

Back to school . . . August 12th

Students in Orange County will be returning back to school on Tuesday, August 12th. Please be aware that students will start appearing on the streets again.

The beginning of the school year is a time when children are at an increased risk of transportation-related injuries from pedestrian, bicycle, school bus and vehicle crashes.

TIPS FOR MOTORISTS

- Slow down and obey all traffic laws and speed limits
- Watch for school buses
- Keep an eye out for children walking in the street
 - Be alert of children gathering and playing at bus stops & for those who might dart out into traffic
 - When driving in school zones watch for children who are in a hurry or might be distracted and/or playing with other children

- Always use headlights during the morning and evening commutes so children can see you

If you witness violations that threaten the safety of a child, notify the local police department with the license plate number, description of vehicle and driver, time and location of the incident.

Take a little extra time and remember that one mistake caused by haste or lack of attention can tragically alter the life of one of our children forever.

Inside this issue:

| | |
|--------------------------------------|----------|
| Working around Cranes | 2 |
| Birthdays & Anniversaries | 2 |
| Project Updates | 3 |
| Ray Brassine | 3 |

Get to know . . . Mike Lagenour

1. How long have you worked here? Since December 1999
2. What do you enjoy most about your job? Always something different
3. Where were you born? French Lick
4. Do you have any children? One son, Steven
5. Favorite restaurant? Red Lobster
6. Favorite TV show? Bones
7. Hobbies: My house and my truck
8. If I didn't work here, I'd be: working somewhere else
9. A person in history you'd most like to have dinner with: My grandfather
10. What are you most proud of? My son

EMPLOYMENT ANNIVERSARIES

Jason Stewart - 4 Yrs

Mike Switzer - 2 Yrs

Working around Cranes

EXPERIENCE CAN BE THE WORST TEACHER

Experience teaches us a lot about working around cranes. But often the lessons are costly. For example: A laborer carrying a bag of cement walked between a crawler crane and a building column. The crane swung round and fatally crushed him between the counterweight and the column. On another job, a workman was leaning on the crane frame, talking with one of his buddies. The load came in contact with a live power line and he was electrocuted. Today, we'll discuss things we should and should not do when working around this equipment.

STAY OUT FROM UNDER

It's a smart move on your part to stay out from under suspended hooks and loads. There's always a chance that during a lift, the load could shift and fall. It may be a slim chance because of the good rigging techniques we use. But once is all it takes to cause a serious injury or a fatality. Also stay clear of swinging loads. That big "I" beam can squash you like a bug if you get in the way.

YOU'RE NOT SAFE WHEN NOT SEEN

Remember, too, that the crane operator may not see you. He's concentrating on moving his crane into position or swinging his load. Think of the swing area of the crane as "no-man's land." And stay out. The crane will have no sympathy if you get in the way. And it won't come out second best. I'll guarantee that.

OTHER DANGERS

Have you ever heard of a P.L.P.? It stands for Public Leaning Post. And a lot of people think that's what the crane is. They're asking for a shocking experience if the load or boom touches a live wire. So don't lean on the crane. Stay clear. It's too bad the workman mentioned earlier didn't take this advice. He'd still be around today. Of course, with all the overhead work going on, we always should wear our hard hats. Concrete slopped out of a lifted bucket can crack an unprotected skull. I don't understand why some persons never use the stairs or personnel hoists. They insist on "riding the hook." And they're asking for trouble when they do. It's one of the most dangerous means of transportation around.

USE EXTRA CARE AROUND CRANES

The crane is a fantastic piece of equipment. It saves us an enormous amount of work. But like anything else that's big and powerful, it can be dangerous. That's why I've taken the time to stress that you be extra careful when working around cranes.

Birthday's & Anniversaries

- 4 - Amanda Switzer
- 9 - Dan & Susie Knies
- 10 - Jon Switzer
- 12 - Luke Allstott
- 16 - Kevin & Kathy Allstott
- 19 - Andy Rasche
- 19 - Carla Piper
- 27 - Mike Switzer

Life's up and downs provide windows of opportunity to determine your values and goals. Think of using all obstacles as stepping stones to build the life you want.

~ Marsha Sinetar

Project Updates

French Lick Town Green

We are starting to move forward again. Steel has finally come in and is getting erected. The masons are on site laying bearing walls. Our next step will be to pour the second floor concrete and start framing walls. We are buying a safety guard rail system to install & raise up as each level goes up. Same as the courthouse, fall protection is a major safety concern on this job. Please be aware and address any safety concerns to Jason or Mark.

Orange County Courthouse

The courthouse is moving along well. We have been given some change order work dealing with a swag in the roof & ceiling. They also gave us additional work on the clock restoration and added the alternate to strip the coffered ceilings. All this will move completion back to the end of January.

French Lick Town Market

Hib & Cletus are doing good. I hear a lot of comments from the public. I think everyone is excited to see what kind of new shops are coming to town. It seems that we will be doing some additional work here as well.

Denny's Restaurant

The rough-in is done and the concrete is poured but we will not be able to proceed until the L.V. side is dried in which looks like it will be in December.

Winger Home

The job is dried in and Jeff is working on soffitt & fascia. The brick layers are starting this week and the drywall hangers will start as soon as HPDI complete rough ins.

W. Baden Shelter House-Doors

This job is complete with the exception of one deadbolt lock which was bad.

In Loving Memory

Ray S. Brassine

8/25/1922 - 6/28/2008

Former Lindsey's Construction Employee

Afterglow

*I'd like the memory of me
to be a happy one,
I'd like to leave an afterglow
of smiles when life is done.*

*I'd like to leave an echo
whispering softly down the ways,
Of happy times and laughing
times and bright and sunny days.*

*I'd like the tears of those who
grieve, to dry before the sun
Of happy memories that I leave
When life is done.*

Russellville Project

Spanky called & said they should be ready for another trench drain this week.

Future Work Possibilities

- I have given Smithville Telephone a price to renovate the old McCampbell hardware storage building & am waiting to hear back from them
- I am working on a price for the concrete work on the new casino addition.
I would like to get this job & stay in the loop on the goings on over there

