

Ministers vs. Caterers

Approaching the Church
for sacraments,
expect ministry--
not catering.

Catering conforms
to your wishes;
ministering serves
divine designs.

A caterer is hired
to do a job;
a minister is invited
to follow a call.

Ministers will be at
your service,
but they cater
only to God.

Neither clergy nor laity
may cater the Liturgy
to their own whim;
rather, both are called to minister according to the Church's wisdom.

© Msgr. Walter Niebrzydowski
June 22, 1997
Fr-Walter@nyc.rr.com
www.fatherwaltersparish.org