

MARS 'RED DRAGON' OF REVELATION 12

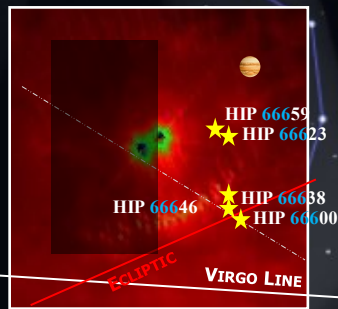

The purpose of this illustration is to bring to one's attention how the astronomical alignment of Mars with the Pleiades will look like on the 1260th day, out from the now infamous Revelation 12 Sign. The Sign occurred astronomically on September 23, 2017. What this this study is strongly suggesting and has since the Sign occurred, its significance and/or effect or message is still in play. The Sign's prophetic shelf-life is not over yet. This is one notion that will be discussed. Another assertion is what was, is or will be the 'Red Dragon' that occurs subsequent with the Sign? It is really the 2nd half of the story as they say. Many had and have come up with exorbitant amounts of theories since 2017 as to what the Red Dragon is or will be, from the constellation Draco, the Draconid meteors, and Mars. But the purpose of this study is to ask, what does the sky look like on this 1260th day of March 6, 2021 since the Sign? Why 1260 days? It is because the Sign came in tact with such a numerical count that his study strongly suggests is the key to the Sign and its expiration day or perhaps its fulfillment and alluding to the year of when the Rapture event is to take place even. That will remain to be seen though. The question is asked nonetheless, would any of these or more factors come into focus based on this 1260-day factor? Yes. Mars.
