

16 January 2021

Dear Friends of NAJA:

When we decided to cancel our 37th Annual NAJA Conference originally scheduled for the week of March 30th 2020 in San Francisco, we expected that 2021 would be a reasonable option and rescheduled for the week of March 8th at the same location. Because the current situation with respect to the coronavirus is still unsettled and because most of us will not have had the opportunity to receive a vaccine by then, we have again postponed the conference until the week of March 7th 2022. We have signed an agreement with the Mark Hopkins Intercontinental hotel in San Francisco for this new date. We hope you are all well and that we will see you next March in San Francisco.

Thank you for your continuing support.

Sincerely,
