

OSA Website - Guidelines and Tips

A composite overview for our new and current members who may not be familiar with the tools needed to fully utilize all the information contained in the club website.

The OSA website is set up with tabs for access to specific pages. Home, About Us, Contact Us...etc

Home: The Home page contains general information and also a key to our next events and most importantly a portal to the club newsletter, FishTales.

The newsletter is posted around the 23rd of every month, give or take a few days. Members who wish to read the newsletter should check the site around this time. Access to the newsletter is through a link. The hyper-link is at the top center of the home page and labeled by the month published.

November News Letter

Click on the "Link" noted above and a pdf file will open. You can read the newsletter in electronic form, save it to your hard drive or print it.

Print or Down Load functions

When you are done with the newsletter and want to go back to the website, simply hit the back arrow.

Clicking the back arrow routes you to the main page of website. (Keystrokes may vary between windows versions and Apple products, but the concept is the same for all devices)

About Us: Outlines who we are and what we love to do. On this page you will find the electronic version of the clubs handbook.

As you move your pointer over the box, a pointing finger will appear the pointing finger is your key that a link is embedded in the box. Click on the box and the membership handbook will open in pdf form. Again you can read it, save it or print it. All links to information on the website utilize the hypertext pointing finger to alert the user a file is embedded via a link.

Contact Us: If you would like to send a message to a board member, make a general comment or suggestion about improving the club experience, this is where you can either: Compose a electronic email or send a snail mail letter to the our PO Box.

You can also move your pointer over the membership form box and open the membership form. If you would like to submit a renewal or sign up a new member, this is convenient way of doing so. Just follow the directions on the pdf file that opens.

Fish'n News: On this page you find charter information, archived trip reports and current trips reports with a few trip pictures. Each charter has the CM name and phone number listed.

Activities: As club functions are scheduled, each event is added to the activities list. Each activity has a chairman or women who have volunteered to host the event. If you are interested in hosting an event you can contact the Social Director.

Conservation: As stewards of the environment, our collective efforts make a small contribution to the sport we love. You will find information and articles on the conservation page. Articles are available by moving your pointer over the item box and clicking. For example:

Gallery: Access to over 1500 club photos. Photos can be viewed and downloaded for printing.

Note: The Gallery is the only password protected page on the website. To open, click on the Link to photo Gallery.

Once the Gallery opens you will see a number of locked photo vaults. Click on a photo vault

The login box will appear with the name of the vault you clicked on.

The same (common) password opens all the photo vaults.

Gallery is password protected, please enter a password:

Enter password: OSAfishing (just like it is spelled here)

When the photo vault opens you have several viewing options, you can download and print and you can "like the Photo" if you want to pretend you're a millennial.

When you're done viewing a specific vault, go to the top left of the gallery and look for this:

Click on Galleries and it will take you back to all the photo vaults. Choose the next vault you would like to view.

Enjoy the clubs website. If you have suggestions on content or ideas to improve, go the Contact Us page and send in an email.
