

The Seven Deadly Spirits that hold the human world enthralled are those by which men set their false values and vain goals. These are the demons of idolatrous pride and anti-godly choice, hedonistic lusts, violent peace-destroying anger, possessive greed, gluttonous addictions, invidiousness divisions, and negligence in fulfilling God's will. This is a summary of mankind's false values and attitudes.

These Seven False Values synthesize the useless and temporary goals men normally and vainly pursue. They are not worth selling your souls for. The world seeks them relentlessly and glorifies those who attain them. Yet, they are the main causes of the world's conflict, its distress and aggravation. All are entrapping, self- and otherly destructive, and temporary.

You would be wise to ignore pursuing such seductive values. They are dark inducements that disconnect you from effecting the Will of God on earth, from faithfully observing His Moral Laws, from accepting Jesus' Word and Modeling Guidance, from attaining the Light and Love of God's Presence in your present life, and from Final Positive Judgment in the next!
