WADHAM SCHOOL

Young Writers from Wadham Published!

As part of their Dystopian Unit in English, many Year 9 and 10 pupils were given the chance to compete in a national 100-word writing competition with the prize of £100, a set of Malorie Blackman books and a trophy. A huge number of Wadham contestants are now through to the next round, which includes having their entries published in a book, which will be available in the school Library in the near future.

If your child was successful in their entry, they will receive a letter which requires your confirmation that publication of their story can go ahead, by February 21st 2020. After this, publication begins and the final 5 winners are chosen!

Well done everyone!

BOOK CLUB

Book Club are currently reading 'Neverwhere' by Neil Gaiman.

We are very much enjoying the supernatural and somewhat Gothic atmosphere created within this eerie alternative London, inhabited by many strange and wonderful characters. We highly recommend this book.

Come along to the Library on Wednesday Lunchtimes to see what the Book Club are up to, join in with our reading discussions, or, just to get some great pointers for really interesting and enjoyable books to read over half term.

This week was Children's Mental Health week. To mark the occasion the well-being champions organised a cake sale in the Main Hall at lunchtime to raise awareness of mental health and some money for Young Minds charity.

On Monday of this week I had the opportunity to take part in Maiden Beech's annual Holocaust Memorial Day. This is such an important topic. Students were moving around different workshops looking at aspects of the Holocaust. I went through the traditional Jewish Shabbat meal with students and it's importance within Judaism. It was a valuable chance to meet Year 8 students and talk to them about the transition to Wadham, so thank you to Maiden Beech for having me- Mr Tustin

Year 10 Football Update

Year 10 boys footballers travelled to a very cold and windy Lansdown Playing Fields next to Bath Racecourse this week to take on Oldfield School in the last 16 round of the Somerset FA Schools Cup.

Goals from Captain Connor Callow and fellow striker Shawn

Dyer gave Wadham School a 2-0 lead at half time.

Playing against the wind in the second half proved a much trickier affair.

The boys played well to hold onto a 2-1 win and progress to the quarter finals, where we will play Millfield School at home on Friday 28th February.
