In His Eyes

Words: Mindy Jostyn and Jacob Brackman

Music: Mindy Jostyn

In His eyes, you're a fire that never goes out
A light on the top of a hill
In His eyes you're a poet, a painter, a prophet
With a mission of love to fulfill
Outside there's a world so enchantingly strange
A maze of illusion and lies
But there's never a story that ever could change
The glory of you in His eyes

In His eyes you're a radiant vision of beauty
A gemstone cut one of a kind
You're fine as a diamond, deep as a ruby
Rare as a jade in His mind
No need to believe all you may have been told
No need to live in disguise
You're brighter than silver, purer than gold
A pearl beyond price in His eyes

You're an innocent child in the sight of His face
No cause for blame or fear or disgrace
He sees only goodness, His vision is true
And nothing can change the perfection of you in His eyes

In His eyes, you're a fire that never goes out
A light on the top of a hill
You're a rose in the forest, a prelude from Bach
A triumph of heavenly skill
Outside there's a world that keeps breaking your heart
And tearing your dreams down to size
But guiding you homeward, piercing the dark
Is the lovelight that shines in His eyes

Now and forever, that light never dies
You're dearly beloved in His eyes

Light One Candle

Words and Music: Linda Wells Sholik

Light one candle, Just one candle, as you journey on the earth.
Light one candle, Let it shine.
Light one candle, Just one candle,
let it burn with love's pure light.

Light one candle, Just one candle,
Spread your wings and bask in the light.
Let God's radiance touch your world.
Light one candle, Just one candle,
Let it spread its healing light.

May your path be smooth and bright,
Enfolded in God's love.
May you sing your songs of joy,
Your spirits lifted.

Light one candle for the journey.
Walk in beauty, walk in love.
Let it sparkle, Let it shine.
Light one candle, Just one candle,
Set your dreams aglow with love.

Light one candle for the journey.
Filled with light from Heavn' above.
