

Motivation is Half the Battle

November 14th, 2024

Greetings dear family, we read in Romans 12:12, “Be joyful in hope, patient in affliction, faithful in prayer.” Amen.

Mother Clare began, “My sweet Lord I truly want to get back on my feet, with walking, singing and playing. Please help me set the time aside and be regular. I feel life and desire to rise up, I just need the energy and protection to carry on. Oh please Lord, so many times I’ve been side tracked and ruined please help me stay on track. I know I am stubborn, but Your love can overcome all of that. Help me please.”

“Motivation is half the battle. Motivation is key. Hold onto this grace and do not allow the enemy to rob you of it. I am helping you.”

“Thank You Lord, I can definitely feel it.”

“We are doing this together My Bride.”

Christopher saw a dome of protection and Leo saw a dam that had been holding back the waters and when He removed it, the water came gushing forth. Wow! I need that and I want it as well. Now I must hold onto it. “Lord, I can do nothing without You, please be merciful and help me.”

“My child, I am always watching over you to inspire you with the right choices for your timing. It is true, we are on the verge of WW3 and everything has been put in place. The players are waiting anxiously for the right moment, and it is coming.”

“Why do I get the feeling that contradicts all the signs in the news.”

“That’s easy. You are not supposed to rely on the news which is heavily slanted to make you believe...yes it is ‘make-believe’ their narrative. You can’t go wrong trusting your instincts with Me, because I am holding things together until I am ready. You can be assured that Russia will recompense them for those attacks but Putin is trying to forestall the war, as you can clearly see. Yes their power plant is very vulnerable, but nobody wants a meltdown because that land would be useless for decades.

“What is most important to Me at this time are the souls in Penasco, many of which are slated for hell. I am looking to you to turn this around and to this end many, many graces are being dispensed. Clare, this is the work I want all of your team riveted to right now, bringing in the harvest. The young energy in the group is graced with many resources and access to My Spirit for inspiration. It would be very good for you to incline your ear towards them and support their initiatives.”

“Lord, I keep thinking about that theater in Penasco and doing a play.”

“What a novel idea, that has potential. The hospitality house is very important as you will be able to demonstrate My Love from this place, that should be your first priority.”

“Please lead us to it.”

“Have I ever failed you?”

“No Lord, but I don’t have a clue.”

“Just go and look, and I will do the rest. You must work while you have the light. When darkness settles in, work will be very difficult.” And that was the end of His message.

We love you dear Heart Dwellers and are praying for you! Thank you for your prayers and support, we truly feel them and are very, very grateful for you.
