The 504/ADA/Title VI Contact Person: Barbara Pendergrass (931) 528-3361

Listed below are the policies which will be followed during the 2017-2018 Head Start Program year for children. Please read carefully.

1. Head Start centers will be operated Full Day-Monday - Friday from August 28, 2017. Children are required to attend five (5) days a week. Head Start's hours are 7:00 a.m. - 3:00 p.m. Center Staff will work individually with families needing extended hours. Head Start does not have Fall/Spring Break.
2. The child must be delivered to the Head Start staff and signed in upon arrival to the Head Start center. A parent/authorized release person must sign out the child prior to departing. The parent/authorized release person signing the child out becomes responsible for the child at the time the book is signed. An authorized release person is one who the parent or legal guardian has listed on the child's application as "authorized release" persons. Changes or additions to authorized release persons may only be made in person. Change may not be made over the phone or through notes.
3. If a child is not picked up by closing time, emergency procedures will be implemented which will include attempts to contact the parent/guardian/caregiver and the emergency contact/release persons at all phone numbers accessible. After all attempts to contact a authorized release person has been unsuccessful the Division Manager will be contacted, along with the local law enforcement and/or Department of Children Service's (DCS).
4. Attendance is very important to the child and to the Head Start Program. The child will be expected to attend every day that the center is open. Parents are encouraged to contact Head Start by 8 am if their child will be absent, if not, your child will be considered Unexpectedly Absent. Individual attendance is monitored closely. Head Start staff helps families in identifying barriers to poor attendance and initiate support services to make every effort to increase and improve individual attendance.
5. Head Start Centers will use the following guidelines for inclement weather:
 - a. If the local school is one or two hours late, Head Start will be open on time. Regular meal times will be followed.
 - b. If the local school is closed due to inclement weather, Head Start will be closed.
 - c. If the local public school system closes early due to inclement weather, the Head Start center will close at the same time as the public school system.* Home Away From Home center will remain open unless extreme conditions occur in which parents will be notified.
6. If a child becomes ill during the day, the parent will be called to pick up the child and to take the child home. A sick child cannot be cared for at the center.
7. Children do NOT have to be potty trained to attend Head Start. Teaching teams will work with the child to achieve this skill and provide commercially made disposable pull-ups or diapers.
8. Please send an extra change of clothes for your child; please write the child's name on the inside. This clothing will be left at the center for emergencies.
9. Children's medication will only be administered while at Head Start as guided by a medical provider. Doctor's orders, parental consent, and possible side effects must be submitted to the Center Supervisor in order to receive approval to administer the medication from the Division Manager. Once staff training is determined and approval has been obtained, medication must be delivered to the center by the parent/guardian/caregiver in the original labeled container.
10. Parents will be promptly notified of the occurrence of communicable disease outbreaks among the children at the Head Start Center.
11. No outside food will be brought into the Head Start Centers. This includes any "treats" for special days. Parents can work with the teaching staff to plan nutrition activities, which will be provided by the Head Start Program. Please do not send money, toys, pillows, blankets, or backpacks to the center with the child.
12. Once a child has been found to be income eligible and is participating in the program, that child remains income eligible for the current year and the following year.
13. Immunizations must be kept up-to-date for the child to remain in the program. Only a child with a documented medical or religious reason will be excused from the required documentation. Immunizations must be documented using the Tennessee Department of Health Immunization Form prior to a child's entry into the Program.
14. Each child must have a health physical within 45 days of entering into the Head Start Program following the EPSD&T standards.
*The Health Physical Form is available at each Head Start Center.
15. Allergies and/or Special diets must be documented by an appropriate professional (physician, clergy, etc.) with an emergency action plan.
16. Volunteers who choose to volunteer in the kitchen must obtain a negative TB test before he/she begins. This evaluation may include a chest x-ray and, if necessary, other specific test. Any individual born in a country other than the United States, Canada, Western Europe, Australia, New Zealand, and Japan must have a TB screening prior to on-going contact with children.
17. Corporal punishment (spanking, slapping, pinching, etc.) is not allowed on any child, including your own, while on Head Start premises or at any Head Start function.
18. The Tennessee Department of Human Services requires that anyone knowing or suspecting child neglect and/or abuse must report it to the proper authorities. Please refer to Child Abuse Facts and Laws.
19. Firearms, weapons, drugs, and alcohol are prohibited on the L.B.J. & C. Head Start operational sites. (A child will not be released to any person suspected of being under the influence of drugs or alcohol.)
20. The Head Start has a Tobacco-Free Environment Policy prohibiting tobacco use at all times in all space utilized by the Head Start Program.
21. Outdoor play is an important part of the Head Start Program. Please refer to the Outdoor Play Procedure.
22. All Head Start services are provided at no cost to children/families enrolled in the Head Start program, and volunteering is not a requirement for your child's enrollment.
23. Staff, children, and volunteers must wash their hands upon arrival at center/classroom.

L.B.J. & C. Head Start
Supervision of Children Procedure

With the belief that the health and safety of the children is our primary concern, and in compliance with federal, state and local laws including Tennessee Department of Human Services (DHS) Licensing Requirements and National Association for the Education of Young Children (NAEYC) Standards, L.B.J. & C. Head Start is implementing the following procedure to ensure adequate supervision of children occurs throughout the day in each Head Start Classroom.

Adequate supervision means the observation, oversight, and guidance of the individual child or groups of children by the staff member taking responsibility for the ongoing activity of each child so that the staff member is close enough to intervene, if necessary, to protect the child from harm. Adequate supervision requires the staff member's physical presence, knowledge of the child's program of activities, individual needs, habits, interests and special problems, if any, and the acceptance of accountability for the child's or group of children's care.

- Children's locations will be accounted for at all times utilizing the child sign-in/sign-out books.
- The adult/child ratio must be maintained at all times (requirement will be posted in each classroom).
- Head Start Staff will supervise children by visual sight at all times possible (staff must be able to see each child with a quick glance, and must be able to physically respond immediately).
- In the event that a child is out of sight for a short interval of time, (those who can use the toilet independently). Sound may be used as a tool of supervision, as long as staff check frequently on the child who is out of sight.
- However, L.B.J.&C. maintains that sight supervision at all times is the appropriate and acceptable form of supervision of Head Start children.
- Staff must pay extra attention to children in more hazardous/high risk situations such as when children are eating, doing certain cooking activities, playing around water, climbing on high equipment, or using carpentry tools or sharp objects.
- To assure that children are safe during mealtime and snack time, staff is required to sit at the table with children anytime there is food of any kind on the table. If an emergency event occurs, requiring one of the staff to leave the table, the other staff member will immediately stand between the tables and constantly scan all children until the other staff person returns and sets down with his/her children.
- Failure to comply with this procedure will result in disciplinary actions and possible termination of employment.

Your Child and Story Telling

Story telling can be fun and worthwhile for both you and your child. In addition to development of creativity, story telling can develop listening skills, encourage language development, teach your child to organize his/her thoughts, and provide positive interaction between you and your child.

Story telling can be based upon real or imagined events which have occurred in your child's experiences in life. Your child will also enjoy hearing you tell stories about your own life as a child. Children enjoy hearing some of the same stories repeatedly, so try to include their favorite stories when you have story telling time.

Parents: Please consider these facts:

1. A child's brain develops most rapidly from birth to age four.
2. 50% of a child's intelligence is acquired by age four; 80% by age eight.
3. By age five your child's personality, self-concept, emotional development and character will be almost complete.

Transition Services

The main goal of the transition unit is to provide a smooth transition process into, through, and out of the L.B.J. & C. Head Start Program for the child, the parents, and teachers. Transition moving from one environment to another, can be very difficult and stressful for young children and their families. Some of the services offered include:

Parent/Child Orientation

Parents learn about the services offered, their rights and responsibilities; and are welcomed to the Program and encouraged to volunteer in many areas. Children meet the staff and become familiar with the center.

Teacher's First Home Visit

The child's teacher visits the parents and child to further explain the services offered, gather information about the child and family, and offer at-home transition activities for the parent and child to do together to prepare for the Head Start experience.

Kindergarten Registration Visits

The child, parents, and Head Start staff visit the public school the child plans to attend for Kindergarten registration and tours of the school. Kindergarten teachers also visit the Head Start center to meet with parents and explain the kindergarten program and answer questions.

Transition Booklet

Each family whose child will be entering kindergarten receives an informative booklet to assist in preparation for the transition into kindergarten in their county's public school system.

Forwarding of Records

Upon parental consent, children's transition information/records, including health summary reports, educational summary reports, mental health professional individual observation, portfolio, IEPs, and Eligibility Reports, will be forwarded to school personnel during Kindergarten registration visits.

Additional individual transition services are available to both the children and families who exhibit the need or request these services.

Head Start Policy Council

The Head Start Policy Council is made of parents and representatives of the community. All parents serving must be elected by Head Start parents at their center meeting in September after the center opens.

The functions of the Policy Council is to meet once a month and make decisions affecting the L.B.J. & C. Head Start Program. A few of the responsibilities are:

(1) Hear and resolve complaints about the Head Start Program, (2) Approve or Disapprove the established goals of the program within OHS guidelines, (3) Establish the criteria for selection of the children within OHS guidelines, (4) Initiate ideas for program improvements, and (5) Approve hiring and termination of Head Start staff.

There are many additional functions of the Policy Council. All persons elected and approved to serve on the Policy Council will receive a thorough training in the Program Governance and Management Policy Council regulations.

Tobacco-Free Environment Policy

The Head Start has a Tobacco-Free Environment Policy prohibiting tobacco use at all times in all space utilized by the Head Start Program. Staff, volunteers, service providers, parents, and guests will be advised of the Tobacco-Free Environment Policy. "Tobacco-Free Signs" are posted at all Head Start facilities.

Under no circumstances will tobacco-use occur in the presence of children. If the Head Start facility is shared with other occupants, steps to reduce children's exposure to smoke from other sources in the building will be implemented, for example, by altering traffic patterns, modifying ventilation, and/or establishing a "Tobacco-Free Zone" around the Head Start site.

L.B.J. & C. staff will conduct early morning observations of all Head Start children during child health checks. As a child enters the Center, they will be observed for physical health and head lice by Head Start staff. If a child is found to have visible live lice during the morning health check, the child will not be allowed to stay in the center. The parent will be informed immediately in a confidential manner of the problem and provided information on effectively treating head lice. Anyone can get head lice. It is not a sign of poor personal hygiene or being dirty. If however, the child only has visible nits, with no live lice during the check the child will be allowed to remain in the center and the parent will be informed immediately of the problem and provided information on effectively treating head lice and nits.

Rev 6/17

L.B.J. & C. Head Start Attendance and Unexpected Absences

Parents and families are essential partners in promoting good attendance because they, ultimately, have the bottom-line responsibility for making sure their children get to school every day. Just as parents should focus on how their children are performing academically, they have a responsibility to set expectations for good attendance and to monitor their children's absences, so that missed days don't add up to academic trouble. At every level, parent and Head Start staff is a key component of effective, comprehensive approaches to reducing chronic absence.

L.B.J. & C. Head Start promotes tracking chronic absence data for each student beginning at the beginning of the year and partnering with families and community agencies to intervene when poor attendance is a problem for a student.

Early chronic absence can leave children unable to read well by the end of 3rd grade, and it can set a pattern of poor attendance and academic failure for your child.

If your child has to be absent, you as the parent are expected to call the Head Start center by 8 a.m., report the cause of absence and let them know when you expect the child to return. If the parent does not contact the Head Start by 8 am, your child will be considered unexpectedly absent. Head Start staff will contact the parent/guardian regarding your child's absence. Contact from the parent is encouraged so that Head Start Staff can be aware of the reason. A two-day absence without any communication will result in the Family Engagement staff making a home visit or other direct contact.

Once a child's attendance falls below 90%, their attendance will be closely monitored. If a child who have a pattern of unexcused absences that causes their attendance to fall below 85%, his/ her parent/guardian will be notified in writing from the Central Office that he/she has been placed on "Attendance Watch". Attendance letters will be sent (in the family's preferred language), along with a copy of the individual attendance, making the family aware that the child has been placed on attendance watch. If a child who has been placed on Attendance Watch continues to have unexcused absences, the child will be placed back on the Center's waiting list and another child will be enrolled into the Center to receive the Program's benefits when the center has an active waiting list. The Parent/Family Engagement Specialist, ERSEA/Transition Specialist, or other administrative staff will contact the family to assure the family is receiving reasonable assistance and to determine if they require additional services the program could provide.

Many children require special services such as speech therapy, physical therapy, special health services, or other related services. These special services are provided to the children with disabilities through collaboration with the Local Education Agencies (LEA) and other agencies.

Emergency Preparedness Plan and Drills

All Head Start Center Safety Drills will be practiced monthly with two occurring within the first thirty days. The Emergency Preparedness Plan and Evacuation Routes are posted in each classroom, center office, parent corner, and other frequently traveled areas. Individual Evacuation Plans will be implemented for children with disabilities and/or children who require more assistance than other children to evacuate the facility. For additional information on your child's Head Start center shelter site, refer page 3 of this handbook for the emergency evacuation place, contact person, and phone number.

Dear Head Start Parent,

Head Start understands the importance of good nutrition and uses a pro-active approach in its implementation. Early childhood is the best time to instill healthy eating habits and to introduce children to new foods. Our nutrition program promotes lifelong wellbeing by assisting families in establishing good eating habits that meet your child's nutritional needs and nurture healthy development. Head Start meals and snacks are nutrient dense and low in fat, sugar, and salt.

New foods are introduced to your child through lesson plans or classroom activities in order to help children recognize and try various new foods and develop cultural awareness. Opportunities for parents/guardians to be involved include providing input for the menus, serving on Advisory committees, participating in parent meetings, and assisting with classroom nutrition activities. Head Start must contract only with food service vendors that are licensed in accordance with State, Tribal and local laws. To ensure the health and safety of each child, no outside food will be brought into the Head Start Center. This includes any "treats" for special days. If your child has special dietary needs, religious food exemptions, or food allergies, please contact your Family Engagement Staff as soon as possible to inquire about the necessary documentation needed.

As parents, please ensure that your child arrives prior to the morning meal, served at 8:00 a.m., to ensure the child is receiving all the services Head Start has to offer. The Department of Human Services, who licenses our Head Start Center's requires a caregiver to sit at the table with the children during high risk activities like eating. If your child arrives after the meal has started, and has not already eaten, we encourage you to stay with your child, if possible, while he/she eats so that the teaching staff can continue with the regular classroom activities. To ensure food safety, alternate menu items may be served if arrival time is later than 8:00 a.m. In the event of inclement weather and school runs late, breakfast will be served at the regular scheduled time, 8:00 a.m., and children who arrive late will be offered breakfast. If inclement weather develops during the day and children are dismissed early, the food service staff will alter the lunch menu accordingly.

I look forward to working with you and your family on your nutritional needs. If you have any questions or concerns, please call me at (931) 528-3361, ext. 225.

Thank you, Valerie Benton, Child Nutrition Specialist

21st Century Exploring Parenting

21st Century Exploring Parenting is training where vital parenting skills are discussed, including parenting issues, their experiences, and feelings. Being a parent is the most rewarding job you will ever have.

Children's Leftover Medication

Children's medication must be picked up on the last day of school. Staff will make attempts to remind the parents prior to the last day that the medication must be picked up. In the event the medication is left at the Head Start, staff will attempt to contact the parent and their emergency contact persons they have listed. If the medication is NOT picked up prior to the Head Start center closing for the summer, it will be stored at the L.B.J. & C. Central Office, 1150 Chocolate Drive, Cookeville, Tennessee for one month. After that month, the medication will be discarded. Contact Pam McPherson, Division Manager, for more information or to pick up medication at 931-528-3361, ext. 229.

Advisory Committees are made of community members, service providers, parents, and staff. The Advisory Committees are Health Services: Parent, Family, and Community Engagement (PFCE); and Education. The intent of these committees is to advise and offer input into the program. The Advisory Committees also review and revise Annual Unit Plans and offer solutions to any concerns. Please plan to attend these important functions.

Parents are invited and encouraged to attend Advisory Committees/Functional Committee Meetings. See Advisory/Functional Committee Meeting Dates throughout the Parent Handbook.

Parent Involvement/Volunteer

Parents, Guardians, and Caregivers are needed in all areas of the Head Start Program. Participation in the program is voluntary and not a condition of a child's enrollment.

Custodial parents are asked to provide information concerning the non-custodial parent. Non-custodial parents are notified and invited to participate in their child's Head Start experiences.

Parents are encouraged to serve as officers of the Parent Committee, to serve as a Policy Council Representative or Alternate, and to share in the decision-making process about the nature and operation of the program. Parents/Guardians are invited to attend meetings and trainings. Suggestions are always welcome for consideration concerning the program. Parents are encouraged to observe in the classroom, volunteer in any area of the program operation, and apply for employment with Head Start when jobs become available.

Parents, Guardians, and Caregivers should help develop activities for the children's locally-designed curriculum and work as partners with the staff in the development and education of their child.

Every third person in the classroom should be a volunteer, so remember, L.B.J. & C. Head Start needs your assistance every day. Parents are welcome to visit the center anytime. Parents should visit the classroom of their choice and participate to the degree as desired. Parents should attend meetings and vote on decisions that are being made, and parents should attend parent workshops and learn more about current topics. L.B.J. & C. Head Start is committed to the development of compassionate partnerships in the parent and staff relationship, while providing the children with optimum growth and development.

L.B.J. & C. Head Start Program has a Fatherhood Initiative. Research has shown the importance of fathers/male role models in children's lives. For these reasons, extra efforts will be made to involve the father/male role model. There will be father/male role model meals, and we will ask father/male role models to read and play with the children at the center. We will also have family meals where the entire family is invited. We want you to know everyday is Parent's Day at Head Start. Please feel free to come and eat or spend the day.

L.B.J. & C. Head Start Family Style Meal Service

Family Style Meal Service will be used for breakfast, lunch and snack. Family Style Meal Service involves several steps, which all Head Start staff, volunteers and Foster Grandparents will comply with. To grow up healthy and strong and to ensure school readiness, children need to eat a balanced diet. L.B.J. & C. Head Start ensures that this nutritional Program contributes to the development and socialization of all enrolled preschool children by providing Family Style Meal Service for all children and staff, including volunteers and Foster Grandparents.

Family Style Meal Service Steps:

1. Staff will clean and disinfect tables then choose helpers to assist with setting the tables. Other Staff will provide transition activities and discuss health and safety issues for mealtime.
2. Helpers, volunteers and staff will then wash hands.
3. Children set the table - plates, bowls, napkins, forks/spoons.
4. Staff will wear food service gloves and place all food in smaller bowls to be placed on the tables. All other foods will be placed on the tables by the helpers. Helpers should place the milk on the tables. All food will be placed on the tables to ensure staff does not have to leave the table during mealtime. An adult will stay seated with children, even if it is just one child, until he/she has finished eating. No child will be left unattended during mealtime. To assure that children are safe during mealtime and snack time, staff is required to sit at the table with children anytime there is food of any kind on the table. If an emergency event occurs requiring one staff member to leave the table, the other staff member will immediately stand between the tables and constantly scan all children until the other staff person returns and sits down with his/her children.
5. Other Staff will finish with transition activities. Children will be called by groups to wash hands and go to the tables. Children are instructed to stand behind their chair until staff is ready to sit at the table with children.
6. Staff will serve themselves and then pass the food to the child. Children will be encouraged to fill their own plates, pass bowls and pour juice with staff supervision allowing that each child's developmental readiness may vary.
7. When the meal is finished, and all children at the table are finished eating, they will be directed to clear the table. Tubs should be set at a level the children can reach where they can rake the scraps into a tub. All children should assist in the cleaning up process.

Mealtime is an integral part of the child's experience in the Head Start Program. It is an excellent learning and socialization time, which include interesting and pleasant table conversation centered on the children's interests, desires, and experiences. This is a good time to discuss nutrition and healthy eating habits. Instruction and examples of table manners and correct ways to serve and receive food will be directed to the children in a positive manner.

Education Services

All children need individualized, developmentally appropriate stimulation at every stage of growth if they are to have a chance of achieving their full educational potential. Children who fall significantly behind in language, and cognitive ability in early childhood are likely to remain behind for the rest of their lives.

The main goal of the education unit of the L.B.J. & C. Head Start Program is to provide a child development program that will help children gain the social competence, developmental skills, and confidence necessary to be prepared to succeed in their present environment and with later responsibilities in school and life. In order to accomplish this goal, our objectives are:

1. To provide children with a learning environment and the varied experiences, which will help them, develop socially, intellectually, physically, and emotionally in a manner appropriate to their age and stage of development towards the overall goal of social competence.
2. To provide a program of on-going assessment that will collect data, track the children's progress and accomplishments and assist in planning and implementing activities to meet their individual needs in the following areas: language development, literacy, mathematics, science, creative arts, social and emotional development, approaches toward learning and physical health and development.
3. To involve parents in the educational activities of the program to enhance their role as the principle influence on the child's education and development.
4. To assist parents to increase their knowledge, understanding, skills, and experience in child growth and development.
5. To partner with parents, assisting them in identifying and reinforcing experiences that occur in the home that can be utilized as educational activities and increase the child's skills in language development, literacy, mathematics, science, creative arts, social and emotional development, approaches toward learning and physical health and development.
6. To assist each child in improving his/her literacy, numeracy, language, cognitive, gross and fine motor skills, social behavior, emotional well being and positive attitudes towards learning.

Outdoor Play Procedure
(Licensure Requirements for Child Care Centers)

An opportunity for outdoor play shall be extended to children of all ages who are in care more than three (3) daylight hours; provided, however, for agencies where outdoor play is prohibitive or dangerous, as determined in the discretion of the Department of Human Services, unoccupied indoor space providing fifty (50) square feet per child is acceptable.

Children shall be allowed to experience a variety of weather conditions:

1. Children shall be provided an opportunity for outdoor play when the temperature range, after adjustment for wind chill and heat index, is between thirty-two (32) degrees and ninety-five (95) degrees Fahrenheit and not raining;
2. Children shall be properly dressed and the length of time outside adjusted according to the conditions and the age of the children.
3. Children are not allowed to play on the playground while outside maintenance, such as lawn mowing or weed maintenance, is taking place.

The same adult:child ratio is applicable for the playground as in the Head Start classrooms. The adult:child ratio must be met at all times while the children are experiencing playtime on the playground.

Each classroom will have a Center and a Classroom Schedule posted in plain view showing times for arrival and departure times from the playground. Head counts of all children will be done prior to leaving the classroom, as they enter and exit the playground, and as they enter the classroom. The head counts must be matched to the daily child sign-in/sign-out logs.

Two-way radios will be used in centers that do not have playgrounds adjacent to the building in the event of an emergency, such as: Emergency Situation, Child Injury, Weather Evacuation, toileting or personal care needs of children or staff exist. Head Start Center support staff will immediately step in to meet the adult:child ratio guidelines. There will never be only one staff member outside with the children at any given time.

The traveling first aid kit will be accessible for each classroom of children as they go out onto the playground. The teaching staff will review the playground rules each day with the children before entering the playground.

The Head Start staff will:

1. Obtain the child sign-in/sign out book and ensure that the child head count matches the number of children that are exiting the classroom to go outside to the playground prior to leaving the classroom.
2. One staff member (teacher) will constantly be moving around in an unpredictable pattern and continuously scan the entire playground.
3. The other staff member(s) (teacher assistant and support staff) will be moving around and engaging only in brief discussions with the children or other adults using brief eye contact.
4. Head Start Staff will regularly turn their body from side to side to ensure a full 360-degree range of vision.
5. Staff members will focus on playground rules, redirect play behavior, and note location of play on the playground.
6. Staff members will remain in the same interaction no longer than 10-15 seconds and move to a new location for continued surveillance.
7. Staff members will anticipate problems and hazards; continually scan equipment for hazards, scan the playground for trash and/or animal droppings and scan the wood/rubber mulch for kicked out areas of surfacing that does not allow for adequate surfacing depths.
8. Staff members will continually monitor the children's behavior and limit number of children on each piece of equipment.
9. Staff members will not engage in conversation with other staff members, parents or visitor while monitoring playground activities.
10. Head Start staff will refer back to the child sign-in/sign out book and ensure that the child head count matches the number of children that are exiting the playground to go inside to the classroom.
11. If a situation arises that warrants either staff member from their specific duties listed above, support staff members will be brought out to cover their duties until they can resume with their responsibilities.

L.B.J. & C. Head Start Corporal Punishment Policy

Corporal punishment

L.B.J. & C. staff are advised, trained and reminded on the use of corporal punishment, or isolation is prohibited in all Head Start facilities by staff, paid substitutes, volunteers/non-paid substitutes, or visitors.

Corporal Punishment is defined as the use of physical force as a disciplinary measure. This includes, but is not limited to spanking, slapping, pulling of hair, isolation, etc. Isolation refers to separating the child from normal association with classroom activities as a punishment measure. Isolation includes, but is not restricted to, confining the child in a small area, retaining the child in the classroom when other children go to play, or restricting the child from lunch with his/her classmates.

The Agency operates a Zero Tolerance of employee's inappropriate behavior toward the children we serve. Upon receipt of a report that an employee failed to follow the Supervision of Children procedure, used corporal punishment or a staff member has used isolation with a child, or inappropriate behavior on the part of the staff or if there are allegations or charges of inappropriate behavior by staff:

1. The Program Director will immediately place the employee on Administrative Leave with pay; until such time as an investigation suggests other action is appropriate or required.
2. The Program Director or designated staff member will, contact the Department of Children Services, State of Tennessee Head Start Collaboration Office and the Region IV Head Start Office.
3. The Program Director and the immediate supervisor will conduct an investigation including interviews, review of documentation, and other necessary action. This investigation will include notification to the employee of the suspicion and/or allegation with opportunity for explanation by the employee of circumstances and other appropriate information.
4. The suspension with pay will be converted to termination, if warranted due to official guilty charges, conviction, or incontrovertible evidence of misbehavior and/or violation of program policies established for the protection, safety, and welfare of children.

Should the Policy Council/NSSC Advisory Council not concur with the Program Director's recommendation, minutes of the proceedings shall be forwarded to the Regional Office for instruction and/or guidance.

The program must provide a parent, free of charge, an initial copy of child records disclosed to third parties with parental consent and, upon parent request, an initial copy of child records disclosed to third parties, unless the disclosure was for a court that ordered neither the subpoena, its contents, nor the information furnished in response be disclosed.

(e) Right to inspect written agreements. A parent has the right to review any written agreements with third parties.

L.B.J. & C. Head Start Child Abuse Facts and Laws

Child Abuse and Neglect Definition

Child abuse and neglect occurs when a child is mistreated, resulting in injury or risk of harm. Abuse can be physical, verbal, emotional or sexual.

Physical Abuse is defined as non-accidental physical trauma or injury inflicted by a parent or caretaker on a child. It also includes a parent's or a caretaker's failure to protect a child from another person who perpetrated physical abuse on a child. In its most severe form, physical abuse is likely to cause great bodily harm or death.

Physical Neglect is defined as the failure to provide for a child's physical survival needs to the extent that there is harm or risk of harm to the child's health or safety. This may include, but is not limited to abandonment, lack of supervision, life endangering physical hygiene, lack of adequate nutrition that places the child below the normal growth curve, lack of shelter, lack of medical or dental that results in health threatening conditions, and the inability to meet basic clothing needs of a child. In its most severe form, physical neglect may result in great bodily harm or death.

Sexual Abuse includes penetration or external touching of a child's intimate parts, oral sex with a child, indecent exposure or any other sexual act performed in a child's presence for sexual gratification, sexual use of a child for prostitution, and the manufacturing of child pornography. Child sexual abuse is also the willful failure of the parent or the child's caretaker to make a reasonable effort to stop child sexual abuse by another person.

Emotional Abuse includes verbal assaults, ignoring and indifference or constant family conflict. If a child is degraded enough, the child will begin to live up to the image communicated by the abusing parent or caretaker.

Child abuse can happen anywhere; in poor, middle-class or well-to-do homes, in rural or urban areas.

Reporting Laws

According to Tennessee law, all persons (including doctors, mental health professionals, child care providers, dentists, family members and friends) must report suspected cases of child abuse or neglect. Failure to report child abuse or neglect is a violation of the law. If you believe a child has been abused or neglected, call:

- Your local Children's Services office
- Your local Juvenile Court
- Local Sheriff's office or Police Department

Tennessee has 24-hour availability for reporting child abuse or neglect. The appropriate form will be filed at the Central Office when child abuse or neglect is reported.

Violations - Penalties

- a) Any person required to report known or suspected child abuse who knowingly and willfully fails to do so, or who knowingly and willfully prevents another person from doing so, is guilty of a misdemeanor.
- b) Any person who knowingly and willfully makes public or discloses any confidential information contained in the abuse registry or in the records of any child abuse case, is guilty of a misdemeanor.

Why Head Start Home Visits and Parent Conferences?

In addition to the two required home visits, teaching staff in all Head Start Centers conduct at least two required staff-parent conferences a year and more if needed to increase the knowledge and understanding of both staff and parents of the educational and developmental progress and activities of children in the program.

Home visits and parent conferences allow the teaching staff and parents to better understand the child's unique strengths and needs and provide an opportunity for parents and staff to discuss childcare and early education issues.

Home visits and parent conferences are scheduled by the teaching staff with the consent of the parent at a time that is convenient to both. They are vital to the success of the child's development.

Home Visits and Parent Conferences

- Give parents an opportunity to become involved in the development of the program's curriculum and approach to child development and education by assisting staff in writing individual child plans for their child, setting goals, and planning activities for home and the classroom to meet identified needs.
- Give parents opportunities to increase their child observation skills and share their knowledge of the child's strengths and needs through various assessments completed by staff and parents/guardians/caregivers.
- Help to ensure a smooth transition from home to a more structured environment for the child, as well as the whole family.
- Give the child and parents an opportunity to become familiar with the teaching staff that they will be in the classroom with prior to the child attending the program.
- Give the child an opportunity to observe the interactions between parents and teaching staff and to build on this visual and verbal display of trust for each other.

Your child's teacher and teacher assistant will be contacting you soon to set up a convenient time and location for your visit. Thank you so much for your cooperation and time.

YOUR CHILD'S SAFETY IS #1 WITH US.

Transfer of Children Policy

This procedure will be followed in transferring children between parents and classroom staff on dropping children off in the mornings and picking children up in the afternoons are:

1. The parent will deliver the child to the Head Start staff upon arrival in the morning.
2. The parent will sign the child in on the sign-in book provided by Head Start and denote their name and the time.
3. The parent will come to the classroom in the afternoon when picking-up their child.
4. The parent will sign the child out on the book that the child was signed-in on upon arrival in the morning denoting their name and the time.
5. The person signing the child out becomes responsible for the child at the time the book is signed.

This procedure is for your benefit as well as the children's.

In order to help ensure the safety of the children, please inform staff in person IMMEDIATELY of any changes in phone numbers, authorized release persons, address, work location, phone numbers, etc.

YOUR RIGHTS UNDER SECTION 504 AND THE AMERICANS WITH DISABILITIES ACT

The Office for Civil Rights (OCR) within the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services (DHHS) is responsible for enforcing the nondiscrimination requirements of Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, and Title II of the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) of 1990, involving health care and human service providers and institutions.

What is Prohibited Under Section 504 and the ADA?

Both Section 504 and the ADA prohibit covered entities from discriminating against persons with disabilities in the provision of benefits or services or the conduct of programs or activities on the basis of their disability. Section 504 applies to programs or activities that receive Federal financial assistance. Title II of the ADA covers all of the services, programs, and activities conducted by public entities (state and local governments, departments, agencies, etc.), including licensing.

Who is Protected Under Section 504 and the ADA?

Section 504 and the ADA protect qualified individuals with disabilities. An individual with a disability is a person who has a physical or mental impairment that substantially limits one or more major life activities; has a record of such an impairment; or is regarded as having such an impairment. Major life activities means functions such as caring for one's self, performing manual tasks, walking, seeing, hearing, speaking, breathing, learning, and working. Under Section 504 and the ADA, a person is a qualified individual with a disability if he or she meets the essential requirements for receipt of services or benefits, or participation in the programs or activities of a covered entity. The question of whether a particular condition is a disability within the meaning of Section 504 and the ADA is determined on a case-by-case basis.

L.B.J.& C. Development Corporation
Confidentiality Policy

All Program files and records (i.e. financial, programmatic, personnel, children/families, and operations) are confidential and the property of L.B.J.& C.

Children and Family Information

In order to provide individual quality services to families, the staff must gather very personal, sensitive information concerning almost every facet of the family's lifestyle and habits. The information collected includes not only current information, but historical information as well.

L.B.J.& C. staff must maintain the confidentiality of all records and information pertaining to the children and/or family. The program will provide locked file cabinets in each center and classroom for child/family records. Only those staff designated will have access to the keys to the files, and all persons examining the records will sign and date the Review of Confidential Information section of each record. Parents/legal guardians have the right to examine any records concerning their child/family.

Maintaining confidentiality pertains not only to written information but also to verbal disclosure of any information concerning children/families. Shared information among staff regarding children/families will be disclosed on an as-needed basis only.

All records concerning children/families will be destroyed in accordance with funding source's regulations.

Staff Information

Confidentiality also includes staff information and staff records. Staff information and records are held confidential as requirements direct.

Staff information is not available as common knowledge and is held confidential, as policies require under the Program Director's authority.

Program procedures – applicable confidentiality provisions

Due to serving children who are referred to, or found eligible for services under, IDEA, the program will comply with the applicable confidentiality provisions in Part B or Part C of IDEA to protect the Personally Identifiable Information (PII) in records of those children, and, therefore, the provisions in this subpart do not apply to those children.

Disclosures With, and Without, Parental Consent

All outside requests for files and records will be forwarded immediately to the Program Director. The Program Director will act upon requests for children/family information only after receipt of written parental consent.

(a) Disclosure with parental consent. Subject to exceptions in paragraphs (b) and (c) of this section, the procedures to protect PII must require the program to obtain a parent's written consent before the program may disclose such PII from child records.

The parent's written consent will specify what records may be disclosed, explain why the records will be disclosed, and identify the party or class of parties to whom the records may be disclosed. The written consent must be signed and dated.

"Signed and dated written consent" under this part may include a record and signature in electronic form that:

- ◆ Identifies and authenticates a particular person as the source of the electronic consent; and,
- ◆ Indicates such person's approval of the information.

The program will explain to the parent that the granting of consent is voluntary on the part of the parent and may be revoked at any time. If a parent revokes consent, that revocation is not retroactive and therefore it does not apply to an action that occurred before the consent was revoked.

(b) Disclosure without parent consent but with parental notice and opportunity to refuse. The program may disclose such PII from child records without parent consent if the program notifies the parent about the disclosure, provides the parent, upon the parent's request, a copy of the PII from child records to be disclosed in advance, and gives the parent an opportunity to challenge and refuse disclosure of the information in the records, before the program forwards the records to officials at the program, school, or school district in which the child seeks or intends to enroll or where the child is already enrolled so long as the disclosure is related to the child's enrollment and transfer.

(c) Disclosure without parental consent. The program may disclose such PII from child records without parental consent to:

1. Officials within the program or acting for the program, such as contractors and subrecipients, if the official provides services for which the program would otherwise use employees, the program determines it is necessary for Head Start services, and the program maintains oversight with respect to the use, further disclosure, and maintenance of child records, such as through a written agreement;

2. Officials within the program, acting for the program, or from a federal or state entity, in connection with an audit or evaluation of education or child development programs, or for enforcement of or compliance with federal legal requirements of the program; provided the program maintains oversight with respect to the use, further disclosure, and maintenance of child records, such as through a written agreement, including the destruction of PII when no longer needed for the purpose of the disclosure, except the disclosure is specifically authorized by federal law or by the responsible HHS official;
 3. Officials within the program, acting for the program, or from a federal or state entity, to conduct a study to improve child and family outcomes, including improving the quality of programs, for, or on behalf of, the program, provided the program maintains oversight with respect to the use, further disclosure, and maintenance of child records, such as through a written agreement, including the destruction of the PII when no longer needed for the purpose of the disclosure;
 4. Appropriate parties in order to address a disaster, health or safety emergency during the period of the emergency, or a serious health and safety risk such as a serious food allergy, if the program determines that disclosing the PII from child records is necessary to protect the health or safety of children or other persons;
 5. Comply with a judicial order or lawfully issued subpoena, provided the program makes a reasonable effort to notify the parent about all such subpoenas and court orders in advance of the compliance therewith, unless:
 - a. A court has ordered that neither the subpoena, its contents, nor the information provided in response is disclosed;
 - b. The disclosure is in compliance with an ex parte court order obtained by the United States Attorney General (or designee not lower than an Assistant Attorney General) concerning investigations or prosecutions of an offense listed in 18 U.S.C. 2332b(g)(5)(B) or an act of domestic or international terrorism as defined in 18 U.S.C. 2331.
 - c. A parent is a party to a court proceeding directly involving child abuse and neglect (as defined in section 3 of the Child Abuse Prevention and Treatment Act (42 U.S.C. 5101) or dependency matters, and the order is issued in the context of that proceeding, additional notice to the parent by the program is not required; or,
 - d. A program initiates legal action against a parent or a parent initiates legal action against a program, then a program may disclose to the court, also without a court order or subpoena, the child records relevant for the program to act as plaintiff or defendant.
 6. The Secretary of Agriculture or an authorized representative from the Food and Nutrition Service to conduct program monitoring, evaluations, and performance measurements for the Child and Adult Care Food Program under the Richard B. Russell National School Lunch Act or the Child Nutrition Act of 1966, if the results will be reported in an aggregate form that does not identify any individual: provided, that any data collected must be protected in a manner that will not permit the personal identification of students and their parents by other than the authorized representatives of the Secretary of Agriculture and any PII must be destroyed when the data are no longer needed for program monitoring, evaluations, and performance measurements;
 7. A caseworker or other representative from a state, local, or tribal child welfare agency, who has the right to access a case plan for a child who is in foster care placement, when such agency is legally responsible for the child's care and protections, under state or tribal law, if the agency agrees in writing to protect PII, to use information from the child's case plan for specific purposes intended of addressing the child's needs, and to destroy information that is no longer needed for those purposes; and,
 8. Appropriate parties in order to address suspected or known child maltreatment and is consistent with applicable federal, state, local, and tribal laws on reporting child abuse and neglect.
- (d) Written agreements. If the program establishes a written agreement with a third party, the program will annually review, and if necessary, update the agreement to protect PII. If the third party violates the agreement, then the program may:
1. Provide the third party an opportunity to self-correct; or,
 2. Prohibit the third party from access to records for a set period of time as established by the Board of Directors and Policy Council.
- (e) Annual notice. The program will notify parents of their rights in writing annually. The notice will include a description of the types of PII that may be disclosed, to whom the PII may be disclosed, and what may constitute a necessary reason for the disclosure without parental consent as described in paragraph (c) of this section.
- (f) Limit on disclosing PII. The program will only disclose the information that is deemed necessary for the purpose of the disclosure.

Outside Requests

To ensure timely disposition of the request, the request should be provided in writing, and include the following information:

- ◆ name of the agency and its representative or the individual, making the request,
- ◆ telephone number of the agency representative or the individual making the request,
- ◆ brief detailed description of why the files or records are being requested, and
- ◆ dated and signed.

After evaluating the request, appropriate action will be taken. The Program Director or his/her designee is the only staff authorized to release files and records outside the agency.

Business affairs and the operation of the Agency should not be discussed with anyone outside the organization except when required in the normal course of business. Access to sensitive information and operating procedures will be handled on a need-to-know basis and given as directed by the Program Director, only.

Any employee dealing with confidential Agency information is responsible for its security. The cost of Agency products and services is considered sensitive information and should be handled as confidential information.

An employee violating this policy will be subject to disciplinary action, including possible termination of employment as outlined in Chapter 12 – Disciplinary Action. Volunteers violating this policy will be dismissed. Consultants and Contractors will be dismissed immediately in the event of violation of this policy.

VACCINE INFORMATION STATEMENT

Influenza (Flu) Vaccine (Inactivated or Recombinant): What you need to know

Many Vaccine Information Statements are available in Spanish and other languages. See www.mmmunize.org/vis
Hojas de información sobre vacunas están disponibles en español y en muchos otros idiomas. Visite www.mmmunize.org/vis

1 Why get vaccinated?

Influenza ("flu") is a contagious disease that spreads around the United States every year, usually between October and May.

Flu is caused by influenza viruses, and is spread mainly by coughing, sneezing, and close contact.

Anyone can get flu. Flu strikes suddenly and can last several days. Symptoms vary by age, but can include:

- fever/chills
- sore throat
- muscle aches
- fatigue
- cough
- headache
- runny or stuffy nose

Flu can also lead to pneumonia and blood infections, and cause diarrhea and seizures in children. If you have a medical condition, such as heart or lung disease, flu can make it worse.

Flu is more dangerous for some people. Infants and young children, people 65 years of age and older, pregnant women, and people with certain health conditions or a weakened immune system are at greatest risk.

Each year thousands of people in the United States die from flu, and many more are hospitalized.

Flu vaccine can:

- keep you from getting flu,
- make flu less severe if you do get it, and
- keep you from spreading flu to your family and other people.

2 Inactivated and recombinant flu vaccines

A dose of flu vaccine is recommended every flu season. Children 6 months through 8 years of age may need two doses during the same flu season. Everyone else needs only one dose each flu season.

Some inactivated flu vaccines contain a very small amount of a mercury-based preservative called thimerosal. Studies have not shown thimerosal in vaccines to be harmful, but flu vaccines that do not contain thimerosal are available.

U.S. Department of Health and Human Services
Centers for Disease
Control and Prevention

There is no live flu virus in flu shots. They cannot cause the flu.

There are many flu viruses, and they are always changing. Each year a new flu vaccine is made to protect against three or four viruses that are likely to cause disease in the upcoming flu season. But even when the vaccine doesn't exactly match these viruses, it may still provide some protection.

Flu vaccine cannot prevent:

- flu that is caused by a virus not covered by the vaccine, or
- illnesses that look like flu but are not.

It takes about 2 weeks for protection to develop after vaccination, and protection lasts through the flu season.

3 Some people should not get this vaccine

Tell the person who is giving you the vaccine:

- If you have any severe, life-threatening allergies. If you ever had a life-threatening allergic reaction after a dose of flu vaccine, or have a severe allergy to any part of this vaccine, you may be advised not to get vaccinated. Most, but not all, types of flu vaccine contain a small amount of egg protein.

- If you ever had Guillain-Barré Syndrome (also called GBS).

Some people with a history of GBS should not get this vaccine. This should be discussed with your doctor.

- If you are not feeling well.

It is usually okay to get flu vaccine when you have a mild illness, but you might be asked to come back when you feel better.

4 Risks of a vaccine reaction

With any medicine, including vaccines, there is a chance of reactions. These are usually mild and go away on their own, but serious reactions are also possible.

Most people who get a flu shot do not have any problems with it.

Minor problems following a flu shot include:

- soreness, redness, or swelling where the shot was given
- hoarseness
- sore, red or itchy eyes
- cough
- fever
- aches
- headache
- itching
- fatigue

If these problems occur, they usually begin soon after the shot and last 1 or 2 days.

More serious problems following a flu shot can include the following:

- There may be a small increased risk of Guillain-Barré Syndrome (GBS) after inactivated flu vaccine. This risk has been estimated at 1 or 2 additional cases per million people vaccinated. This is much lower than the risk of severe complications from flu, which can be prevented by flu vaccine.
- Young children who get the flu shot along with pneumococcal vaccine (PCV13) and/or DTaP vaccine at the same time might be slightly more likely to have a seizure caused by fever. Ask your doctor for more information. Tell your doctor if a child who is getting flu vaccine has ever had a seizure.

Problems that could happen after any injected vaccine:

- People sometimes faint after a medical procedure, including vaccination. Sitting or lying down for about 15 minutes can help prevent fainting, and injuries caused by a fall. Tell your doctor if you feel dizzy, or have vision changes or ringing in the ears.
- Some people get severe pain in the shoulder and have difficulty moving the arm where a shot was given. This happens very rarely.
- Any medication can cause a severe allergic reaction. Such reactions from a vaccine are very rare, estimated at about 1 in a million doses, and would happen within a few minutes to a few hours after the vaccination.

As with any medicine, there is a very remote chance of a vaccine causing a serious injury or death.

The safety of vaccines is always being monitored. For more information, visit: www.cdc.gov/vaccinesafety/

5 What if there is a serious reaction?

What should I look for?

- Look for anything that concerns you, such as signs of a severe allergic reaction, very high fever, or unusual behavior.

Signs of a severe allergic reaction can include hives, swelling of the face and throat, difficulty breathing, a fast heartbeat, dizziness, and weakness. These would start a few minutes to a few hours after the vaccination.

What should I do?

- If you think it is a severe allergic reaction or other emergency that can't wait, call 9-1-1 and get the person to the nearest hospital. Otherwise, call your doctor.
- Reactions should be reported to the Vaccine Adverse Event Reporting System (VAERS). Your doctor should file this report, or you can do it yourself through the VAERS web site at www.vaers.hhs.gov, or by calling 1-800-822-7967.

VAERS does not give medical advice.

6 The National Vaccine Injury Compensation Program

The National Vaccine Injury Compensation Program (VICP) is a federal program that was created to compensate people who may have been injured by certain vaccines.

Persons who believe they may have been injured by a vaccine can learn about the program and about filing a claim by calling 1-800-338-2382 or visiting the VICP website at www.hrsa.gov/vaccinecompensation. There is a time limit to file a claim for compensation.

7 How can I learn more?

- Ask your healthcare provider. He or she can give you the vaccine package insert or suggest other sources of information.
- Call your local or state health department.
- Contact the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC):
 - Call 1-800-232-4636 (1-800-CDC-INFO) or
 - Visit CDC's website at www.cdc.gov/flu

Your Child and Her/His Home Learning Environment

Research findings consistently reveal that the earliest years (pre-school years) of a person's life are the most significant. These are the years that are spent in the home. These formative years, therefore, are so important that you as a parent should be intensively sensitive to your role in the home learning environment. You were, are, and will be the most important persons in the formation of your child's life. Make the most of it. Provide a home environment that will make your child be the best he/she can.

Learning Opportunities For Head Start Families

Literacy Programs available for Families:

Father/Role Model Reading – In this program, a book and homework folder are sent home with the child on a weekly basis. Fathers or Male Role Models in the child’s life are encouraged to read a book to the child and draw a picture together about the story or to make up one together. The picture is then shown to the group to help promote literacy in the classroom as well as bolster the child’s self-esteem and pride in his/her role model.

PACT-Parent and Child Time – In this program, the parent and child participate in a child-initiated activity in the classroom. The child selects the activity, and the parent participates in the activity with the child.

Family Reads – In this program, any family member may come to the center and read stories in their home language to the children in a group or one-on-one. This activity can be recorded on the lesson plan.

Traveling Book Bag – This program provides an opportunity for the parent and child to bond at home utilizing a book bag that is sent home with the child. A book and associated activity are sent home with children on a monthly basis to give parents an opportunity to spend quality one-on-one time with their child, along with promoting family literacy.

Parent’s Choice Workshops:

Areas of interest expressed by parents are ranked according to highest choice and resources are recruited to provide the necessary skills needed to present workshops. These workshops are scheduled in a timely manner to meet parents’ needs.

Head Start Volunteer Opportunities:

Parents, family members, friends, and the community at large can benefit from the many volunteer opportunities available in the Head Start Program. The hours of service and type of service is recorded and kept on file. In the event that a person needs work experience references, we have their volunteer record to validate those experiences. Over half of our present staff have been Head Start parents and served as volunteers prior to their employment.

Adult Basic Education/GED:

Classes are available in each county. Look for the T&TA Board in your center for contact information.

Tennessee Technology Centers (formerly Vocational School):

Information on classes in Vocational Schools will be provided by the Training and Technical Committee member in each Head Start Center.

College Classes:

Family members of enrolled Head Start children wishing to attend college will be supported by the Training and Technical Assistance Program. Contact the T&TA committee member at your local Head Start center for assistance in filing for financial aid or for any other information needed.

The Story of Dolly’s Imagination Library and how you can enroll your child

In 1996, Dolly Parton launched an exciting new effort to benefit the children of her home county in east Tennessee. Dolly wanted to foster a love of reading among her county’s preschool children and their families. She wanted children to be excited about books and to feel the magic that books can create. Moreover, she could insure that every child would have books, regardless of their family’s income.

So she decided to mail a brand new, age-appropriate book each month to every child under 5 in Sevier County. With the arrival of every child’s first book, the classic *The Little Engine That Could*TM, every child could now experience the joy of finding their very own book in their mailbox. These moments continue each month until the child turns 5—and in their very last month in the program they receive “Look Out Kindergarten, Here I Come.”

To find out more about the program and enroll your child, log onto www.dollysimaginationlibrary.com/firsttime.php You can also contact your local library or Head Start Family Engagement staff.

Training and Development Services

The goal of this Unit is to develop, improve, and maintain the quality of professional and paraprofessional staff performance at all levels and within all Units of L.B.J. & C. Head Start program. Head Start encourages and supports the staff and families we serve in utilizing the career development opportunities within our program.

Services include:

1. Implementing a Training & Technical Assistance (T&TA) Committee with a representative at each center to assist staff and Head Start family members;
2. Refunding the GED test fee, if the test is taken while the child is enrolled. A copy of the score sheet and payment receipt must be submitted;
3. Assisting Head Start family members to further their education and job skills by providing information on local Colleges, Universities, and Technology Centers and by assisting them with filling out Financial Aid requests.
4. Working with local Adult Basic Education Offices to provide Adult Basic Education (ABE), General Educational Development (GED) Testing, English as a Second Language (ESL) classes; and

Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act of 1996 ("HIPAA")

Introduction of the HIPAA Privacy Rule

The Standards for Privacy of Individually Identifiable Health Information ("Privacy Rule") establishes, for the first time, a set of national standards for the protection of certain health information. The U.S. Department of Health and Human Services ("HHS") issued the Privacy Rule to implement the requirement of the Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act of 1996 ("HIPAA"). The Privacy Rule standards address the use and disclosure of individuals' health information—called "protected health information" by organizations subject to the Privacy Rule—called "covered entities," as well as standards for individuals' privacy rights to understand and control how their health information is used. Within HHS, the Office for Civil Rights ("OCR") has responsibility for implementing and enforcing the Privacy Rule with respect to voluntary compliance activities and civil money penalties.

A major goal of the Privacy Rule is to assure that individuals' health information is properly protected while allowing the flow of health information needed to provide and promote high quality health care and to protect the public's health and well being. The Rule strikes a balance that permits important uses of information, while protecting the privacy of people who seek care and healing. Given that the health care marketplace is diverse, the Rule is designed to be flexible and comprehensive to cover the variety of uses and disclosures that need to be addressed.

This is an introduction of the Privacy Rule and not a complete or comprehensive guide to compliance. Entities regulated by the Rule are obligated to comply with all of its applicable requirements and should not rely on this introduction as a source of legal information or advice. To view the entire Rule, and for other additional helpful information about how it applies, see the OCR website: <http://www.hhs.gov/ocr/hipaa> In the event of a conflict between this introduction and the Rule, the Rule governs.

What does the HIPAA Privacy Rule do?

Most health plans and health care providers that are covered by the Rule had to comply with the requirements by April 14, 2003.

The HIPAA Privacy Rule for the first time creates national standards to protect individuals' medical records and other personal health information.

- It gives patients more control over their health information.
- It sets boundaries on the use and release of health records.
- It establishes appropriate safeguards that health care providers and others must achieve to protect the privacy of health information.
- It holds violators accountable, with civil and criminal penalties that can be imposed if they violate patients' privacy rights.
- And it strikes a balance when public responsibility supports disclosure of some forms of data – for example, to protect public health.

For patients – it means being able to make informed choices when seeking care and reimbursement for care based on how personal health information may be used.

- It enables patients to find out how their information may be used, and about certain disclosures of their information that have been made.
- It generally limits release of information to the minimum reasonably needed for the purpose of the disclosure.
- It generally gives patients the right to examine and obtain a copy of their own health records and request corrections.
- It empowers individuals to control certain uses and disclosures of their health information.

L.B.J.& C. Head Start Family Emergency Preparedness Disaster Plan

Disasters can happen anytime and anywhere. When disaster strikes you may not have much time to respond.

Would your family be prepared if Disaster happened?

After a disaster, local officials and relief workers will be on the scene, but they cannot reach everyone immediately. You could get help in hours or it may take days. Would your family be prepared to cope with a emergency until help arrived?

Your family will cope best by preparing for disaster before it strikes. One way to prepare is by assembling a Disaster Supply Kit. Once disaster hits, you won't have time to shop or search for supplies. But if you have gathered supplies in advance, your family can endure an evacuation or home confinement.

To prepare your kit:

- Gather the supplies that are listed. You may need them if your family is confined at home.
- Place the supplies you'd most likely need for an evacuation in an easy to carry container. These supplies are listed with an asterisk (*).

A tornado, flood, earthquake, or any other disaster could cut off basic services – gas, water, electricity and telephones – for days.

A Winter Storm could confine your family at home or in your car.

A highway spill of Hazardous material could mean instant evacuation.

Supplies:

The basic items you should stock in your home: water, food, first aid supplies, clothing and bedding, portable radio, batteries, plastic bags, plastic cups, tissue paper and/or paper towels, tools, emergency supplies, and any special items that may be needed. Keep the items you would most likely need in a evacuation in a easy to carry container. Possible containers include:

A large covered trash container;

backpack;

Or a suitcase or duffel bag.

Water

Store water in plastic containers such as: juice bottles, soft drink bottles or clean milk jugs. Avoid using cartons that will decompose or break, such as milk cartons or glass bottles. A normally active person needs to drink at least 2 quarts of water a day. Hot environments or intense physical activity can double that amount. Children, nursing mothers and ill people will need more.

- Store one gallon of water per person per day (two quarts for drinking, two quarts for food preparation/sanitation)*
- Keep at least a three-day supply of water for each person in your household,

Food

Store at least a three day supply of non-perishable food. Select foods that require no refrigeration, preparation or cooking and little or no water. If you must heat food pack a can of sterno. Select foods that are compact and light weight.* Include a selection of the following foods in your Disaster Supplies Kit:

- Ready to eat canned meats, fruits and vegetables
- Canned juices, milk, or soda
- Soup (if powdered store extra water)
- Staples—sugar, salt, and pepper
- High Energy foods—peanut butter, jelly, crackers, granola bars, trail mix
- Vitamins
- Foods for infants, elderly persons or persons on a special diet
- Comfort/Stress foods— cookies, hard candy, sweetened cereal, lollipops, instant coffee, tea bags

First Aid Kit

Assemble a first aid kit for the home and one for each car. A first aid kit* should include:

- Sterile adhesive bandages in assorted sizes.
- 2-inch sterile gauze pads (4-6)
- 4-inch sterile gauze pads (4-6)
- Hypoallergenic adhesive tape
- Triangular bandages (3)
- 2-inch sterile roller bandages (3 rolls)
- 3-inch sterile roller bandages (3 rolls)
- Scissors
- Tweezers
- Needle
- Moisten towelettes
- Instant cold pack

First Aid Kit-continued

- Antiseptic
- Thermometer
- Tongue blade
- Assorted sizes of safety pins
- Cleansing agent/soap
- Non-porous gloves
- Sunscreen, Hand Sanitizing gel, etc.

- Antacids (for upset stomach)
- Syrup of Ipecac (to use to induce vomiting if advised by the Poison Control Center)
- Laxative

Suggestions and Reminders

How IDEA Protects You and Your Child

At a Glance:

- The Individuals with Disabilities Education Act (IDEA) is a federal law that requires schools to serve the educational needs of eligible students with disabilities.
- Schools must evaluate students suspected of having disabilities, including learning disabilities.
- Not every child with learning and attention issues qualifies for special education services under IDEA.

If you think your child needs special education services, you have to follow a legal process to make it happen. This process can be confusing. It can involve several laws. The Individuals with Disabilities Education Act (IDEA) is the most important one to understand.

As the nation's special education law, IDEA provides rights and protections to children with disabilities and to their parents. Learning your rights under IDEA can make it easier for your child to get the help he needs (and is legally entitled to) at school.

The Purpose of IDEA

IDEA has been amended several times since Congress first passed it in 1975. (At that time it was called the Education for All Handicapped Children Act.) The essential purpose of IDEA hasn't changed, though. Its primary goals are:

- To protect the rights of children with disabilities. IDEA ensures students with disabilities have access to a free and appropriate public education (FAPE), just like all other children. Schools are required to provide special education in the least restrictive environment. That means schools must teach students with disabilities in general education classroom whenever possible.
- To give parents a voice in their child's education. Under IDEA, you have a say in the educational decisions the school makes about your child. At every point of the process, the law gives you specific rights and protections. These are called procedural safeguards.

IDEA covers kids from infancy through high school graduation or age 21 (whichever comes first).

Services Under IDEA: Who's Eligible

Not every child with learning and attention issues is eligible for special education services under IDEA. First, a child must be found to have one of the 13 kinds of disabilities that IDEA covers.

The First Step to Access Services Under IDEA: An Evaluation

The school should conduct a thorough evaluation if it suspects a child has a disability. The evaluation not only determines if a student has a disability. It also sheds light on what services and support that student might need. Find out how the evaluation process works.

The Next Step: Getting an IEP

If an evaluation shows that a student is eligible for special education, parents work with a school team to develop an Individualized Education Program (IEP). An IEP is a legal document that spells out a child's educational goals, disabilities and the services and support that the school will provide.

The Role of Parents

You're your child most important advocate. IDEA gives you an equal say in decisions about your child's education. A number of procedural safeguards protect your rights.

Try not to get discouraged if the process seems complex. Little by little, you can learn more about your child's rights. Consider talking to other parents in our community. Their experience can help guide you. You can also talk to one of our experts live.

Key Takeaways

- If your child qualifies for special education services, you'll work with a school team to develop an Individualized Education Program (IEP).
- An IEP is like a formal contract that outlines how the school will support your child.
- The law gives you an equal say in decisions about your child's education.

“Simple justice requires that public funds, to which all taxpayers of all races contribute, not be spent in any fashion which encourages, entrenches, subsidizes, or results in racial discrimination.” (President John F. Kennedy, in his message calling for the enactment of Title VI, 1963).

What is Title VI?

Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 is the Federal law that protects individuals from discrimination on the basis of their race, color, or national origin in programs that receive Federal financial assistance.

What discrimination is prohibited by Title VI?

There are many forms of illegal discrimination based on race, color, or national origin that can limit the opportunity of minorities to gain equal access to services and programs. Among other things, in operating a federally assisted program, a recipient cannot, on the basis of race, color, or national origin, whether directly or through contractual means:

- Deny program services, aids, or benefits;
- Provide a different service, aid, or benefit, or provide them in a manner different than they are provided to others; or
- Segregate or separately treat individuals in any matter related to the receipt of any service, aid, or benefit.

How can I file a discrimination complaint?

Each Federal agency that provides Federal financial assistance is responsible for investigating complaints of discrimination on the basis of race, color, or national origin in the use of its funds. If you believe that you or others protected by Title VI have been discriminated against, you may file a complaint with the Federal agency that provides funds for the program where you generally within 180 days of the date of the alleged discrimination. It should describe:

- Your name, address, and telephone number. Your complaint must be signed. If you are filing on behalf of another person, include your name, address, telephone number, and your relation to that person (e.g., friend, attorney, parent, etc.)
- The name and address of the agency, institution, or department you believe discriminated against you.
- How, why, and when you believe you were discriminated against. Include as much background information as possible about the alleged acts of discrimination. Include names of individuals whom you allege discriminated against you, if you know them.
- The names of any persons, if known, that the investigating agency could contact for additional information to support or clarify your allegations.

What will the Federal agency do with my complaint?

Once a complaint is filed, it will be reviewed by the agency to determine whether it has jurisdiction to investigate the issues you have raised. Each agency's procedures are different, but an agency generally will investigate your allegations and attempt to resolve violations it has found. If negotiations to correct a violation are unsuccessful, enforcement proceedings may be instituted.

What is the Department of Justice's role?

The Department of Justice, under Executive Order 12250, coordinates the enforcement of Title VI and related statutes by all agencies that administer federally assisted programs. If you cannot determine what federal agency may have Title VI jurisdiction, or if you do not know where to send your complaint, you may send it to the Department of Justice. As the government-wide Title VI “clearinghouse”, the Department of Justice will refer your complaint to the appropriate agency. The address is:

Washington, D.C. 20035-6560
(202) 307-2222 (voice) (202) 307-2678 (TDD)

What if the recipient retaliates against me for asserting my rights or filing a complaint?

You should be aware that a recipient is prohibited from retaliating against you or any person because he or she opposed an unlawful policy or practice, or made charges, testifies, or participated in any complaint action under Title VI. If you believe that you have been retaliated against, you should immediately contact the Federal agency with authority to investigate your complaint.

WIC

What is WIC?

Congress funded the Special Supplemental Food Program for Women, Infants, and Children (WIC) in 1974 to help low-income pregnant and breastfeeding women, infants and children have the nutritious food they need for a good start toward a lifetime of health. WIC has become one of the most successful and cost-effective federally funded programs directed toward improving the health of its participants.

What does WIC provide?

The WIC program provides milk, cheese, eggs, juice, peanut butter, iron-fortified cereals, and infant formula to participants. Each WIC participant also receives nutrition education and counseling to learn how to use the food as part of a good daily diet and to improve their long-term health.

With national funding of $4 billion, WIC serves 7 million participants nationwide through 85 state agencies. In Tennessee, the WIC program serves 150,000 people through a $84 million grant administered by the Department of Health. An additional $30 million comes from an infant formula rebate contract with Ross Products Division.

Who is eligible?

Pregnant, postpartum and breastfeeding women, infants, and children up to five years of age who meet income guidelines and have documented medical or nutritional needs are eligible. Individuals who receive food stamps, AFDC, or who are on TennCare at no cost are income eligible for WIC. Many individuals not receiving benefits from these programs may also qualify. The potentially eligible Tennessee population is approximately 200,000 people.

How does WIC make a difference in people's lives?

- Helps provide early entry into the health care system
- Supplies basic nourishing foods
- Educates how to choose healthy diets
- Gives breastfeeding mothers help and support
- Is associated with healthy newborn babies
- Links with other help in the community
- Encourages childhood immunizations
- Serves homeless participants with special food packages

How can I get additional information about WIC?

Call your local health department or 1-800-DIAL-WIC (342-5942). Applicants are given an appointment to come in for a health screening, or to bring current medical referral information from a local physician, outpatient clinic, or hospital.

Building for the Future

This day care facility participates in the Child and Adult Care Food Program (CACFP), a Federal program that provides healthy meals and snacks to children receiving day care.

Each day more than 2.6 million children participate in CACFP at day care homes and centers across the country. Providers are reimbursed for serving nutritious meals which meet USDA requirements. The program plays a vital role in improving the quality of day care and making it more affordable for low-income families.

CACFP homes and centers follow meal requirements established by USDA.
