

Partners for Profit with SeneGence

In today's busy world we often meet women who are on the run from morning to evening with work, kids, and social responsibilities. These women have many contacts. Our busy customers who know how to apply and love our products are the perfect prospects for "Partner for Profits". Think of them as an 'on-the-go-demo hostess' with a streamlined demo agenda. Give her a Hostess Pak. Include many more customer receipts, additional Beauty Books, and several tester shades of LipSense along with glossy gloss sample sizes and lip applicators. 'Partner for Profits' with her. Coach her through getting excited about taking outside sales orders and let her earn products as outlined in the Hostess Appreciation Program or whatever you design that best suits you both. She will be happy to share LipSense and the other wonderful products in our line with her friends, peers, and coworkers...even if she can't book and host a home or office demo, or become a distributor herself. (many reasons why someone doesn't want to become a distributor) .

You'll gain countless new customers and bookings as a result. Most of all, you'll have a happy customer who sees how easy it is to share LipSense with others.

Customer, Hostess or Distributor? Let her make the choice!

They may also qualify to receive a SeneGift, as you can count what she does as a demo, and will thus allow you to order her the SeneGift of the month in the back office under the Order tab.

Also, make sure to share with your Partner the Kiss Off Contest, as she can utilize that as an extra incentive as she is sharing and showing LipSense to others.