

Spring

Spring has finally sprung
It sprung a little late
Seemed it never would get here

Snowed a little early
Thawed a little late
That only reinforced my fears

And, I know how you feel,
I know how you feel, my dear

I have been waiting just to hold you in my arms
Feel your warmth all around me like the sun
Now the time has come, I don't mind rainy days
Just a good excuse to lay
In the warmth of your rays all the day

Every day I watched the sun rise higher in the sky
Slowly moving ever nearer

Some days,
That lazy sun-of-a-gun
Didn't bother to shine
And, I got afraid it might skip this year

And, I know how you feel,
I know how you feel, my dear