

DIVA ROCKER GLAM

*a life where excess
is never enough!*

NOBODY does glitz better than Diva Rocker Glam owner, Cindy Rocker. Sitting high on her throne in her luscious showroom on Sunset Plaza, in West Hollywood, California, few doubt she is the designer queen to the rich and famous. For those of you who have no idea just how good... the good life can get... pay a visit to the spectacular Diva Rocker Glam showroom and get ready to mingle with the leg-long list of A-list Super Stars, political and business headliners and sports legends around the world who have put Cindy on the map, and are regularly seen in her store. Her intuitively creative, superior design concepts and the over the top, one of a kind, masterly crafted furniture and accessories her company manufactures furnishes their residences, offices, movie studios, television sets, and music videos worldwide. One step into the Diva Rocker Glam showroom and without a doubt you will see 10 pieces of jaw-dropping furniture and accessories you simply cannot live without! I saw at least 30!

What's New In The World Of Want-Not?

Due to requests from high-profile clients, Cindy decided to take her array of designer furniture and unique accessories to a new level by re-creating Home-Away-From-Home environments in exotic private residences to accommodate discerning clients who want more privacy than hotels offer. Whether an over-night stay, a month long vacay or extended living arrangement, Cindy's custom design residences accommodate clients in security conscious luxurious homes, penthouses and apartments that offer personalized amenities above and beyond Five-Star Hotel status. A chef, workout trainer, massage therapist, valet, maid service, chauffeur, availability of exotic cars, limos and personal shopping — all in the comfort of your home-away-from-home. And, each is decorated with the outrageous furnishings from the spectacular Diva Rocker Glam line. The day I visited Cindy for our interview, I found myself sitting high above LA in a 5,000 square foot penthouse with 360 degree views from the Pacific ocean to the Hollywood Hills and beyond. Cindy was finalizing last minute details to the penthouse before her clients arrived the following day. In her words... "everything has to be perfect!" The extraordinary luxury of what she created for her client's month long stay was far beyond my imagination. Her reputation for the best that life has to offer is well deserved.
