Heat & Water Benefits

Steam and Sauna therapy offers profound benefits for both body and mind.

Heat helps to relax muscles, stimulate circulation, and promote detoxification, while the enveloping warmth of steam deeply hydrates the skin and supports respiratory health.

Water enhances these effects, aiding in temperature regulation and encouraging contrast therapy, which can reduce inflammation and boost recovery. Together, heat and water create a powerful, natural remedy for stress, fatigue, and everyday tension—restoring balance, enhancing vitality, and grounding you in a moment of pure wellness.

Saunas

The Benefits of Saunas

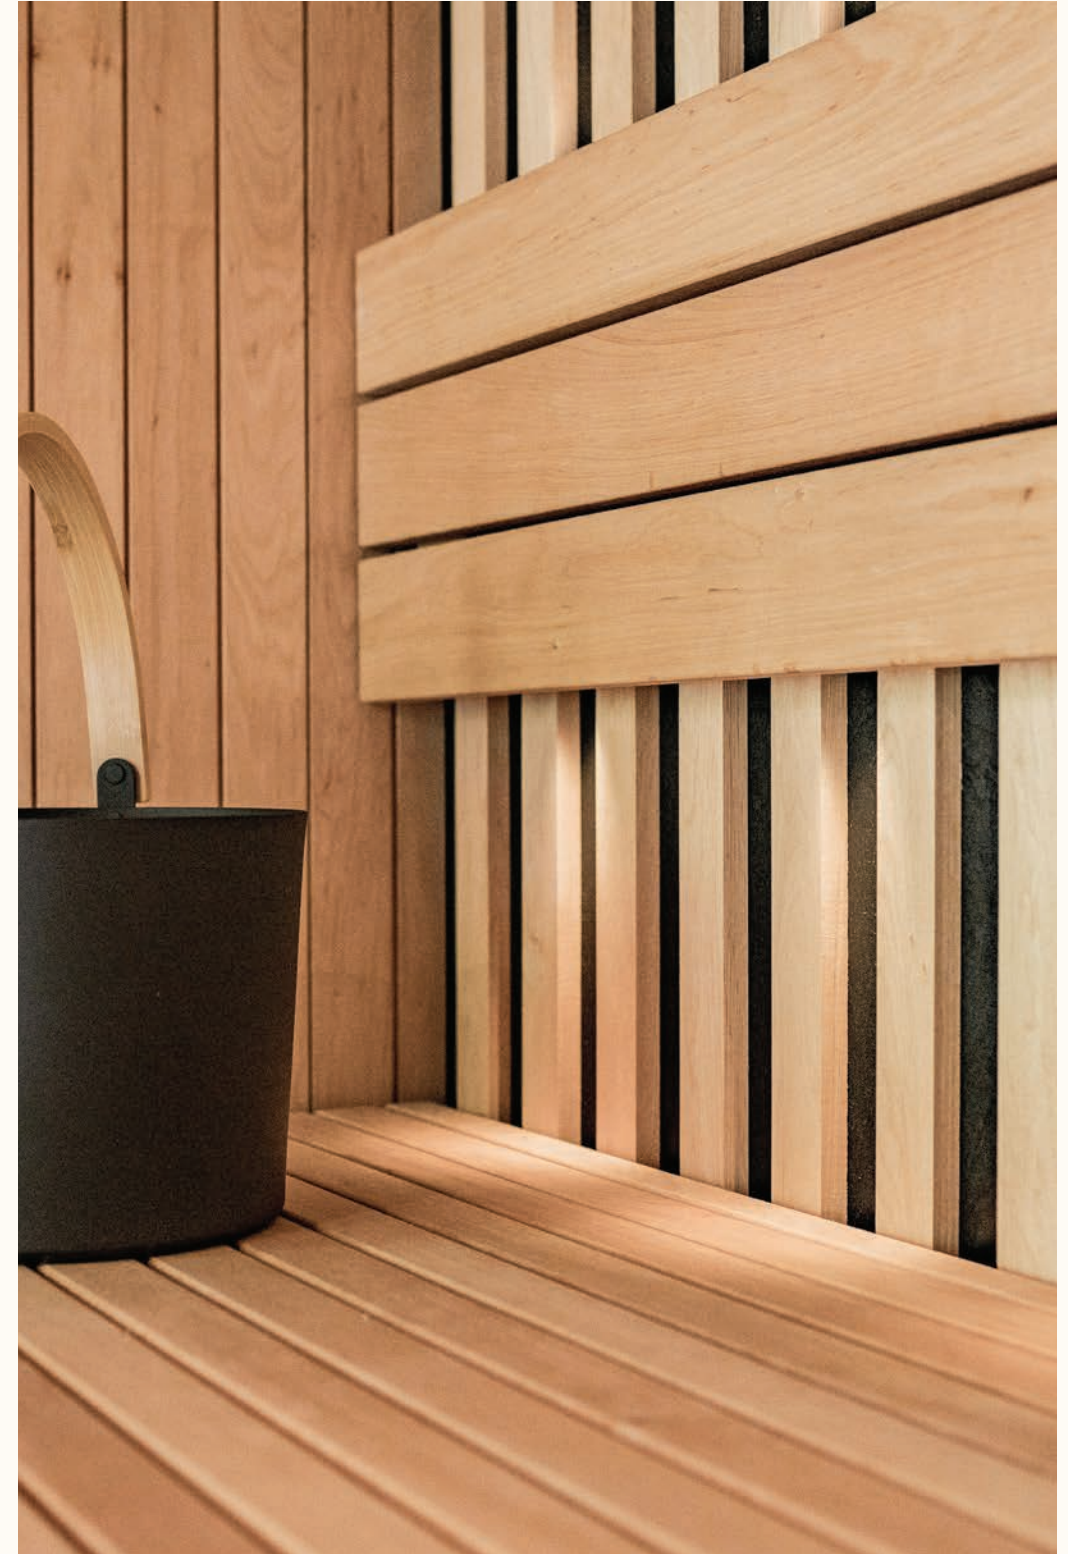

More than heat—saunas offer a full-body reset. Regular use supports circulation, muscle recovery, immune strength, and deep relaxation. Beyond the physical, sauna rituals create space for stillness, helping to calm the mind and restore balance in daily life.

The New Era: Saunas Built to Meet High Expectations

Step into a new era of wellness where form meets function. Every detail is designed with intention. Thermasol's saunas are crafted for those who expect more—more innovation, more comfort, more beauty.

Merging timeless materials with modern engineering, each sauna offers intuitive technology, elevated design, and unmatched performance. Built to enhance daily rituals and support whole-body well-being, Thermasol redefines what it means to bring luxury wellness home.

Designing spaces that restore.

Meet Bojan Črešnar, the award-winning designer behind our sauna collection. A Red Dot and BIG SEE award recipient, Bojan brings an unmatched blend of engineering precision, global perspective, and hands-on craftsmanship to every project.

For Bojan, wellness isn't just a product—it's a practice. His custom sauna designs are made to do more than impress; they're built to elevate daily rituals and improve the way people live.

Each piece begins with a clear vision: to create a restorative experience that feels both timeless and deeply personal. His work blends natural materials with refined technology, allowing beauty and performance to serve the same goal—rejuvenation.

From gym floors to global markets, Bojan's path to sauna design has been anything but typical. A former athlete and world-champion bodybuilder, he first saw the transformative impact of sauna use as a personal trainer. Later, as a spa importer and entrepreneur, he noticed a gap in the market for truly customized wellness spaces.

That insight sparked a deeper mission. Alongside his wife, Bojan built a sauna manufacturing business rooted in precision, innovation, and purpose—one that now employs over 70 people and exports globally.

Today, Bojan leads with a philosophy shaped by more than 50 countries of travel, a passion for aviation, and degrees in everything from physics to economics. His approach is minimalist and deeply thoughtful: each sauna is visualized in full 3D before it's ever built, guided by structure, simplicity, and flow.

“Luxury is not about excess. It's about balance—between materials and light, form and function, tradition and modern life.”

Bojan Črešnar

Avoid using aromatherapy oils, skin care products, or additives without first consulting your doctor or allergist. Children under 16 should only use these systems under adult supervision.
