To Whom It May Concern:

I met Kris Kimmel a couple of years ago during a coordination meeting. Kris immediately impressed me with his in-depth knowledge of the nuances of mechanical systems. During the coordination process, Kris took the lead in layout and functionality. Kris was keenly aware of the owner's desires and priorities, and took great care to incorporate these into the final, coordinated design. Kris would be an asset to any organization fortunate enough to retain his services.

Sincerely,
