"I am thy servant; give me understanding, that I may know thy testimonies"
(Psalm 119:125)

Sometimes in life you face things where you lack understanding of regarding circumstances. You might find yourself baffled or perplexed by what you are seeing happening around your life. God is your source for understanding things happening in your life. God knows there are some important things you've been desiring to know.

It is His unstoppable love for you to show you things about who He is. He wants you to learn His ways and come to know Him. Your life is your journey from start to finish and each issue you face in life is a lesson for you to complete in the school of God. You could say you are attending the "University of Heaven" and graduation day is when you draw your last breath.

God wants to show Himself to you in very personal ways. He wants to reveal certain truths to your heart. He is wanting to bring clarity regarding matters that concern your heart and He wants to insert peace into your mind.

What good is God's Wisdom (His Word), without your being able to understand it and apply it to your life? "The entrance of thy words giveth light; it giveth understanding unto the simple" Psalms 119:130.

Scripture says you can know God (Romans 1). This is an innate, spontaneous, natural knowledge of God. Understanding the way God's works is an important part of understanding Him. His University teaches you how to gain the understanding so you can walk in His Wisdom. As you do this, His aspects become part of your life forever. God wants to communicate with His truth to you and as you continue praying, He promises you that in His timing you suddenly see the "lights" would go on revealing a truth to you.

I really sense that your answer is super close. I honestly believe that very soon a "light" is going to come on in an area you've been seeking Him about. You will find yourself in a moment when suddenly you understand and something hindering you will be lifted off. Suddenly, things will be much clearer and you will find yourself in a new place in Him.

"And we know that the Son of God is come, and hath given us an understanding, that we may know him that is true, and we are in him that is true, even in his Son Jesus Christ. This is the true God, and eternal life" (1 John 5:20).
