ame on Pittsburg State 's recruiting list will spark the most conversation.

bb, a senior at Jenks (Okla.) High School, is coming to Pittsburg State to play football - not baseball. Cobb and teammate Reed, a speedy cornerback, have given verbal commitments to attend PSU and will sign their national letters-of-intent on Tuesday.

ding to Jenks football coach Allan Trimble, Cobb is not related to Ty Cobb, "The Georgia Peach" whose .367 career batting average remains the highest in Major League Baseball history.

6-foot-1, 270-pounder, started at left guard the last two seasons for the Trojans, a perennial Class 6A football power.

king with the (PSU) coaches, I think he'll be a center or a guard, or maybe even a defensive lineman because he's very athletic and fast," said Trimble, who is not related to Commerce (Okla.) head coach Rick Trimble. "I think they like him because he's a different type of player, a mix of different things.

a great kid, a hard worker. I'd almost classify him as an overachiever ... He's a very quiet, unassuming kid. He's just a tremendous football player. He is so hard-nosed ... he's kind of everything you enjoy in a football player."

ing of fast, "Devin Reed is the fastest kid we've ever clocked since I've been here," Trimble said. "He's a great track athlete. A photo timer had him in the high 4.3s (for 40 yards), and I think his time last year at regional was 10.6-something (100 meters).

moving to Jenks from the Tulsa Public School system, Reed started at running back as a junior and cornerback as a senior. Because of injuries to Jenks' backs, he played a few games at tailback this season, and he returned kickoffs.

n has worked hard on his size and his speed," Trimble said. "I just love him. He's a great, great competitor. He takes the game seriously. He most enjoys the battle and the competition. He's a tremendous open-field runner, very natural with the ball. He could have a great NFL career because he's blazing fast and elusive."

rojans finished 13-1 in 2006 and won their eighth state championship in Trimble's 11 years as head coach. Jenks edged Tulsa 27-24 in their annual "Backyard Bowl" before 17,806 fans in Tulsa's Skelly Stadium, and they won their final 10 games after a 14-13 overtime loss to Tulsa Washington.

which beat Muskogee 52-35 in the state semifinals and Enid 28-7 in the title game, was ranked No. 18 in the final USA Today 25 prep football poll.
