

What's a porch pirate? It's a thief who follows the postal, UPS, FedEx and other carriers around as they deliver holiday packages to your doorstep. Take precautions when ordering things to be delivered during this season. Consider having items shipped to your employer, a neighbor who is always home, or telling the delivery company to deliver at a specific time when you will be home.