TRUMP FACT CHECKING

Even though Trump speech to the Congress earned him some praise, there were numerous 'lies' and not just exaggerations in his speech.

Washington Post, Politico and numerous other News organizations reported on the following claims. The top five are Suggesting enforcing the immigration laws will decrease crime - False.

Numerous studies show that the crime for undocumented workers is much less compared to others.

Credit for corporations bringing jobs back -

Ford, Walmart, GM, Sprint, Softbank and many others - False - Most of these decisions were made by the companies before the elections.

94 million people out of the work force - False. The true number is 7.6 million with an all time low unemployment rate of only 4.6%

Highest murder rate in decades in 2016 - There was small uptake in 2016 compared to 2015, mainly because of Chicago. But overall the crime rate has had steady decrease since 1990's. Health care reform is more complicated than anyone knew!!! - He was the only one that did not know that.

Republicans are currently concealing their health care reform bill hoping to run it through congress without proper examination.

Republicans to Control Protests

According to the New York Times Republicans across the country are looking to stifle protests with several new laws introduced in 16 states legislation. North Carolina legislators want to make it illegal to "threaten, intimidate or retaliate" against state officials. In Iowa City protesters blocked Interstate 80. Blocking roadways could be a felony punishable by 5 years in prison or a $7,500 fine. They consider this act to be "economic terrorism." In Nashville a motorist stuck a safety worker escorting a protester. A Tennessee state representative introduced a bill that would remove motorist liability should they accidentally hit someone blocking a street. Civil liberties lawyers say that these protest related laws are dangerous. There're meant to criminalize protesters masked by public safety. By Mary Paliga

Lisle Township Democrats

For the first time in many years Lisle Township has a slate of candidates running against the incumbent Republicans.

Mary Jo Mullen for Supervisor, Gerry Galloway for Clerk, Dave Melsbakas for trustee, Mohammed Waheed for Trustee, Sean Allen for Tustee, and Drew Bolda for Trustee

Mary Jo and Dave came and spoke before the Visions and Voices group in Lisle. They revealed the sense of entitlement that the long time unopposed incumbents enjoy.

Help us to rock their world and get out and vote April 4th. We need to keep them accountable.
