

LACMA Art+Film Gala

Honors Barbara Kruger and Quentin Tarantino

PRESENTED by Gucci, the 4th Annual Art+Film Gala was co-chaired by Leonardo DiCaprio and Eva Chow with Gucci Creative Director Frida Giannini and a special performance by Culture Club. The Star-studded guest list was a Who's Who of notables from the art, film, fashion, and entertainment industries who gathered at the Los Angeles County Museum of Art (LACMA) to honor filmmaker Quentin Tarantino and artist Barbara Kruger—champions for LACMA's film initiatives. Proceeds from the gala support LACMA's initiative to make film more central to the museum's curatorial programming and, also fund LACMA's broader mission. This includes a robust film program led by Film Independent curator Elvis Mitchell, as well as exhibitions, acquisitions, educational programming, and screenings that continue to explore the intersection of art and film. Flowing champagne for amazing evening was generously provided by Laurent-Perrier. Since its inception in 1965, the Los Angeles County Museum of Art (LACMA) has been devoted to collecting works of art that span history and geography, while at the same time, represent Los Angeles's uniquely diverse population. LACMA is the largest art museum in the western United States, with a collection that includes over 120,000 objects from antiquity to the present, encompassing the world and nearly the entire history of art. Among the museum's strengths are its holdings of Asian art, Latin American art, from pre-Columbian masterpieces to works by leading modern and contemporary artists; and Islamic art, of which LACMA hosts one of the most significant collections in the world. LACMA shares its vast collections via exhibitions, public programs and research facilities attracting over a million visitors annually. www.lacma.org
