

palaces of kings are on lease and may one day become visitors' museums.

God's family, having their sights ever on their future eternal home, keeps ever present the conviction that humanity's permanent world cannot be here. The temporal world is not one's end-all.

- 10. Here is the way to distinguish those who are the legitimate spiritual children of the Father-God and those who call on His Name illegitimately.

First out, like cats in a strange warehouse, they dwell uneasy in our Community and company. Whatever their outward appearance, inwardly those whose lives do not parallel the Christ's can never feel at home here. Their spiritual DNA does not correspond with the Lord who regenerated them.

Then, their external Christian portrait grotesquely masks their true face and character. (Mt. 23:28) Their daily out-of-church pagan activities betoken how they internally disdain the Fatherhood of Yahweh and internally embrace the fatherhood of Satan. The latter is the mentor they value. The generator is the true father. When one's time, talent, and treasure are used to foster worldly values, godly goals take second place. No man can serve two masters and God must be first place or no place. He accepts nothing less.

Living a religion that compromises the basic virtues with the Sevenfold Deadly Vices, makes hypocritical "actor-Christians" move uneasy among those who seriously believe in divine accountability. Uncomfortable with applying Christian Truth directly to personal goals, they rationalize their Christo-pagan lives.
