Quote & History Tidbit

John Owen

“The person who understands the evil in his own heart is the only person who is useful, fruitful and solid in his beliefs and obedience. Others only delude themselves and thus upset families, churches and all other relationships. In their self-pride and judgment of others, they show great inconsistency.”

Born: 1616 Stadhampton in Oxfordshire, England

Owen was a welsh born puritan, author, theologian, church leader, academic administrator and member of parliament for Oxford University. His English nonconformist beliefs and writings paved the way for numerous communicative processes within his residing state, outside communities and within political circles. Owens theological authority aided him in his preaching regarding the justification of faith due to the merits of Christ. His numerous authored works were still available as of 2007. Some of the best known titles are; Communion with God, The Mortification of Sin, Biblical Theology: The History of Theology From Adam to Christ or The Nature, Origin, Development, Study of Theological Truth, and The Glory of Christ: His Office and His Grace.
