

THE JOHN DONOHUE MEMORIAL AWARD 2016

This award is intended to celebrate and perpetuate John's love of Latin and the way it enriched his life even after he stopped teaching. Every graduating National Latin Exam Scholar who has maintained that status throughout his or her undergraduate studies will receive a John Donohue Memorial Award of $1000. These award recipients are not required to attend graduate school in Classics or to enter a career in the field.

Thomas Carroll (Rice University)
Kristina Cheung (University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill)
Rachel Goldstein (Yale University)
Matilda Howard (University of Sydney)
David Jaffe (University of Chicago)
Katherine Needham (Washington University in St. Louis)
Max Payne (University of California, Los Angeles)
Erika Russ (Vanderbilt University)
Fiona Sappenfield (University of Oxford, New College)
Henry Whitmore (College of the Holy Cross)

SERIT ARBORES, QUAE ALTERI SAECLIO PROSINT
{He plants trees to benefit the next generation}