

A CELEBRATION OF CULTURE

PHOTOS BY DANIEL BOCK FOR THE MIAMI HERALD

Pratibha Warriar with Rhythms School of Dance in Davie, perform a folk dance from the Punjab region of India during a kickoff celebration for The Big Read 2014 series of literary events, Sunday, March 16, in Wynwood. The series continues through April 15 with an Indian cooking demonstration, book discussions, a film series, and other events. For more information visit www.thecenteratmdc.org, or call 305-237-3258.

Scores of people turned out for the kickoff celebration of The Big Read 2014 series of literary events, Sunday, March 16, in Wynwood.

Dancers from Rhythms School of Dance in Davie perform a folk dance from the Punjab region of India. Presented by The Center for Literature and Theatre at Miami Dade College, the event also featured free copies of this year's book, "The Namesake," by Jhumpa Lahiri.

Janet Davis, 12, and other dancers from Rhythms School of Dance in Davie, perform a folk dance during a kickoff celebration for The Big Read 2014 series.