shoemaker, on the island's east side. By 1870 he had married, bought 3 ac. of land from John Dean on Chapel St., and built the house which is ERI-1550. The saloon, east of his residence, was operated by Robert Barry who we find in 1880 is married to Sternberger's widow, Caroline. January Coutcher purchased the building c1891. Although not known for a fact, it could be presumed that he continued to operate it as a saloon before building his large saloon on the Steam Boat Dock (ERI-1628) in 1894. It was next used as a dwelling by Harold and Catherine Dwelle before being sold to Katherine Schlumbohm, widow of quarry worker Frederick Schlumbohm, in 1922. Kate worked as a grape tier for Henry Marchky (ERI-1554), augmenting this income with sales of berries and vegetables from her large garden. Oral tradition indicates that it was Mrs. Schlumbohm who added the partitions that converted the saloon to a dwelling.
