

In February, I fell while coming upstairs from the basement with a few items in one hand when I lost my balance and fell backward down about 9 steps, landing on the back of my head, hitting the cement floor. I wear a lifeline, so was able to get help quickly. I had dizziness from the time the ambulance took me to the hospital. Each time I moved my head when lying down or getting up or any movement left or right. My doctor made an appointment with Dr. Sanders after being in the hospital 3 weeks. When explained to me what was happening, it was hard to believe this could be cured with these visits. I was affected in both ears and had three visits and my last treatment, I walked out feeling no dizziness and have no problems since. I want to thank Dr. Scott Sanders and audiologist, Sandy Bratton, and the staff for their ability to cure me and I've spent time with many people telling of my experience. I would recommend anyone with dizziness or vertigo to Dr. Sanders and staff. I will be forever thankful and if needed would go to BalanceMD again.
