

CLARA ELIZABETH NOLAN

1919 - 1994

Clara Elizabeth (Krauss) Nolan, 74, a Sebawaing native, died June 2.

She was born Clara Elizabeth Krauss in Sebawaing on June 7, 1919, the daughter of Martha R. and Edward F. Krauss.

She attended Immanuel Lutheran School, Sebawaing, for seven years and graduated from Sebawaing High School, Class of 1938. Following graduation she moved to Detroit, where she resided with her sister, Helen Wobermin. She became a statistical typist and was employed by CPAs.

On Aug. 27, 1949, she was married to Bob Logan, a Navy veteran who had chosen to make the U.S. Navy his career. Through the years they lived in various ports and cities where his duty assignments took them. While they were stationed at Great Lakes, IL, she began federal employment. They also lived in Japan and Washington, DC, where her husband transferred to the Fleet Reserve. She became an administrative officer at Washington National Airport, being on federal service for 25 years, retiring in July, 1965. She was co-organizer of Unit 136, Ladies Auxiliary of the Fleet Reserve Association and served as its first vice-president. She was an Auxiliary member for 42 years.

Surviving are her husband Bob Nolan and sister Helen Wobermin.
