

QUALIFICATIONS OF A MARYLAND JUDGE

The qualifications of a judge falls into two quite distinct categories: (1) legal and (2) professional and personal.

The Constitution of Maryland specifies those in the first category (Art. I, § 12; Art. IV, § 2). The legal qualifications for appointed judges are:

1. U.S. and Maryland citizenship.
2. Registration to vote in State elections at the time of appointment.
3. Residence in the State for at least five years.
4. Residence, for at least six months next preceding appointment, in the geographic area where the vacancy exists.
5. Age of at least 30 at the time of appointment.
6. Membership in the Maryland Bar.

The Constitution also speaks generally of the second category of qualifications, by providing that those selected for judgeships shall be lawyers "most distinguished for integrity, wisdom and sound legal knowledge."

Sole Contract Attorney - Child Abuse and Neglect Administrative Appeals

(November 2011 - Present)

- d. The reasons for termination of employment and/or practice and any other relevant details.

In February, 1996, I left Koonz, McKenney, Johnson and Regan, as a result of impending closure of the Maryland office. The Maryland office of the Firm dissolved shortly thereafter.

After eighteen (18) years of joint practice, sadly Kelsey and DeBerry, LLC dissolved, in October 2012, after my law partner, Sharon Y. Christmas-DeBerry, Esq. obtained employment as the Trust Attorney for the Prince George's County Circuit Court. She left for financial reasons.

While the Calvert County Department of Social Services and I had a great relationship and while they requested that I enter into another three (3) year contract, the responsibilities of being sole counsel, for the Department, for everything from shelter care to termination of parental rights, required an inordinate amount of time for one attorney. At the time, (June 2011) my girls were 13 and 15 and I felt that while I was saving everyone else's children, I was, to a degree, neglecting my own. Seeing college and an empty nest in the near future, I chose to search for other work that would allow me to better balance my time before my girls might leave for college. I extended my contract for four (4) additional months, while the Department looked for and found a successor attorney. My contract finally ended October 30, 2011.

15. Your practice:

- a. What has been the general character of your practice? If its character has changed over the years, divide your description into periods with dates.

Koonz, McKenny, Johnson and Regan

Tort litigation practice: including worker's compensation and personal injury (auto accidents, slip and falls and medical malpractice)

Law Clerk (1990 - 1993) /Associate Attorney (1993–1996)

Consulted with new clients, researched legal issues, prepared all legal documents necessary to manage case from initial consult through final disposition, including complaint, preliminary and dispositive motions and discovery, engaged in jury selection, direct and cross-examination, opening and closing arguments and any post-trial motions. I appeared in court for all assigned pre-trial and settlement conferences and participated in depositions, arbitrations and mediations. I also prepared all necessary lay persons and/or expert witnesses for hearings & trials. I was sole counsel for all assigned cases at the administrative, trial and/or appellate levels. I appeared in front of Maryland administrative agencies and various Maryland State Courts in Prince George's, Charles and Montgomery Counties.

Law Office of ShaRon Kelsey

General Civil Practice

Sole Practioner (1996-1998)

Character of Practice: With the exception of medical malpractice, I continued in a tort practice as noted under Koonz, McKenney, Johnson and Regan. Over the years I expanded my practice to include bankruptcy, foreclosure prevention, real estate closings, real estate contract preparation and review, uncontested divorce, adoptions, name changes, wills, living wills, powers of attorney, health care directives and other general civil practice. During this time, I practiced before the Maryland Bankruptcy Court, the Maryland Workers' Compensation Commission, the Prince George's & Montgomery County District and Circuit Courts, the Maryland Court of Special Appeals, the United States District Court for the District of Columbia and the District of Columbia Superior Court,

Kelsey & DeBerry, LLP & Law Office of ShaRon Kelsey (1998-2000)

Partner/Sole Practitioner

Character of Practice: Same as above with the addition of the occasional DWI/DUI case. During this time, I practiced before the Maryland Bankruptcy Court, the Maryland Workers' Compensation Commission, the Prince George's & Montgomery County District and Circuit Courts, the United States District Court for the District of Columbia and the District of Columbia Superior Court.

Kelsey & DeBerry, LLP & Law Office of ShaRon Kelsey (2000–2001)

Partner/Sole Practitioner

Character of Practice: Same as above with the addition of estate administration. During this time, I practiced before the Maryland Bankruptcy Court, the Maryland Workers' Compensation Commission, the Prince George's County & Montgomery County District and Circuit Courts, the United States District Court for the District of Columbia and the District of Columbia Superior Court.

Kelsey & DeBerry, LLP (2001-2002) & LLC (2002–2012) &

Law Office of ShaRon Kelsey (2001–2008)

Partner/Sole Practitioner

Character of Practice: Initially, same as above, however, following the change in bankruptcy laws in October 2005, my regular bankruptcy case load reduced from approximately 200 cases per year to five (5). Immediately thereafter, I solicited a property management company and obtained the exclusive right to represent two (2) condominium associations and one (1) homeowner association with respect to collections, liens, foreclosure & other creditor rights.

Thereafter and in December 2006, I bid on and, in January 2007, obtained a contract with the Calvert County Department of Social Services with respect to all phases of Child In Need of Assistance cases, from child removal to placement in foster care, guardianship and/or termination of parental rights. Following a thirty (30) day training period (the contract actually began March 2007). I was responsible for all initial phases of shelter care hearings, including coordination of representation for the parents and/or child, through the office of the public defender's office and legal aid, preparation of the initial shelter care petition and proposed orders, coordination of all shelter care, adjudication and disposition, permanency planning and review hearings, the gathering of all necessary evidence and preparation of self, workers and lay and expert witness. Responsible for the scheduling of all hearings, including the coordination of courtroom clerks and judges and general maintenance of the docket and responsible for the preparation of all phases of termination of parental rights trials. These cases regularly involved complex litigation, with myself as DSS counsel against counsel for the child (when we were not allies), each parent (which often times involved one mother and multiple fathers, with independent counsel) and sometimes represented grandparents and other interpled relatives. This area of law was completely new to me and I self-taught myself the subject matter during the one (1) month period prior to starting the contract by reviewing the relevant statutes, rules and regulations and by sitting in on and shadowing on pending cases in Baltimore and Prince George's Counties.

Beginning in 2005, I also trained and became eligible for appointment as a court trustee, with respect to the sales of marital homes. During this time, I practiced before the Maryland Bankruptcy Court, the Maryland Workers' Compensation Commission, the Maryland Orphan's Court, the Prince George's & Calvert County District and Circuit Courts, the United States District Court for the District of Columbia, the District of Columbia Superior Court and the District of Columbia Probate Court.

Kelsey & DeBerry, LLC & Law Office of ShaRon Kelsey (2008–2011)

Partner/Sole Practitioner

Character of Practice: Initially the same as above with the addition of training for and becoming eligible for court appointment to medical guardianship cases through the D.C. Probate Court. During this time, I followed the medical history and approved medical care and treatment for adult persons with mental health disease and/or defect. By November 2011, however my contract with the Calvert County Department of Social Services ended. Just prior and in September 2011 and based off a recommendation, I was contacted by the Office of the County Executive, Rushern Baker, III with respect to the Prince George's County Department of Social Services child abuse and neglect appeals, including cases of child physical, mental and sexual abuse, child physical, emotional and medical neglect and adult protective services fair hearings. The appeals are scheduled on Mondays and Wednesdays on a rolling 9:30am and 1:00pm docket.

I began this contract October 1, 2011 and I remain responsible for the review and redaction of all DSS case records, dissemination of all discoverable materials to the appellants, preparing all workers, lay and expert witnesses for trial and presentation of evidentiary cases before administrative law judges. I am also responsible for obtaining any additional required evidence, regular review of medical records and other documents and regular training of DSS social workers. During this time, I practiced before the Maryland Bankruptcy Court, the Maryland Workers' Compensation Commission, the Maryland Orphan's Court and the Prince George's & Calvert County District and Circuit Courts, the United States District Court for the District of Columbia, the District of Columbia Superior Court and the District of Columbia Probate Court.

The Kelsey Law Firm (2011 – Present)

Principal and Managing Attorney with an Associate

Character of Practice continued to include: workers' compensation, personal injury, uncontested divorce & adoptions, bankruptcy, DWI/DUI, estate planning and administration, real estate settlements trustee sale appointments representation of now three (3) condominium associations and one (1) homeowner association (collections and creditor rights), guardianships (to include matters of replevin and eviction) and continued representation of the Prince George's County Department of Social Services with respect to all phases of child abuse and neglect and adult protective service administrative appeals and evidentiary hearings and fair hearings. At this time I practice before the Maryland Bankruptcy Court, the Maryland Workers'

- b. Describe your typical clients, and mention the areas, if any, in which you have specialized?

Later, my practice grew to include the Calvert and Prince George's County Department of Social Services and Evergreen Management Company on behalf of Largo Town Center Condominium Association; Windmill Square Condominium Association, Charwood Homeowner's Association and Arbor West Homeowner's Association. Over the past few years, I have also gained the confidence of everyday citizens from states across the country with respect to local collection, expungement and local estate and ancillary estate representation.

16. With respect to the last five years:

- a. Did you appear in court regularly, occasionally, or not at all? If the frequency of your appearances in court has varied during this period, please describe.

2011-2014 – Office of Administrative Appeals - Complete evidentiary hearings were typically scheduled four (4) times per week. Hearings included administrative appeals with respect to child physical, sexual and/or mental abuse or child physical, mental, educational and/or medical neglect. During this time, I also appeared in Maryland & DC State and Federal Courts with respect to bankruptcy, family, estate, guardianship and other matters.

2014-Present - Office of Administrative Appeals - In the last year, the number of child abuse and neglect cases has declined due to the institution of the "Alternative Response" System. However, the remaining cases are more intense, with only the serious bodily injury, death and sex abuse cases now placed on the docket. During this time, I also continued to appear in Maryland State and federal courts with respect to worker's compensation, bankruptcy, family, estate, guardianship and other matters. Of course, I also appeared in the DC Bankruptcy, Superior and Probate Courts. Due to the diversity of my practice, overall, I am in court about the same amount of time.

17. Indicate as to the period preceding the last five years:

a. Whether your appearances in court were more or less frequent than during the past five years.

I had fewer cases, but the management of these cases required regular and repetitive child welfare, review hearings and court appearances. As sole counsel for the Calvert County Prince George’s County Department of Social Services between 2007–2011, I appeared in Juvenile Court, with respect to Child In Need of Assistance cases, every other Monday, initially. This later increased to three (3) Mondays out of every month in addition to the preceding Fridays for pre-hearing settlement conferences.. In addition, I was required to immediately appear for all emergency shelter hearings and scheduled adjudication and disposition evidentiary hearings. Finally, I also appeared for specially set termination of parental rights trials, including all phases of litigation and motions practice. However, I did not have the higher amount of adult guardianship cases as I do now. With respect to other cases, I also appeared in bankruptcy court and Prince George’s County Circuit and District Courts and Orphan’s Court with respect to other civil and estate matters. Of course, I also appeared in the DC Bankruptcy, Superior and Probate Courts.

- c. Any significant changes in the number of cases you tried to verdict or judgment (rather than settled), as sole counsel, chief counsel, or associate counsel.

Yes. All CINA cases, of which there were 196, involved regular and multiple evidentiary hearings, including contested shelter care, adjudication and disposition, review and permanency planning hearings and/or termination of parental rights. Cases and issues were tried bi-weekly on a docket of approximately 20 cases per session, not including cases that were specially set. The majority of these evidentiary proceedings proceeded through to court ruling/judgment.

- d. Any significant increase in the percentage of matters you have referred for Alternative Dispute Resolution ("ADR"), including mediation and arbitration, or that you have settled short of trial or of filing suit.

Yes, prior to 2011, mediation successful occurred quite frequently. With respect to Child in Need of Assistance Cases, mediation was used frequently with respect to sub case issues surrounding child placement, custody, visitation, reunification, adoption, guardianship, termination of parental rights and other child welfare matters.

18. Identify three of the most significant cases you have ever handled that went to trial, identifying the Judge who tried the case, opposing counsel, the place where it was tried, the major points at issue in the litigation, and the result, and describe your participation in the case.

Adrienne Jackson (now Mason) v. Woodward and Lothrop (Workers' Compensation)
Workers' Compensation Commission Case No.: B262-757; Montgomery County Circuit Court, Case No.: 194370V & 113086V; Montgomery County Circuit Court Judge: Hon. William C. Miller. Opposing counsel: Rudolph L. Rose, Esq. & Eugene I. Kane, Esq. of Semmes, Bowen and Semmes. The case was appealed to the Maryland Court of Special Appeals – September Term 1995, Case No. 534 with an unreported opinion in favor of claimant/plaintiff. At the first appellant level, opposing counsel was Eugene I. Kane, Esq., & Gina M. Householder, Esq. The case was thereafter further appealed to the Maryland Court of Appeals, however cert. was denied.

This was a workmens' compensation claim which arose out of an injury sustained while the claimant/plaintiff was working as a cosmetic technician. On February 14, 1992, while the claimant/plaintiff was working for Woodward and Lothrop, she went to the stock room to retrieve a particular red shade of lipstick. Because there was an overabundance of stock over the holiday weekend, the step ladder was piled with boxes and not readily available for use. The claimant/plaintiff thereafter, in a rush, attempted to step onto the bottom shelf and stretch to reach for the lipstick. While reaching, she discovered that the lipstick was more to the left of where she was standing. As a result, she had to reach high, bend her body backward, to a degree, and somewhat twist to reach the product. In so doing, she suffered a sudden stroke of her spine. As a result, the claimant/plaintiff, over the following four (4) days became completely paralyzed from the waist down. After the injury, the claimant/plaintiff filed for workmens' compensation benefits which were immediately contested by the Employer/Insurer, who claimed that accidental injury and causation were at issue. Thereafter, the claimant requested a hearing before the Maryland Workers' Compensation Commission, attended that hearing and was denied benefits. Because the firm believed the case to be a good practice case, I, as a recent graduate, was assigned to handle the appeal to the Circuit Court.

The appeal was noted in the Circuit Court for Montgomery County and a jury trial was prayed. The trial was then scheduled and held on June 29th & 30th, 1994, with the claimant, the Chief of Neurology, from George Washington University as my expert witness and a doctor of internal medicine as the expert witness for the employer. At the conclusion of the trial, the jury returned a verdict in favor of the claimant/plaintiff finding that she had, in fact, sustained an accidental injury and that the resulting disability was causally related to said accidental injury. The case was thereafter remanded back to the Workers' Compensation Commission for further proceedings. Thereafter, the employer appealed the matter to the Maryland Court of Special Appeals based upon the evidentiary issue surrounding the "Frye-Reed" test. The matter was argued and thereafter affirmed by way of an unreported opinion. The employer then appealed the matter to the Maryland Court of Appeals and Cert. was denied. The case took four (4) years to conclude. My client received lifetime workers' compensation benefits in all respects. I was sole counsel. Fun Fact: I argued this case on Wednesday, December 6, 1995. My first daughter was born on that Friday, December 8, 1995!

In Re: Taylor G.: Termination of Parental Rights:

Calvert County Juvenile Court Case Number 04- I-03-011. Judge: Hon. Warren Krug. Opposing Counsel: Initially, Patricia Jackson, Esq. & following her retirement, Seri Wilpone, Esq., both counsel for the Children and Rita McGinley, Esq. & following her retirement, Susan Gilhooly, Esq., both attorneys for the mother. This case involved a child who had severe mental and physical delays and who was neglected by his mother. While the mother cared for and loved her son deeply, she had mental health deficiencies and educational delays that simply would not allow her to care for him. The mother was not able to comprehend that she lacked the capacity and/or ability to properly care for him. While she tried very hard, she was not able to advocate and/or help him personally, medically, educationally or otherwise. In fact, during the reunification period, her attempts to care for the child repeatedly left him at substantial risk of harm. Therefore, her parental rights had to be terminated.

Following a multi-day trial and finding by the court that her rights would be terminated, the case was appealed to the Court of Special Appeals. The case was thereafter remanded, back to the Circuit Court for Calvert County, for further services, by the Department of Social Services. The mother failed at all attempts and a second termination of parental rights proceeding occurred, which was again granted. The case ended with the mother's acceptance of the inevitable outcome and happily, an open adoption arrangement that allowed her to remain in contact with her son. This was a particularly difficult and draining case, having to terminate the rights of such a loving mother...twice. The mental health aspects of the case, for the mother and child, were overwhelming complex. I was sole counsel at the trial level, however, due to the arrangement of the contract, the Attorney General's Office actually briefed and argued the case at the appellate level.

In Re: Sean P., Breanna P. & Jacob P.: Termination of Parental Rights:

Calvert County Juvenile Court Case No. Z-10-019. 020 & 021. Judge: Hon. Warren Krug: Opposing Counsel, Sandra Strissel, Esq. Counsel for the Children. Opposing counsel: Patricia Jackson, Esq., Counsel for the Mother. This case involved three (3) children who were removed from their home due to regular parental drug use, repeated drug affected births, general neglect and periodic abandonment of the children. Reunification efforts were put in place for several years. Unfortunately, the parents were unable to overcome their personal addictions and more specifically, the mother continued to have drug affected children. As a result, a Petition to Terminate Parental Rights was filed. During the discovery phase, I drafted interrogatories, request for production of documents and over 600 requests for admissions. As a result of the answers to the discovery requests, a large number of preliminary admissions were read into the record. In addition, it was requested that the Court take judicial notice of several prior cases, involving the parents. As a result, the need for a variety of other lay and expert witnesses was greatly reduced and the father consented to having his parental rights terminated. Trial thereafter proceeded only against the mother and at the close of all evidence, her parental rights were terminated. All three children were adopted by a stable family. I was sole counsel.

29. Give particulars of any litigation, including divorce, in which you personally are now or previously have been either a plaintiff or defendant. For each, list dates, the names of the moving parties, the number of the case, the court, and the grounds for the litigation.

- Prince George’s County Circuit Court - CAL05-10816: Alexandria Employees Federal Credit Union v. Hartford Insurance, Veronica Boyd (mother) and ShaRon Kelsey (plaintiff as guardian for a minor child). This was an appeal, from a favorable decision I received, on behalf of a minor child, after her mother was first permitted to deposit the child’s $28,000.00 insurance proceeds into an unrestricted account and thereafter, spend all but $56.00 of it, by among other things, regularly telephonically transferring funds out of the child’s account and into her own. I was appointed as successor guardian of the property, for the child and thereafter began the recovery action in the Orphans Court, by filing a petition to condemn the existing bond and other claims against the Credit Union. Hartford and the Credit Union appealed. The matter was ultimately settled with contributions from Hartford, the credit union and the mother..
- Prince George’s County Circuit Court - CAE10-36278 & 79: Capitol Source Bank FBO v. Kelsey; This case was filed on November 15, 2010. I was named as the successor personal representative, on behalf of the decedent/defendant, in a foreclosure right of redemption matter. Ultimately, I was able to rectify the actions of the original personal representative, quickly sell both homes at public auction and redeem them from the tax sale.

- Prince George's County Circuit Court - CAL11-11866: Charles Martin v. ShaRon Kelsey, Esq & Kelsey & DeBerry, LLC (grievance related). I was appointed as a trustee to sell a marital home. As I became closer to selling the property, Mr. Martin filed this case against me on May 13, 2011. The case was based upon a complaint of alleged tort claims surrounding, among other things, Mr. Martin's constitutional right to remain in his home. A motion to dismiss, filed on behalf of ShaRon Kelsey and Kelsey & DeBerry, LLC was granted on November 10, 2011, for his failure to state a claim upon which relief could be granted.
- Prince George's County District Court - 0502-0013944-2013: Kelsey v. Sterling/Kay Jewelers – this case was filed on May 17, 2014: I sued Kay Jewelers, on behalf of myself and my husband, when they refused to refund $4,000.00 for an anniversary tennis bracelet my husband bought for me. After the purchase, 4 diamonds fell out, of two different bracelets, over the first 90 day period. I dismissed the case after they refunded the full purchase price.
- Prince George's County District Court - Yellowbook v. Kelsey (Approximately 2007). This was a contract dispute over an advertising fee. I recall that the matter resolved itself. I thought an actual case had been filed, however, I couldn't find it on case search. This is full disclosure in case someone happens to find it.

30. Have you ever been disciplined or cited for breach of ethics or unprofessional conduct or have you ever been the subject of a complaint to any court, administrative agency, bar association, disciplinary committee, or other professional group, including without limitation, the Commission on Judicial Disabilities, the Attorney Grievance Commission, or the Clients' Protection Fund? If so, details, including final disposition of the matter.

- Martin v. Gamble: Case No: CAD05-10591 – This complaint was filed, by Charles Martin, husband, as a result of my appointment to sell his marital home. Among other things, he alleged that my actions violated his constitutional right to remain in his home. No follow-up or discipline occurred as a result of this complaint.
- Green v. Green: Case No: CAD 05-11068 –This complaint was filed by Krystal Medley-Greene, as a result of my appointment to sell her marital home. Among other things, she alleged that I failed to protect her 200 year old family bible, that was stolen from the house, after she moved out and left it there for more than 2 years. At the time, while I was appointed to sell the house, I did not have actual possession of the home. Following my response to the Grievance Commission, the complaint was closed without action.
- Gillette v. Gillette: Case No.: CAD12-26594 – This complaint was filed, by Rufus Gillette, as a result of my appointment to sell his marital home Among other things, Mr. Hill alleged that I had mismanaged his sale proceeds because I allowed the mortgage company to be paid at closing and did not immediately disburse his share of the profits to him. Of course, the court order called for a suggested distribution and court audit prior to disbursement, which was explained to Mr. Gillette early in the process. Following my response to the Grievance Commission, the complaint was closed without action.
- Hill v. Hill: Case No.: CAD13-01483 - This complaint was not filed by a party to the case, but rather by the Realtor for the husband/seller, Phyllis J. Cipriano and again surrounded a transaction wherein I was appointed, as trustee, to sell a marital home. The complaint was received February 2, 2016. The Realtor was dissatisfied with the steps I took to sell the property. She believed that I should have followed her specific recommendations and procedures as opposed to those identified by the courts. In addition, closing occurred approximately seventeen (17) days after the initial date set in the contract, due to the scheduling of the wife's purchase of her new home. As a result, the Realtor believed that I was "working with the wife to delay the process" and that the delay had cost the husband/buyer two (2) months of mortgage payments or approximately $3,000.00 (after the couple had taken eight (8) years to finally get through the fourth divorce filing). On March 17, 2016, Assistant Bar Counsel C. Shea McSpaden notified the complainant that she found no sufficient basis for the Attorney Grievance Commission to take any further action and closed the file.

- That the above complainant, Ms. Cipriano also filed a like complaint with the Department of Labor and Licensing (DLLR) with respect to my real estate brokers' license. She also filed a claim with the guaranty fund for $3,000.00 in damages. In response, I notified DLLR that, during the transaction, I was not acting in the capacity of a Realtor or engaging in brokerage serves at the time of the transaction. I further notified DLLR that pursuant to Maryland Business and Occupations Article §17-102(1), that the disciplinary code section did not apply to a person while acting under a judgment or order of court. Finally, I notified DLLR that §17-102(6)(ii) specifically does not apply to a person while acting in the capacity of a court-appointed trustee. On March 17, 2016, DLLR agreed with me and concluded that there was no supporting evidence to indicate that I had violated any of the Commission's laws or regulations and closed both the regulatory complaint and the guaranty fund claim.

37. During the preceding five years, have you belonged to a club or organization (other than a religious organization) that discriminates against or excludes persons on the basis of race, sex, religion, national origin or disability? If so, please explain.

No.

38. In conclusion, is there anything additional in your background that the Commission should consider in evaluating your qualifications to be nominated for this vacancy?

List of points for final paragraph:

On the coversheet of this application, directly under QUALIFICATIONS OF A MARYLAND JUDGE, it is noted that “the qualifications of a judge falls into two quite distinct categories: (1) legal and (2) professional and personal. The application goes on to inquire about the applicant’s personal history, education, law practice (including bar memberships and activities and awards), business and civic involvement (including past work experience and charitable and/or civic involvement) and finally conduct. In the time I’ve spent reviewing the applications of others and preparing my own, it is clear to me that the categories are placed in a clear attempt to allow the applicant to provide information that would allow the Commission and the Governor an opportunity to evaluate the applicant’s worthiness to receive a seat on the Prince George’s County District Court Bench. The concerns are education, knowledge, adaptability, flexibility, professionalism, demeanor and a real commitment to the bar and the public. I believe that my application more than adequately addresses these issues.

First, and with respect to the legal aspect of my qualifications, please note that I have been on my own and supporting myself since I was eighteen (18) years old. If nothing else, it should be evident that I am a hard worker; one who brings her best to whatever task is at hand and one who works well with all others to get the job done. Being the flexible person that I am, it was easy for me to find jobs, in a variety of fields, in an effort to financially support myself. My willingness to engage in a variety of work has served to provide me with a wide range of knowledge in a variety of professional fields. I believe that this has proved to serve me well into my legal years.

During my twenty-three (23) years of practice, it has been necessary for me to adjust to changes in my practice and to re-invent myself on more than one occasion. This has afforded me the opportunity to learn and engage in a variety of litigation and legal practice areas, along with adhering to a variety of legal practice rules and procedures. The benefit of having the ability to be a “Renaissance Woman”, is that I am now prepared to enter into the judicial phase of what I’ve been practicing for many years. This includes laws surrounding debt disputes, homeowner complaints, collections, tort actions, replevins, landlord and tenant and neighborly and family disputes and more. While I have not practiced largely in any traffic or criminal areas, I was exposed to this area of law, in my early years, and have already begun refreshing my memory by taking CLE’s, in these areas, in an effort to be positive thinking and proactive towards preparing myself for the bench.

In addition to my education and experience, I also have direct procedural experience with preparing, handling and running a case docket and have had much success interacting with court staff all over the various courthouses located in a variety jurisdictions. As a result, I am proud to say that I have earned the trust and satisfaction of friends, clients, colleagues, judges, courthouse staff, local churches, local and state governmental agencies, bar associations, Governor O’Malley, as I previously served on the judicial nominating commission and the attorney grievance commission. I do not take this level of recognition lightly, but strive every day to not only maintain, but to increase that level of the satisfaction and trust.

In addition to my legal education and experience and as one who had to fend for herself from such a young age, I am more than empathetic to the needs and concerns of the layperson. While I did not have issues that involved the court system, I lived through a period of time, wherein the older community did not want to take seriously, the plight, trials and tribulations of an independent young woman. Little things like entering into contracts, negotiating wage increases and job promotions, signing apartment leases, purchasing a car, disputing an overcharge and dealing with the Department of Motor Vehicles. Very difficult things when everyone sees you as a child. As such, I had to, when necessary, learn how to successfully present my position and argue my case, in an effort to make it through everyday life. I know what it's like to have a dispute, to have to miss a day of work and a day of pay. More importantly, I know what it's like to want and need to be heard and most of all, to be treated fairly.

With respect to my bar, charitable and civic involvement, I believe that my application shows that I have a real and long-standing commitment to the field of law, my colleagues, any younger attorney who seeks or needs help and the public. This level of commitment and service spans back decades. It is a true commitment that results from the help that I received in my past years and it's a commitment that I will stand behind and continue to engage, for years to come, should I be fortunate enough to receive an appointment to the bench.

Finally, as a sole practitioner, while rare, I am keenly aware of the impact of a late seated judge, a judge who may not be paying attention, a judge who may seem to have a pre-disposition, a judge who may seem to be engaging in some level of favoritism and/or a judge who may overstep the bounds of legal respect and professionalism while on the bench. With this knowledge, it is my intent to never be that judge, but to be the judge that arrives on time, to be the judge that respects the time of the litigants and the attorneys, to be the judge that is prepared and ready to listen with a fair ear and to be the judge that shows nothing but respect to all persons, in and out of the courthouse. In other words, like my law practice, like my bar involvement, like my commitment to the community and like my commitment to my family and friends, I want to be the best judge I can be. With that, I humbly request your consideration for the bench.
