

Responsive Competitive Grants

Responsive Competitive grant applications are submitted online during what are called "grant cycles." To be eligible, applying organizations must first create a user account and link the account to their nonprofit organization.

For grants focused on population health and community wellness, go to the Legacy Foundation's grant interface page to apply: <https://www.grantinterface.com/Home/Logon?urlkey=lfsaz>

For all other grants apply through the online grants portal

Grant cycles are announced via e-mail, through partner organization communications, on ACF and LFSAZ Facebook and Twitter pages and through local media. Staff members conduct free workshops in advance of grant cycles to assist prospective applicants in preparing their proposals. Workshops are listed on the ACF Events page and the Legacy Foundation's community calendar. (Can you link this?)

Unique competitive grant opportunities are available annually. Workshops are offered in each community to answer questions and assist applicants with their grant proposals.
