a) Animal Skins      b) Clay      c) Plant Fibers (like wood)
- 2) What would be important to include in food/beverage items to be used for Largesse?
- 3) What was NOT one of the four MAIN types of printmaking?
a) Woodcut      b) Etching      c) Engraving
d) Crystalline Transfer      e) Lithography
- 4) True or False: Printing methods didn't really start until the 1300s.
- 5) True or False: Paper as we know it comes from the "Papyrus" mastered by the Egyptians in 3000 BC.
- 6) What is the dollar bill made of?
- 7) Was the Declaration of Independence written on parchment or paper?

Trivia Answers & Jests

Answers:

A) Animal Skins

- Contact information because people like to know where largesse items came from - and Ingredients in the food/beverages so people can check for allergies.

d) Crystalline Transfer

False, there were printing methods discovered before the 1300s including as early as 200 AD where the woodblock printing was used in China.

False, while the word “paper” comes from papyrus, paper as we know it comes from the chinese pulp process.

Dollar bill is made of 75% cotton and 25% Linen

The rough draft was written on paper but the final Declaration of Independence was handwritten on parchment - most likely sheepskin with iron gall ink.

Joke Time!

- 1) What did the paper say to the pencil?

You have a good point

- 2) Why didn't the toilet paper cross the road?

Because it got stuck in a crack
