DFARS 252.225-7009: Restriction on Acquisition of Certain Articles Containing Specialty Metals
Preference for Domestic Specialty Metals, Alt. I Basic Requirements:

Santa Fe Enterprises

QUALITY CLAUSES

Specialty metals must be melted in the United States or a qualifying country, or they can be melted anywhere but must be "incorporated in an article manufactured in a qualifying country." The clause allows a qualifying country to manufacture parts from metal that was melted anywhere, provided it meets specifications, but a United States company can only use metal that was melted in the United States or a qualifying country.

(Warning! - Procurement of raw material from a casting or rolling mill in the United States or qualifying country does not necessarily mean the raw material was melted in the United States or a qualifying country. All applicable certifications must be scrutinized to determine the country where the metal was melted.)

As of April 2005, the qualifying countries are: Australia, Belgium, Canada, Denmark, Egypt, Federal Republic of Germany, France, Greece, Israel, Italy, Luxembourg, Netherlands, Norway, Portugal, Spain, Sweden, Switzerland, Turkey, United Kingdom of Great Britain, and Northern Ireland.

(Warning! - Note that Japan and some other "friendly" countries are not on the list.)

"Specialty Metals" means: (i) Steel-

- (A) With a maximum alloy content exceeding one or more of the following limits: manganese, 1.65 percent; silicon, 0.60 Percent; or copper, 0.60 percent; or
- (B) Containing more than 0.25 percent of any of the following elements: Aluminum, chromium, cobalt, columbium, molybdenum, nickel, titanium, tungsten, or vanadium;

(ii) Metal alloys consisting of nickel, iron-nickel, and cobalt base alloys containing a total of other alloying metals (except iron) in excess of 10 percent;

(iii) Titanium and titanium alloys; or

(iv) Zirconium and zirconium base alloys.

SFEQC-20:

COUNTERFEIT PARTS PREVENTION PLAN

Supplier shall have an established control plan compliant to AS5553B for the necessary avoidance, detection, mitigation, and disposition processes to prevent counterfeit parts, especially active or passive electronic components from entering into our customers' supply stream. Supply Chain traceability of all Electrical and Non-Electrical parts to the OCM (Original Component Manufacturer) or aftermarket manufacturer is required that identifies the name and location of all of the supply chain intermediaries from the part manufacturer to the direct source of the product for the seller.

Source supply must be authorized (franchised) for the part(s) being quoted and must indicate whether or not it is providing full manufacturer's warranty on the quoted part(s). Buyer must be notified immediately if the seller suspects they may have been supplied counterfeit parts.

SFEQC-21:

PRODUCT SAFETY and ETHICS POLICY

The supplier shall plan, implement, and control the processes needed to assure product safety during the entire product life cycle, as appropriate to the organization and the product such as: assessing hazards and management of associated risks, management of safety critical items, analyze and report any occurred events affecting safety of the product, communication of these events and training of persons.
