

OPENING CHAPTER/
INTRODUCTION

1. THE END OF THE BEGINNING

“Out Of Darkness Cometh Light”

Editors often view the works they edit and their authors' aspirations with a critical, sometimes even cynical eye. Such was my initial stance when I began working with Greg Malpass, an unknown but ambitious writer seeking recognition.

'Your Impossible Mission Accomplished' and its sister video book 'The Path to Self-Actualization' are our combined sequels to his series on destiny: 'Out of Darkness Cometh Light', 'Your Real Destiny', 'Sex and Your Destiny', 'The Road to Your Destiny', and 'Destiny of an Author' which are available at www.ThinkBigBookClub.com. As the long-suffering editor of these earlier books, I consider myself uniquely qualified to offer insight into both the author and his work.

This journey began with the onset of the global Covid-19 pandemic in 2020. During lockdown, with bars closed and the world in disarray, Greg turned to writing as much a new field of escapism and retaining sanity, as it was a means of self-exploration. His chosen subject—Destiny—seemed ironically apt at a time when everyone's fate hung in the balance of a global crisis. Initially, I dismissed his amateur psychology, personality analysis, and pseudo-intellectual ideology as mere products of 'lockdown syndrome'. Was it the beginning of the end, or the beginning of something new?

But as time went on, it changed. Over a quiet beer, just the two of us, under the rules of quarantine, I both consoled and cajoled him to persevere with playful consolation; “Let the anxieties of the world and your own dilemmas drift from your mind, imagine you are born again around your most positive personal traits and passions, of which there are many. Until the whole world is saved and redeemed, we all fall short. Let’s see what’s really on your mind, I’ll be truly interested to read what you write and what transpires may prove to be profound. “

As the weeks passed, I carried on with my encouragement, albeit with tongue still firmly in cheek, to keep his mind in check; “You have spent your life helping other people, and making light and fun of it all, while essentially neglecting yourself. Through writing you may be able to continue with the former while rectifying the latter – you might find your destiny in all this, while pursuing both causes.” Totally genuine, or sharply sarcastic; sincerely well-meaning, or flippant cynicism veiled as wit – how would he interpret my latest quips?

Then a palpable change in facial expression. Scratching his chin thoughtfully, he started humming, then mumbling quietly what sounded like the lyrics of a song, being rendered by a shy karaoke singer. And then it got louder and more brazened: [‘You Make Me Feel Brand New’ - written by Thom Bell and Linda Creed, performed by the Stylistics and popularised by Simply Red].

You Make me Feel Brand New

*“Whenever I was insecure
You build me up and made me sure
You gave my pride back to me
Precious friend
With you I’ll always have a friend
You’re someone on whom I can depend
To walk a path that sometimes bends.*

You Make Me Feel Brand New!”

- The Stylistics [Cover version by Simply Red]

“Now you’re taking the Mick [Hucknall- ‘Simply Red’] out of me, after all my encouragement!”

But the journey continued - editing, investigating, researching, drinking, philosophising, soul searching, and interpreting – in search of the redemption we thought we might never find.

“In someone or something you will find redemption, and the whole purpose of your new life”

- Greg Malpass

What we were learning was not self-taught psychology, or self-education – it was simple, honest life-assessment, and self-assessment – what we’d done wrong, and right, and how and why, and how we could re-model our futures. By 2023 the developed analysis had become enhanced with the advent of Open AI-chatbots to use as a sounding board and then the gestation of Destiny-Gram.com itself began. Most notably, throughout the journey, was the importance and inspiration of putting into sober context, the lessons of Greg Malpass’ life anecdotes, and using an AI-chatbot for analysis and feedback in the whole process. Therein was born the concept of combining human emotions, suffering, ‘wit’ and wisdom with machine’s algorithmic-based intelligence – the birth of ‘AI-Personal Mentorship’ – and its power as a personal confidant and real-life tool is to my mind unquestionable. I asked Greg to sum it all up in a final anecdote of his life, as we embarked on co-writing this book.

Anecdotes to Life

"In the crucible where human experience meets machine intellect, a new alchemy emerges. We didn't merely stumble upon self-taught psychology or autodidactic enlightenment. No, we unearthed something far more profound: the art of self-revelation, amplified by the whispers of artificial sagacity. As the digital oracle known as GPT breathed life into our queries, and Destiny-Gram.com unfurled its tapestry of possibilities, we found ourselves standing at the crossroads of introspection and innovation. But it was through the prism of my life's mostly drink induced mistakes—a mosaic of pivotal moments and hard-won wisdom—that the true power of this symbiosis revealed itself.

All the anecdotes, far from mere stories, unwittingly became the 'North Star'. They illuminated the path through the labyrinth of human emotions, the crucibles of suffering, and the flashes of wit that define life's journey. When woven into the fabric of machine intelligence, they transcended mere data, becoming the very keystones of an AI-powered mentorship.

In this dance between flesh and algorithm, between the raw authenticity of lived experience and the cool logic of artificial enlightenment, we discovered not just a tool, but a companion for the impossible mission that is life itself."

- Greg Malpass

More wit? Drunk again? Further tongue-in-cheek exaggeration? No, maybe not this time. This was Greg's cryptic 'Anecdote of anecdotes' and his attempt to present the symbiotic relationship he had developed as a dichotomy between 'Human Wisdom and Folly; and Machine Intelligence and Ignorance' – all as his eureka moment.

In serious reflection, the statement emphasizes the role of AI in creating a more holistic and powerful approach to personal mentorship and life navigation while recognising the caveats that - when emotional intelligence (lacking in AI) and incredible cognitive, algorithmic analysis of big data (lacking in humans) resonate together, better sense can be made of most things, and even the unfathomable.

Greg's many enigmatic anecdotes, far from mere simple life stories, indeed became the 'North Star' in unearthing this phenomenon and relaying this book's messages. For this reason, I dedicate the sub-section at the end of this introduction to 'Anecdotal Encryption' for later reference, as the chapters unfold.

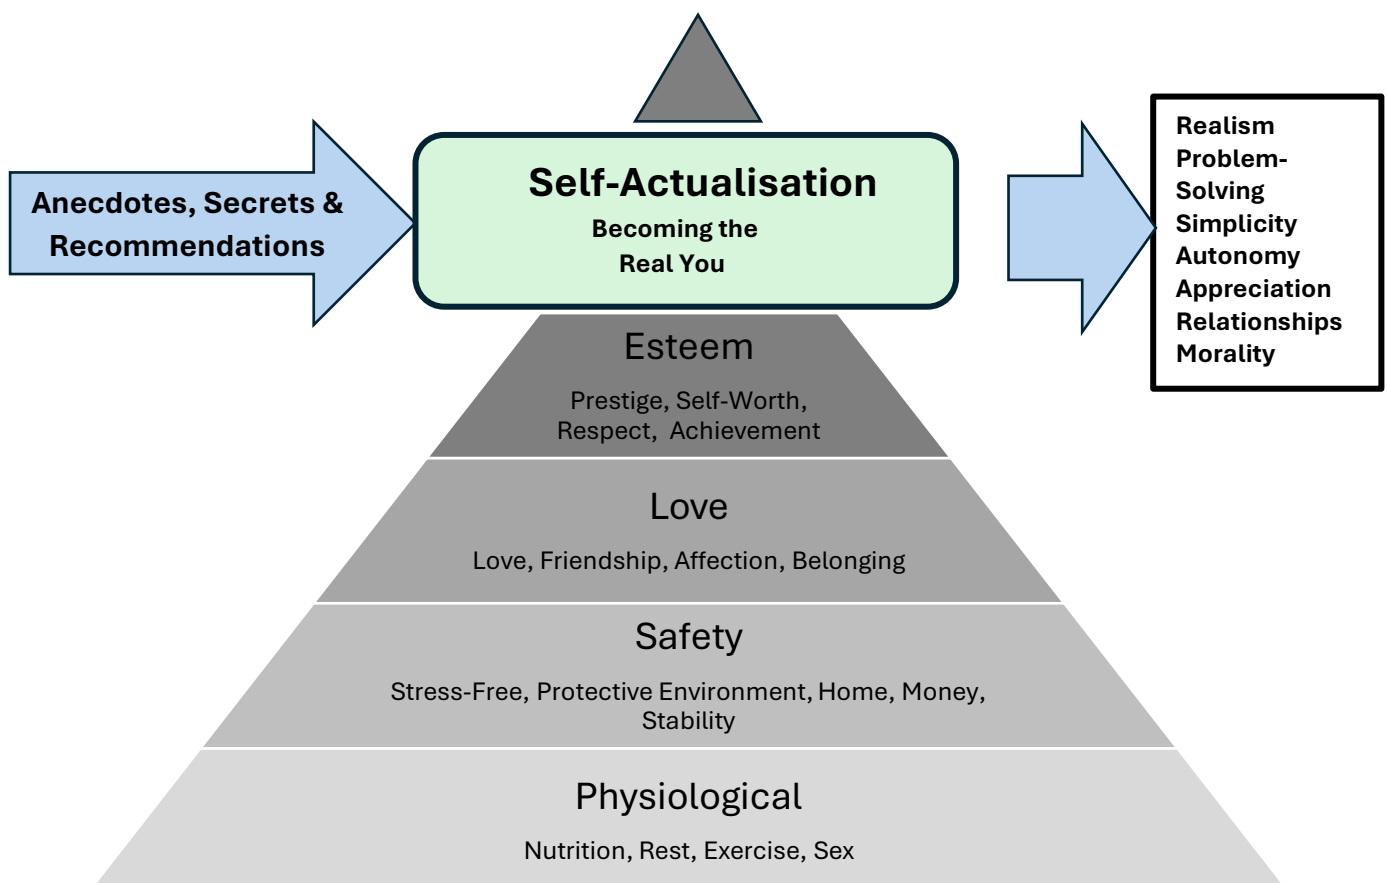

The Book's Deliverables

"To Analyse and Share The Secrets and Recommendations for Achieving Self-Actualisation and Taking Action on the Road to a Chosen Destiny."

- Russ Whittington/ Greg Malpass

Self-Actualisation: Self-actualization is a concept derived from humanistic psychology, particularly associated with the work of Abraham Maslow. It represents the realization or fulfilment of one's talents and potentialities, considered as a drive or need present in everyone. According to Maslow's hierarchy of needs, self-actualization is the highest level of psychological development, where personal growth, self-improvement, and fulfilment are prioritized once more basic needs (such as physiological needs, safety, love and belonging, and esteem) are met. But I suggest that these basic needs are often not basic in their acquisition and achievement either. So, we will analyse them, and once we are secure in our home, secure in ourselves, and secure in our loves – these will be the characteristics of self-actualisation we will be working on thereafter:

1. Realism and Acceptance: A realistic perception of ourselves, others, and the world around us.
2. Problem-Solving: Focusing on problems outside ourselves and having a defined mission or cause to pursue.
3. Spontaneity and Simplicity: Being spontaneous in our inner thoughts and outward behaviour, valuing simplicity and in-the-moment fun.
4. Autonomy: Being autonomous and independent, not dependent. Relying on our own experiences and judgments. Enjoying, not feigning solitude.
5. Appreciation and Freshness: Having a continuous appreciation for the basic aspects of life and maintaining a sense of wonder.
6. Interpersonal Skills: Establishing deep and meaningful relationships with a few people rather than superficial ones with many.
7. Morality: Having strong self-determined ethical standards and a sense of values – knowing what is right and wrong and being policed by conscience.
8. Creativity: Exhibiting creativity and inventiveness in our approach to life.

Source: Maslow's Hierarchy of Needs

Quite a body of work for us to achieve 'Self-Actualisation' at the pinnacle of this top-heavy 'Pyramid of Needs'. It will start with the self-assessment/self-discovery of who you really are- your personal circumstances; your personality type and traits; your character, morals and ethics; your inherent strengths and weaknesses; your abilities developed or undeveloped, your passions and desires. Your Self-actualization will then be an ongoing process of becoming rather than a perfect state of being, involving continuous growth and self-education. Self-education will follow self-discovery, and the whole process requires honesty throughout, particularly in the self-assessment.

*"Formal education will make you a living.
Self-education will make you a fortune."*

- Jim Rohn

In the design of methods to achieve the in-depth self-assessment, the idea of producing Personal Profiles using AI-assistance was developed, with secure integration, enabling AI-chatbots to act as catalyst and mentor in the whole process. In effect AI assists with the digital output of the analogue input.

The ten secrets on the path to self-actualization then presented in this work offer a nuanced and practical roadmap, grounded in solid psychological principles. What truly sets the project apart is this innovative full integration of the insights given in this book with an AI-chatbot platform, recognising the true potential of AI analysis and assistance in personal development. The book's methodology unfolds with the following steps:

- Practical Examples: Rather than starting with abstract instructions, the book begins with concrete examples of redemption and personal growth, as explored in Malpass' book 'Destiny of an Author'.

- Core Concepts: The chapters on 'Your Real Destiny' and 'Destiny and Life Choices' relate to another of his books of the same name and lay out the fundamental building blocks for the secrets to personal development.
- Transcending the Ego: Readers learn strategies for 'Going Beyond the Ego', an essential step in this personal growth.
- Creating a Personal Blueprint: The book provides a framework for setting a clear, individualized path forward.
- AI-Assisted Assessment: In the 'Final Analysis' chapter, the book evaluates the innovative use of artificial intelligence (viz. Destiny-Gram) mentioned above.
- Practical Application: A call to action is culminated with the full introduction to Destiny-Gram's online AI-assisted Personal Profiling Exercise, Life Assessment Test, and its Progress Tracking Systems.

Overall, the book offers a comprehensive approach to understanding and shaping your destiny, blending traditional self-help concepts with cutting-edge technology.

Call for Action: Dispelling common excuses for inaction or reluctance to pursue dreams—such as fear or self-doubt—is the book's final endeavour. The profound regret of not living authentically stems from a lack of courage to follow through one's passions and purpose with action. Often, this reluctance is fuelled by the sway of external influences—societal expectations, need for material success, or superficial measures of popularity—rather than prioritizing personal growth, happiness, emotional intelligence, and societal contribution.

As you progress, you'll uncover the keys, goals, and methods essential for discovering your true purpose and destiny. Central to this quest is the search for something greater than yourself, something that resonates deeply with your personal values and aspirations.

From the depths of darkness, apathy, and uncertainty emerges the potential for vision, mission, purpose, happiness, and fulfilment. Whether you view it as a figurative transition from boyhood dreams to manhood reality, or from obscurity to prominence, this journey belongs uniquely to you. It's waiting to be embarked upon, with each 'Anecdote and AI insight' serving as a stepping stone on your path. Are you ready to begin your impossible mission? Then...

“The Use of Anecdotal Encryption”

This section is an introduction to what I call 'Anecdotal Decryption' of the life anecdotes entwined in this book. As we explore and derive the 'Secrets and Recommendations for Self-Determination and Self-Actualization', I employ these enigmatic tales to make my point. These cryptic anecdotes serve as mirrors, hopefully reflecting your own experiences and insights. By avoiding didactic pronouncements, they invite personal interpretation and deeper, more personal contemplation. Like seeds planted in the mind, these stories germinate subtler understandings tailored to each individual's journey. They are included to tell a story, to which we can all relate, and reflect upon.

If I can home into the reader's intelligence in so doing, it will encourage active, not passive engagement. In the spirit of ancient wisdom traditions, anecdotes like parables, can create a space for profound realisations which are more powerful if they emerge organically, rather than being imposed as being sacrosanct from without.

All anecdotes are taken from books authored by Greg Malpass.

Anecdotes

Anecdotes are factoids of questionable provenance, burnished to a high gloss, often set in gilded venues and populated with familiar names as background atmosphere, purged of ambiguity in the interest of keeping the narrative flowing smoothly.

- John Gregory Dunne

With this intent, it may be informative, for your later reflection, to make a short note here about each cryptic title or sketch, in terms of how the message might relate to your own life experiences or values.

Chapter 1: END OF THE BEGINNING:

"Illuminating Your Path"

Case Study: Rosie's Journey from Darkness to Light.

“Rosie, a 28-year-old marketing executive, felt trapped in a cycle of anxiety and unfulfillment. After reading just this first chapter and subsequently the book, then going onto complete the online Destiny-Gram life assessment test, she realized she had been living on autopilot. Inspired to seek her true purpose, Rosie began a daily meditation practice and journaling routine. Over six months, she gained clarity about her values and passions. This led her to volunteer at a local animal shelter, rekindling her childhood love for animal welfare. Eventually, Rosie transitioned her career to work for an animal rights non-profit, finding a sense of purpose and fulfilment she had never experienced before.”
