Creative Force is known by many names and manifestations. We recognize and honor the many names and manifestations of the One Creative Force, the Source of All Creation, One in God.

The energy of Life everywhere is continuous. All Consciousness is continuous. Communication is continuous. The energy of Life, Consciousness and Communication never cease, even after the event that is perceived as death.

One creates one's own reality. One creates in harmony with the One Creative Force, the great power of God, of which all life is a part. Reality is as one chooses to perceive and will change as one grows in knowledge of the inner self and one's relationship with the God of his understanding. All things are possible with faith, insight, knowledge, understanding, acceptance and love.

Love is the unifying energy of the universe. Love is the energy of the One Creative Force, the wisdom of God. All life and all mankind are one in the creatorship and healing force of love and with each other. Love is within us and of us. Love is never apart from us. It is we who separate ourselves from the power of love. The force of God works through love and love alone.

What we expect

Providing quality content is critical to sustaining a growing assembly, and its ongoing spiritual development. The Church of the Angels relies on external speakers like you to complement in-house expertise and add value to our service.

A speaker, as yourself, provides us with subject matter expertise that can only bring us soulful and essential insights. Your willingness to participate provides us inspiration, thought-provoking or motivational content that encourages our audience to grow in personal ways.

Years of experience tells us that speaking to our assembly helps you expand your marketing and results in referrals to friends and family. We seek to return the energy exchange you give us by making your personal introduction to an open and supportive audience, and by promoting your presence to other like-minded communities.

Our past speakers are leaders in the metaphysical community. Many have national followings. Our experience teaches us that close collaboration between us aligns our membership goals with your objectives and ensures the best audience experience.
