

“God is not human, that he should lie, not a human being, that he should change his mind.
Does he speak and then not act? Does he promise and not fulfill?”
(Numbers 23:19)

When you Know!

You are only who He says that you are and that's what He sees when He looks at you. He doesn't see your failures as failures. He doesn't see what others think or say about you. He doesn't see your past or what you think that past has done to you.

As I was preparing for today, I was reminded about who we are in Him and how often we forget it. All we require for life, He has given us. His promises are true. When He says, “He who began a good work in you will complete it.” He means it.

“He is able to do immeasurably more than all I ask or imagine, according to His power that is at work within you.” (Ephesians 3:20)

He definitely doesn't see your lack of certain human abilities. He sees your thoughts and emotions, but even those don't define you (even when you have allowed them to dictate who you think you are). What He does see is YOU! The Lord sees you in your full potential wrought by His loving and merciful hand.

There are things you have believed or things that try to keep you imprisoned simply because you believe them. He wants you to be free the way He created you to be. He wants you to surrender those thoughts/strongholds that have been built within your mind regarding who you are. He wants to replace those with His truth and to saturate your wounded soul.

He wants you believe He is who He says He is, believe who He says you are, and then live like you believe those things. He wants you to be healed and He wants you to move forward in confidence that what He sees when He looks at you is good.

There is a freedom that comes in Jesus. He can change how you see your life as you open your heart and let His presence flood those areas that imprison or limit you from rising above who you think you are.
