Owner Adam Olschewski started as a laborer at the age of 11, cleaning roofing debris from the ground. In his teens, he began helping tear-off roofs and eventually learned how to install various roof systems. He then began working for a custom building company, learning the craft of replacing windows and doors and installing new siding. Adam founded Marshall Exteriors in 2000, with no financial help at the age of 26. The company grew from a single car garage into a 10,000 square foot facility with over 40 expert technicians on staff. Adam continues to help in the field when needed.

Marshall Exteriors has won many awards including:

Winner of the Better Business Bureau's Complaint Free Award in 2009.

Recipient of the prestigious GAF-Elk Master Elite™ Training Excellence Award.

Named among the Top 100 Roofing Contractors by Roofing Contractor Magazine.

Marshall Exteriors built their headquarters in 2008 on 3 acres of land, utilizing the Village's Land for Jobs Program which helps provide jobs to their local community. They dedicate their time to numerous causes, including Habitat for Humanity, Red Cross and the Newark Rotary Club, where we have installed roofs on new homes for families in need. We also sponsor local youth sports organizations and youth programs like Newark High School athletic teams, Newark Little League and Camp OnSeYaWa.
