

CALLING ALL CREATIVES

Join Now

Orangenius is an online platform and collaborative community for creatives of all stripes—to show and share work, to give and get credit, and to cultivate a thriving career doing what you love most. If art is what gets you up in the morning, think of us as representation, inspiration, or just a needed kick in the pants—whatever helps you thrive.

ORANGE

is the Color of Creativity

Joy. Energy. Confidence. Freedom. Success. All the feelings that inspire art live within the color orange. It stimulates the genius [or] creativity in us all.

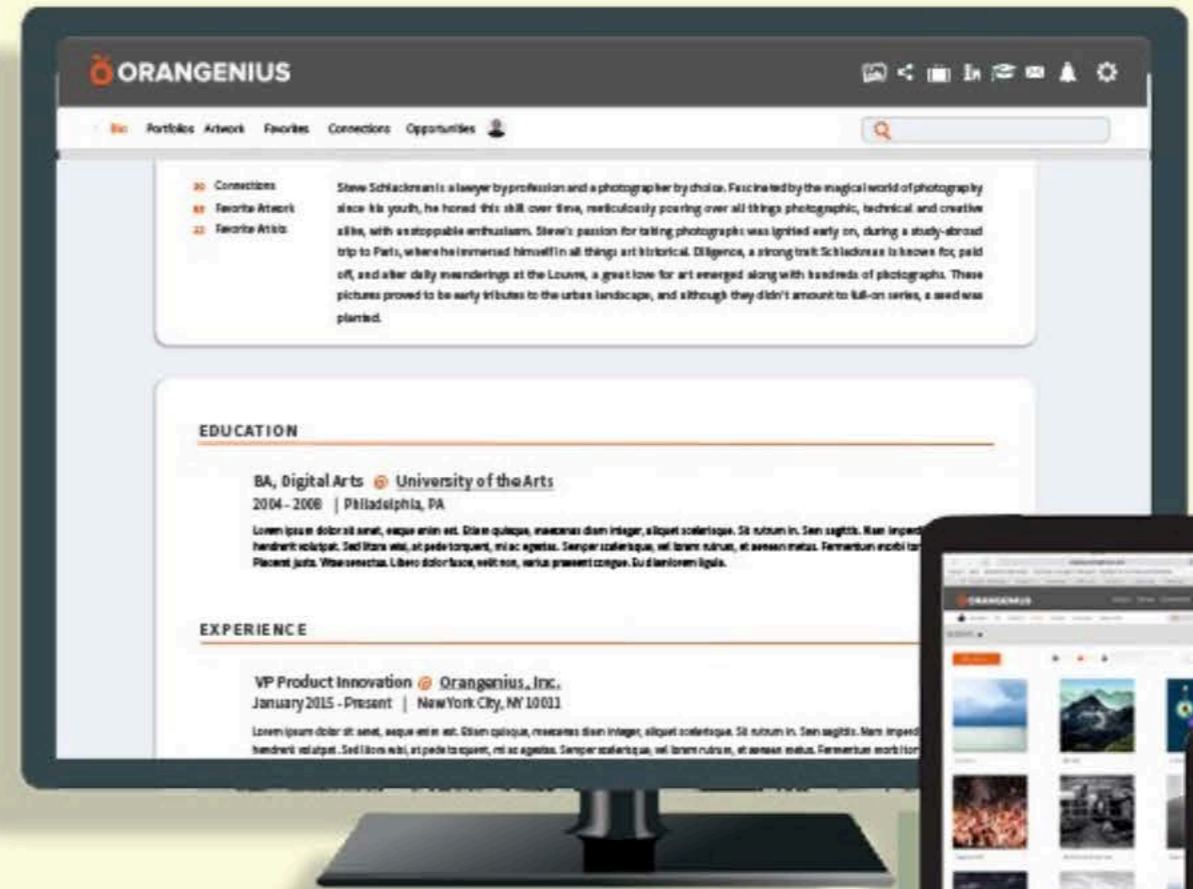

It's all about creating. For you, and for us. Because we're artists too, we want our day jobs to reflect what we love, what we believe, and the impacts we can have. Like giving creatives a stage, and a voice. Like making the term "starving artist" obsolete. Like making change for the beautiful. We make art on the canvas and the computer, in clay and in the sky, but we think our greatest creation will be a place where art is not just rarified culture, but discovery for all. Where creatives are acknowledged for every contribution, and welcomed into a community. Where artists have the power to choose their path and still make a living. At Orangenius, we're intent on changing the conversation about art.

YOUR GENIUS NEEDS AN AUDIENCE

Show Off Your Work

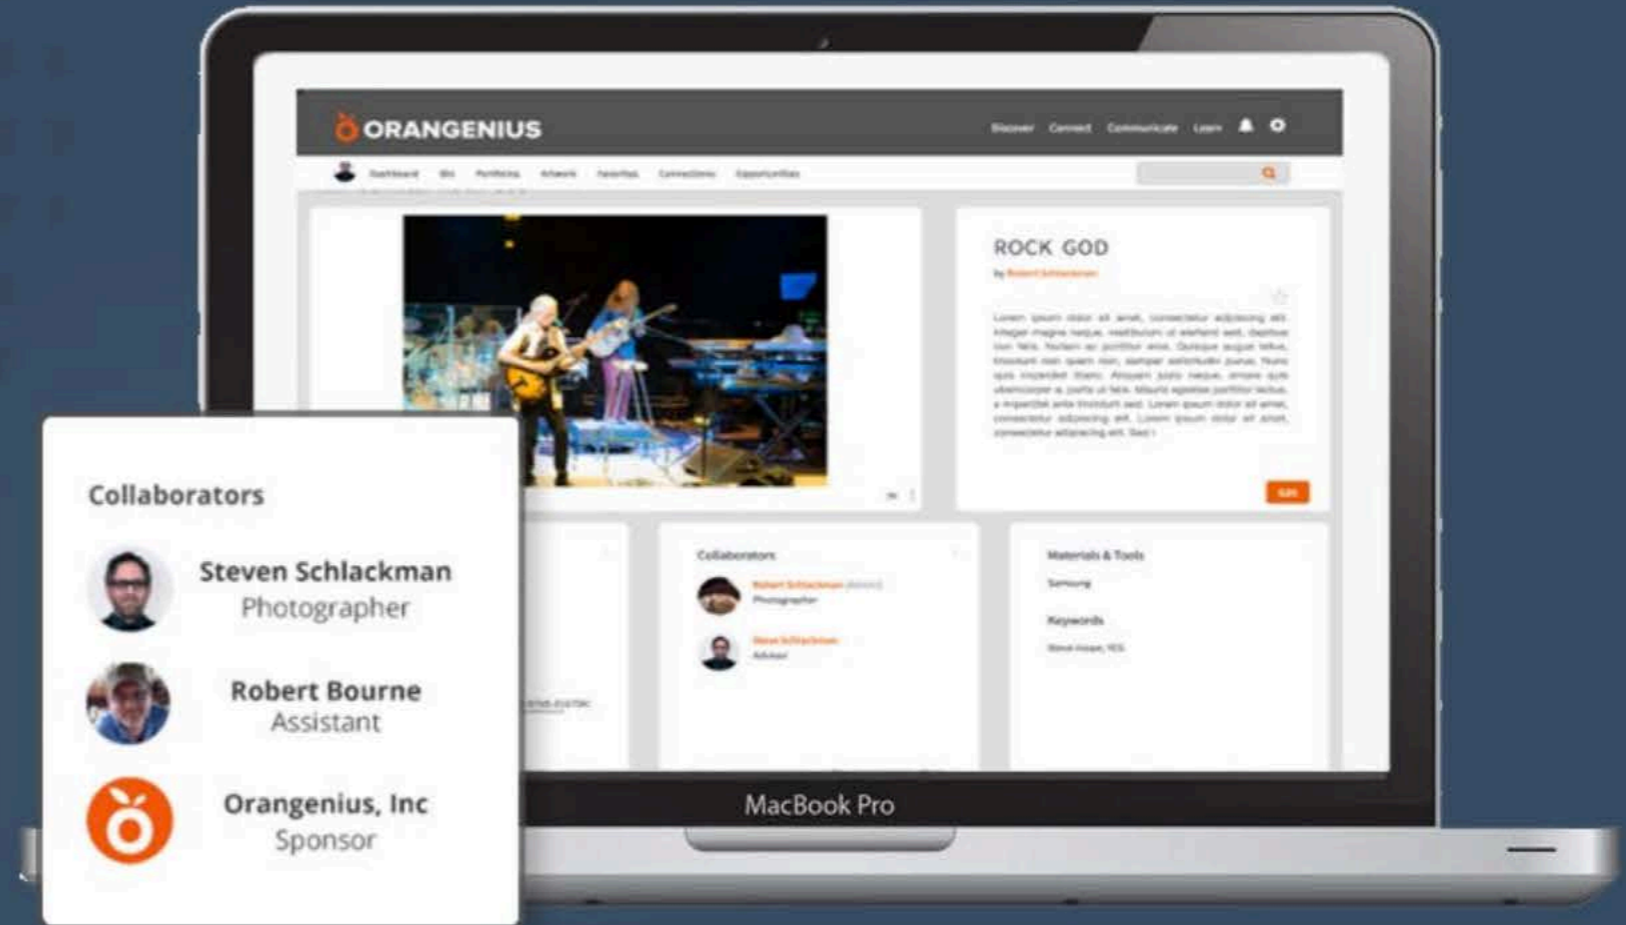

It's not about ego; art needs to be seen. And seen in its best light. So our portfolio tools show your work's brilliance (while we put on shades and take care of the tech).

NO ARTIST IS AN ISLAND

Give Credit, Get Credit

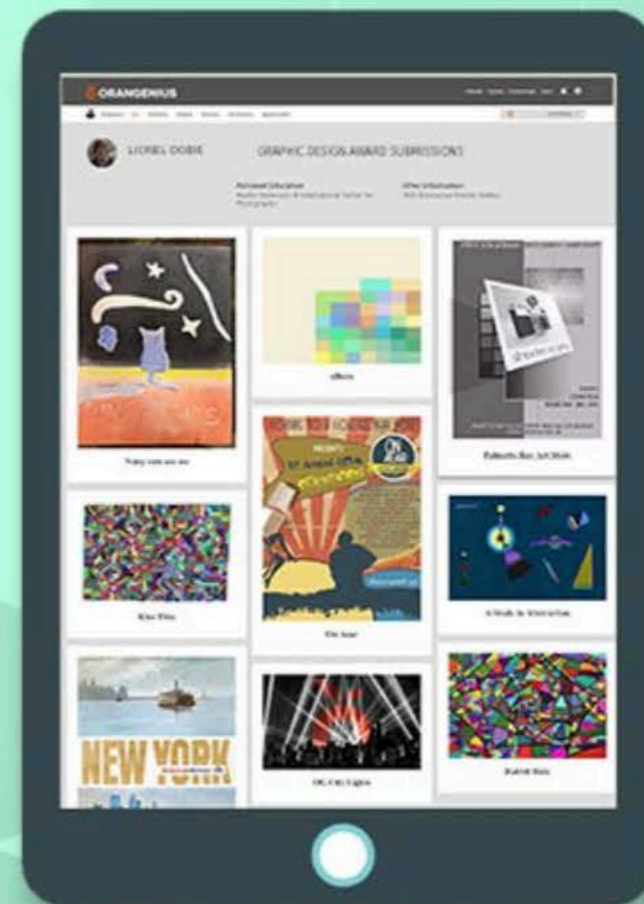

Gallery shows need curators. Photo shoots need stylists. It's rare for an artist to create without some collaboration. It's even rarer to find a platform that lets you share the spotlight.

INSPIRATION IS EVERYWHERE

Get Connected

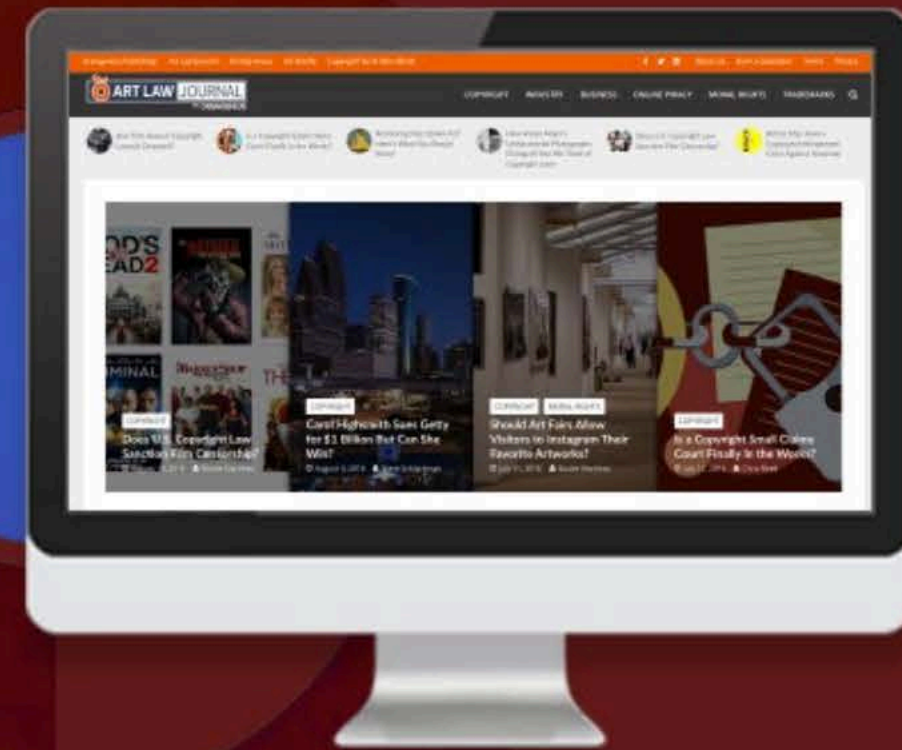

We don't like the term "tortured" for artists, any more than "starving," so we're trying to take the torture out of it, with business advice, inspiration and a network that gets you.
