Introduction

Nationwide Patents is a dba for Law Offices of Cara Morris, PL. NATIONWIDE PATENTS (“NWP”) has the domain name of NATIONWIDEPATENTS.US (“Website”). Visitors to the NWP Website are referred to in this Privacy Policy (“Policy”) and visitors as “Visitor” or “You” or similar words. Through the Website, NWP may collect certain of Your personally identifiable information. “Personally identifiable information” means information that can be used to uniquely identify, contact, or locate a single person or can be used with other sources to uniquely identify a single individual. This Policy describes how NWP uses personally identifiable information and for what purposes. The use of this Website is Your acceptance of NWP’s Policy. This Policy applies only to individuals.

Responding to Inquiries or Other Communications

Based upon the personally identifiable information You provide to NWP, we may send You an email in response to your inquiries. We will communicate with You by email, U.S. Postal Service mail or telephone, in accordance with your request. We do not share personally identifiable information with third parties except as is necessary to respond to your request for information about NWP’s services; however, NWP reserves the right to disclose personally identifiable information as required by law and when NWP believes that disclosure is necessary to protect its rights and/or to comply with a judicial proceeding, court order, or legal process served on NWP. From time to time, NWP may send service-related announcements when necessary. We may also send newsletters or other communications on topics about which You have expressed an interest. At any time, you may opt-out of receiving such communications by emailing us at patents@nationwidepatents.us and list the subject of your e-mail as “Opt-Out.”

Information Gathered by NWP

We may gather certain information automatically and store it in log files. This information includes internet protocol (IP) addresses, browser type, internet service provider (ISP), referring/exit pages, operating system, date/time stamp, and clickstream data. NWP may place QR (“Quick Response” Code, sometimes called 2-D barcode) on some of the material on NWP’s Website to provide access to particular pages by scanning the Code using a smartphone. We may track such usage using software of a third party. NWP may use this information, which does not identify individual users, to analyze trends, to administer the site, to track users’ movements around the site and to gather demographic information about our user base as a whole. We may use third-party tracking vendors that use cookies and log files to track non-personally identifiable information about visitors to NWP’s site in the aggregate and usage of our Website. A cookie is a small text file that is stored on a user’s computer for record-keeping purposes. You have the option to reject the use of cookies, however, it may affect your ability to use or navigate NWP’s Website. NWP does not link the information we store in cookies to any personally identifiable information.

Third Party Sites

NWP uses outside companies to manage its Website, including using log files, tracking visitors and delivering to NWP information about Website Visitors. From time to time, NWP’s Website may contain links to third parties. Such sites are not owned by us and we have no control over the third party sites to which we may provide a link, or who in turn, may link to NWP's Website. Any privacy issues related to Your use of such third party sites are managed and controlled by such other sites, and not by NWP.

Security

NWP follows generally accepted industry standards to protect the personal information submitted to NWP, both during transmission and once we receive it. No method of transmission over the Internet, or method of electronic storage, is 100% secure, however. Therefore, while NWP strives to use commercially acceptable means and domain hosts prominent in the industry to protect Your personal information, absolute security cannot be guaranteed.

Changes in this Privacy Statement

We reserve the right to modify this Policy at any time, and from time-to-time. If we decide to materially change NWP's Policy, changes will appear on NWP's Website. You will not be independently notified of changes as or when they may occur. If You have questions regarding this Policy, please call, email or write to us. Contact information may be found at the CONTACT page of NWP's Website.
