Quick Currency Conversions

Posted By cynthia On March 18, 2017 @ 12:37 PM

Every now and again we hear from a customer in Australia, Canada, or the UK who wants to know what the price of a product would be in their currency. If you ever need to check out currency conversions, you can usually do it a snap. Choose any search engine (for this example, I’ve picked Google) and just ask the question. A currency calculator should pop right up.

![Currency Conversion Example]

If you’re using Windows 10, you can just type the question in the search box or simply ask Cortana the question. If you have a smartphone, you can ask either your Google Voice Search or Siri to look it up for you.

~ Cynthia