Commencement Exercises Held At St. Stephen's

Twenty students attired in caps and gowns and comprising the first graduating class of St. Stephen's High School in Dorval, received their diplomas in an impressive ceremony at the school last Friday evening, September 11th. In attendance at the commencement exercises were a large number of friends as well as the families of the graduates.

Mr. R. Whalen, Principal of St. Stephen's, in his address of welcome indicated a great sense of pride in the achievement of this class in which all candidates were successful (18 with college preparatory certificates), and expressed pleasure in the desire of so many students to continue their education beyond the high school level. He emphasized the fact that St. Stephen's had come a long way in three years and his thanks went out to the parents, teaching staff, Father Griffin, and the school commission for their cooperative interest in the growth of the school. Confident of improvement in the present facilities, he said, "The future of high school education in Dorval looks very bright."

HIGH STANDARD ENDORSED

Mr. Guy Pager, Chairman of the Dorval Catholic School Board, also expressed pride in the first graduating class and the challenge for the future represented by it. He spoke confidently of enlarged facilities which he said the Board would spare no effort to procure... "all we ask is your cooperation, your prayers, and your money!" He spoke of a solid foundation in education in which new theories are examined with care and judged with only the best interests of the young in mind, and also took the opportunity to emphasize the high standards of training and achievement set by the Board for school-teachers entrusted with the education of Dorval's Catholic school children.

Father Norman Griffin, speaking directly to the graduates, termed knowledge a normal and natural thing, able to produce better men and women, but not an achievement in itself.

"Religion," he said, "will show you how to live. Catholic education will give you a broader view of life and a deeper understanding of people and things."

His remarks were concluded by a prayer that the class might continue to be a credit to the school and an honour to home and country.

Miss Donna Louthood, Valedictorian, spoke of her classmates predestined to be the first graduates, and of the Commencement as the threshold of an adult world. Her thanks went out to parents who "in the integrity of their lives have shown us how to live." She pointed out the advantages the class had enjoyed in a small school of knowing the teachers well, without undue familiarity, and of enjoying freedom without lack of discipline. Miss Louthood praised especially the encouragement given them by teachers towards initiative in all their efforts. She said, "It is our duty to set a precedent in success. After the fine preparation we have had, it is difficult to doubt the future of this class."

CLASS CALIBRE VERY GOOD

Mr. J. McIlhorne, Chairman of the Montreal Catholic School Commission, and guest speaker, was introduced by Mr. W. Brier, teacher at St. Stephen's. Mr. McIlhorne pointed out that the calibre of the class was exceptionally good when placed against the mosaic of Quebec students. He said that long after the factual knowledge acquired in school has faded, the results of association with fine educators will remain.

Mr. McIlhorne gave an inspiring address to the graduates on the quality of generosity. He pointed out that it is demanded in every walk of life, and that most careers require us to give unstintingly. Life is "a burning," dedicated or not, he said, and stressed that it is so much better to burn away the selfish devotion to chosen ways of life. He pointed out that the moral welfare of Christian youth is the measure of success in our evaluation of education. He warned the graduates that tomorrow they faced a world which is without conviction, and that they must never doubt the old moral values.

"Take from the Tree of Courage a staff suitable to your needs,"

Safety Flags To Be Unfurled At Dorval Schools

The Women's Committee on Children's Safety Projects of the Dorval Safety Council have planned flag-raising ceremonies for every school in the City of Dorval to inaugurate their "Elmer, The Safety Elephant" campaign. The flags will be raised at all schools and will be kept flying while each school is free of traffic accidents. This is part of the Women's Committee's all-out effort on behalf of the children in Dorval to emphasize the necessity for observing the traffic laws and taking every precaution while travelling to and from school as well as any other time it is necessary to be on the roads.

The dates and times of these ceremonies are listed below and an invitation is extended to all parents, as well as clergymen, City officials, members of local associations, etc. to make an effort to attend. The ceremony of presenting the flag and raising it is brief but it will make a more lasting impression on young children if their parents are present. Along with the "Elmer, The Safety Elephant," goes an extensive course in traffic safety to be taught in the classrooms. The Women's Committee have met with wonderful co-operation from the School Commissions, Principals, School Associations and the Police Department, and are putting on these projects in the French and English schools in the City. This has entailed considerable expense and effort as nearly everything has had or will have to be translated.

Surrey Gardens School - Sept. 21 at 10:30 a.m.; Courtland Park School - Sept. 22 at 10:15 a.m.; Dorval Gardens School - Sept. 23 at 2:15 p.m.

The dates for the flag-raising ceremonies at the other schools will be announced at the end of September.

The child who is taught to observe traffic safety rules will, in the years to come be a safety conscious adult, said a spokesman for the Safety Council.

Service Aim Of L'shore Civitans

The first meeting of the 1959-60 season of the Lakeshore Civitan Club was recently held under the leadership of Club President, W. E. Emerson.

During Mr. Emerson's opening remarks, he emphasized the fact that during the Club's brief four-year existence, the Lakeshore Civitan Club has become one of the most active service groups on the Lakeshore. Mr. Emerson underlined the Club's role in supporting services that will benefit the citizens of the Lake-shore, from Lachine to St. Anne de Bellevue.

The Lakeshore Civitan Club will again help to finance the Lakeshore Branch of the Association for the Help of Retarded Children (Quebec) Inc., which the Club organized a year ago. This support will come mainly from the Club's 4th annual

STOP PRESS

It is understood that the Directors of the Dorval Recreation Association have been approached with an offer of long term financing which may make possible the construction of two additional swimming pools in the City of Dorval in 1960. Watch this newspaper for further details soon!

Hon. Paul Sauve, 52 year-old successor to Hon. Maurice Duplessis as leader of the National Union Party and Premier of the Province of Quebec. Formerly Minister of Youth and Social Welfare, Mr. Sauve was first elected to the legislature when only 23 years of age, representing the provincial constituency of Two Mountains. In 1936, at the age of 29, he was elected Speaker of the Lower House. A member of the reserve army, Mr. Sauve went on active duty when war broke out in 1939, and progressed through a variety of assignments to Lieutenant-Colonel in command of the Fusiliers Mont-Royal during the invasion march through France, Holland and Belgium. He won several decorations for bravery including the French Croix de Guerre with silver star.

The Department of Youth and Social Welfare while under Mr. Sauve's direction, was acknowledged as one of the best administered by the Province and it is predicted that his efficiency in management together with his extensive background and experience will stand him in good stead to shoulder the heavy responsibilities so suddenly thrust upon him.

Dorval Dukes coach, Ken Morris, congratulates Bill Sanson on his first win as the new Dorval quarterback for the 1959 season. The Dukes outpointed Westlake 18-13 in the first game of the league schedule at Courtland Park last Saturday.

CIVIL DEFENCE MERITS SUPPORT

A two-part circular arrived in the mail boxes of all Dorval citizens this week, seeking data vital to the future safety of every resident.

We urge you to read it before either putting it to one side and possibly forgetting it, or consigning it to the wastepaper basket.

It is a simple questionnaire which puts you under no obligation, yet it will provide the city's Civil Defence leaders with some necessary information that could add teeth to its force. On it, in fact, could rest the success or failure of an organization not yet a year old.

It has been proved elsewhere on this island that Civil Defence is equally important in time of peace as in time of war. This was borne out not long ago in Montreal during the disastrous apartment house fire. Thanks to that city's CD, lives were saved and those who suffered were cared for with despatch.

Dorval, like every other city, is in need of experienced personnel. This experience, however, will come only through training. The time asked of you is negligible.

PROCRASTINATION AND POLLUTION

From the outside looking in it is not always easy to discern the wood from the trees.

By the same token, because many words have been spilled over water pollution the air has become clouded and we are little the wiser as to what, if anything, is being done now.

Mayor John Pratt, in recent articles from Ottawa, has given us a little clearer picture, yet much of what he has reported boils down to meetings at the Federal level between advisory committees and sub-committees.

Explanations are one thing; action another. From our position on the outside looking in it appears strange that while large sums are spent on medical research, nothing has been done to eliminate a possible source of disease.

Water pollution is not new. According to experts it can cause considerable sickness. At the start of the summer, provincial public health authorities found it sufficiently serious to warn against swimming in Lake St. Louis and other waterways similarly polluted.

Obviously the Quebec Government considers it a question of sufficient importance to appoint a committee to study the question, yet it has not answered charges made by the Opposition Liberal Member of the Legislature for this riding, Dr. C. Kirkland and, in recent weeks, a similar charge by a group of municipal leaders.

According to these charges the provincially-appointed committee charged with the study of the problem has met twice and done nothing despite a lavish grant by provincial taxpayers.

We think it is the Provincial Government's duty to re-assure a worried public.

The issue has been made more serious by the current polio outbreak and the reported death from typhus of a Quebec man. Water pollution has been attributed to the latter, while it has been suggested there might be a tie-in with the former.

Not being medical experts we do not know. Fears, of course might be groundless and we would welcome reassurance.

This is not something to be played around with; it should be a political football. It involves the welfare of the people and as such should take priority over all else.

Every child knows that it's fun to help Mother with preserving. When Mother is sick or away from home through unavoidable circumstances a child is deprived of many important experiences. Fortunately sometimes Red Feather can save the day by providing a substitute homemaker. Here capable Mrs. Alice Morad from Lakeshore Welfare Services' Homemaker Service gives a young son of the house some tips on pickling.

John Pratt

Reports From Ottawa

In addition to the problem of water pollution, a new threat has made its appearance in recent years in the even more dangerous air pollution, which is becoming an increasing problem in the centre of Montreal, although it has not, as yet, caused very much trouble in the lakeshore area. However, the pollution of air is likely to become extremely dangerous to health in the years ahead unless efficient steps are taken immediately to deal with it. It has become quite obvious that many respiratory diseases, and even the dread scourge of cancer in some cases, can be traced to the pollution of the air we breathe by substances dangerous to the human body when inhaled in large quantities and over a long period of time.

area is the question of the abolition of railway level crossings. As I have said before, this question was solved in Europe over a hundred years ago with the help of the ordinary pick and shovel in the hands of day labour, and surely we, in this day and age, should be able to cope with this problem with all the modern aids of bull-dozers and gigantic, earth-moving machinery. Canada is a large country and it would be very difficult, if not impossible, to avoid some level crossings, particularly in the less populated areas, but it is ridiculous to allow such crossings to exist on much-travelled roads in a densely populated area such as this. These crossings exist in many parts of this riding but are particularly bad on the main lines of both the C.P.R. and C.N.R., which run through the whole length of this County from Montreal West to Ste. Anne de Bellevue. These lines not only carry a tremendous amount of rail traffic, but some of the fastest trains in America traverse these crossings, resulting in a mounting death toll which is not only appalling but useless almost to the point of being criminal.

The Federal Government recently increased the amount of money available for the Grade Crossing Fund in an endeavour to cut down on the unnecessary loss of life, but too little is being done and very often, tragically, too late.

A concerted effort by the various governments concerned is needed to speed up the eradication of these death traps and traffic bottlenecks. A point which is often forgotten by many is the tremendous disruption caused to thousands of people by the incessant whistling by train drivers, many of whom have been involved in fatal accidents and cannot be blamed for keeping their hands on the whistle cords to save themselves from even more horrible experiences of this nature.

Each crossing presents its own particular problems and has to be dealt with on its own merits, but is also necessary that a general plan for the whole district be made, which would allow priority to be given to the more dangerous and grade crossings. We have the machinery, we have the qualified engineers and contractors, we have a great pool of unemployed men ready to go to work, but Canada, like other nations, seems to lack the financial formula necessary to bring these many factors together in the solution of this and other problems which face us. In the long run, it is human energy and labour, of which we have an over-supply, which will solve these problems; money is only the medium of exchange and should, therefore, be our servant - not our master. Yet the ever-present block to progressive public works is the eternal shortage of this necessary medium with which to carry them out for the benefit of mankind.

Next week I shall discuss some individual crossings and the specific problems involved in each particular case.

IN FOCUS

By K. M.

There was a smile for the week in the letter written to the Montreal Star last Friday and signed "Worried Husband." He wondered if the recent deletion of the word "obey" from the Anglican marriage service in their new Prayer Book was retroactive.

Brave or beatnik -- the girl, seen by a Dorval family, wandering through Simpson's downtown store on Saturday afternoon, barefooted, and fortified only by very vivid and multicolored nail polish on her toes?

Weatherman and birds at odds: There have been several long-range weather predictions for a very warm fall and a late winter. However the birds are taking no chances. Residents from the northern area of Dorval report that migrating birds in the thousands are settling in the big trees, literally covering the branches of big elms. The birds are so noisy with their chattering and scolding that evening conversations in the backyards are impossible.

Good luck to Mr. Peter Soulis, one of the few local residents to undertake a private business in the Dorval Shopping Centre area. His Lake Saint Louis Restaurant will open adjacent to Dalpens on September 21. Mr. Soulis comes from a family which has been in the restaurant business for years. He himself has fourteen years of personal experience, during seven of which he has operated a restaurant at Jarry Automobile. The Lake Saint Louis will have as one of its main attractions an Italian Chef who will demonstrate in full view his skill at spaghetti making, for the enjoyment of patrons, and the enticement of passers-by. Attention! You may be hungrier than you think!

Ontario may profit by a Carleton University regional entrance scholarship awarded in Quebec. The Dorval girl, 17-year-old Wendy Mathews, who was enterprising enough to make application for the $1,000 scholarship, announced in all the High Schools, and clever enough to win it by making the highest mark among Quebec applicants, would like to teach French in Ontario schools. Wendy, who was co-editor of the Lachine High School Chronicle last year, and who has a wonderful record in sports, should distinguish herself in the teaching profession, and we hope she perseveres in her ambition. She comes by the enthusiasm naturally. Her father is vice-principal of Monklands High School.

Noted at St. Stephen's Graduation Exercises: That nice moment when Dr. Pare kissed his daughter as she came forward to receive from him a third year prize: the quiet poise of Miss Donna Louthood, graduate, as she delivered the Valedictory; the witty remark made by Mr. Tagney (of Toastmaster Club fame) in an allusion to English Catholic status in Quebec education. He referred to this group "with no legal existence" as "a remarkably healthy bunch." Congratulations to Miss Krispina Berg, bright scholar, winner of three scholarships and best wishes for her success in Science at Saint Francis Xavier. Congratulations to Ronald Yanick, Scholarship winner, who goes to Loyola College this fall.

Several years ago a displaced westerner, very lonely in a small city in the Maritimes was visited by the Welcome Wagon. She never forgot the lift it gave her, and perhaps that is why she has such enthusiasm for her work now as hostess with the Welcome Wagon. She is Mrs. M. Thomas who does such a fine job of taking a greeting from Dorval churches, clubs, services, and businesses, to newcomers in Dorval.

Mrs. Thoms took me on a Welcome Wagon tour and I saw exactly how this streamlined modern version of the old fashioned housewarming works. After the moving van comes the sleek grey wagon, a 1939 motor loaned for use; the Welcome Wagon, by Hart Motors. Mrs. Thoms carries to the new householder, a neat wicker basket which contains a surprising number of gifts. There is first of all a letter of welcome from Mayor John Pratt, literature from churches and various local organizations, copies of local and metropolitan newspapers, free Gazette delivery for a week, a desk calendar from Manufacturer's Life Insurance Co., a ruler and key case and instruction booklet from Sacco Fuel Oil, a carton of Seven-Up, an attractive large tin containing an assortment of Clarke's soups, a selection of Hygrade meats, free pastries from Holm's Bakery, a household oil tin and free lubrication service card from Cliff Hartfield's Texaco Station, bath oil from Ouellet Pharmacy, an invitation to free afternoon tea at Miss Montreal's, a duplicate key offer and free household gift from Dorval Hardware, one half pound of bacon from Turcotte's Market, free dry cleaning card from Society Cleaners Ltd., laundry credit for three shirts from Toilet Laundries, reduction on fur storage from Lazar's, and a key case from Hart Motors. Really, it was an impressive assortment of gifts to be conjured out of one small basket.

As important as the gifts is the feeling of a community's friendship which vivacious Mrs. Thoms is able to convey. Where she goes, into the homes of lonely immigrants who scarcely speak the language, apartments of elderly people who have given up their homes, and homes of families eager to establish themselves in the city, she has been rewarded by many interesting experiences. She finds that newcomers from Europe especially are overwhelmed by the gifts and gestures of good-will. They can think only of what they may offer in return.

Farewell to Summer: A notice on the bulletin board at the D.R.A. pool on Closing day read: "September 7th, 3:00 p.m. - 8:00 day Total attendance: 73,000." More than 200 swims a day adds up to lot of summer enjoyment.

RED FEATHER SUNDAY: Members of Red Feather's Church Liaison Committee discuss the role their church will play on Red Feather Sunday, September 20th, as plans for the Red Feather Campaign go forward. This year the drive has a goal of $1,925,000, the largest ever. From left to right are: Rev. Callum Thompson, Westmount Park-Emmanuel United Church; Rev. John Simms, Montreal West Presbyterian Church; and Rev. Charles Eddis, Lakeshore Unitarian Church, Pointe Claire.

Forum Features Interesting Talks

The Lakeshore Forum, which started Tuesday, provides a regular meeting-place for people interested in down-to-earth discussions on timely aspects of science, the arts, human relations and public affairs. The programs will be held every second Tuesday this season, except for the month of December, in the Lakeshore Unitarian Church at 14 Cedar Avenue, Pointe Claire.

Two series will be held before Christmas. They are "The Shape of Things to Come" and "Forces Shaping Canadians." The New Year's program comprises series on "Arts and Progress" and "Effective Living."

All talks and panels feature live people who are not only familiar with their subjects, but also know how to present them in an interesting, informative manner. Opening presentations are followed by question and discussion periods where the subject can be thoroughly thrashed out. The object is not to present stereotyped answers to questions, but to examine situations critically and form various viewpoints in order to show them in true perspective.

Dean D.L. Mordell of the Engineering Faculty at McGill opened the first series Tuesday, September 15. His topic was "Whither Our Shrinking World?" A brilliant engineer and speaker, Dean Mordell discussed a few of the imagination-defying possibilities - and problems - arising out of modern technology.

Second speaker, on Tuesday, September 29, is Dr. R.H. Common, Professor of Chemistry at Macdonald College. A northern Irishman with his doctor's degree from London University, Dr. Common will loose both his knowledge and wit on "The Nemesis of the Test Tube." He will tell of the intriguing battle of biochemists to master the egg which, although it can be analyzed chemically, cannot be reproduced in the laboratory. To win this battle would entail unearthing the secret of life itself.

The third topic is "A Walking Giant Stretches," which will be discussed on Tuesday, October 13. Arrangements are being made to secure a speaker with first hand knowledge of the forces at work in the Far East.

The second series "Forces Shaping Canadians" will bring together panels of people from varied backgrounds, who will put forward opposing points of view. Subjects include: "Are Our Laws Archaic?" "Are We Being Brain-Washed?" and "Who Is Picking Our Pockets?" With considerable conflict among various people's ideas about subjects such as divorce, birth control, organization men, trade unions and the welfare state, these sessions would help in winnowing the wheat from the chaff.

All sessions will start at 8:30 and coffee will be served at 10. The Sponsor of the Forum - the adult program committee of the Lakeshore Unitarian Church - invites everyone interested to attend any or all meetings. There is no admission charge, but a collection will be taken to defray expenses.

Poor Vision Leads To Traffic Accidents

Poor vision and the lack of regular eye examinations by motorists was blamed last night for the sharp increase in traffic deaths during the past few years.

Dr. P.E. Talbot, President of the Visual Welfare League, and Dr. Louis Vallières, National Chairman of the Association's "Better Vision Week" campaign, appealed to Canadians from coast to coast to "prevent death behind the wheel and injuries to others by going - in time - for a thorough eye examination."

Here, a large number of invited guests attended a meeting organized by the local branch of the Visual Welfare League where their warnings were discussed.

The two leading optometrists are supported in their views by Dr. Robert Fournier, President of the Quebec Analytical Optometry Association.

Recent tests made by the Association revealed that 60% of motorists lack the ability to focus their eyes quickly, and cannot judge depth and distance correctly.

Dr. Vallières said: "Such drivers do not necessarily need glasses and their visual problem does not show up in regular tests with a wall chart. Such drivers suffer from slow or lazy eye muscles, which in turn may cause a momentary delay in focusing when changing the vision from one side of the road to the other, or in looking up from moving traffic to a road sign or traffic signal."

"Rapid tiring of the eye at night, soreness of the neck or headaches, are definite warning signals to motorists that they are suffering from some eye defect. They should reduce their speed at once and seek optometrical advice as soon as possible."

Visual defects of this nature, equally common among people who wear glasses and those who do not, are highly correctable, the Association's survey stated. Dr. Vallières suggested that Canadian drivers play it safe by going for a periodical eye check-up.

Anglican Church in the Church Hall, corner of Thrush and Brookhaven, from 2 to 4 p.m.

The P.B.C.A. Annual General Meeting will take place in the Community Hall commencing at 8:00 p.m., preceded by the Annual Dinner at 6:45 p.m.

GIVE THE UNITED WAY

A HOME FOR PAULA

When she was three years' old, Paula's parents were both killed in an automobile accident. She was left orphaned and desolate, with a badly torn leg that required nearly a year of treatment, in and out of hospital.

Paula had no relatives, but the Red Feather's "Children's Service Centre" was able to find her a permanent home with a suitable couple who wanted children, and loved Paula on sight.

Paula, we are sure, will have a happy family life. But there are hundreds of other Montreal children in desperate need. Every year, for one reason or another, we must find them adoption homes or foster parents.

The "Children's Service Centre" is only one of the Red Feather's 31 different services. When you help one you help them all. And they need $1,925,000 to carry on in 1960. Make YOUR pledge to give something now ... something later.

WILL INSTALMENT GIVING MAKE IT EASIER FOR YOU TO HELP OTHERS? You may be short of funds when the Red Feather canvasser calls at your door. It may be easier for you to pay a little at a time ... something now ... something later. We will be more than happy to accept your pledge to pay by instalment.

The work of the 31 agencies in the Red Feather group goes on day-in, day-out throughout the year ... aiding the sick, the desolate, the homeless and the handicapped. The money that helps us to do this work is welcome any time.

Just let us know how much you can give week by week, month by month, quarterly or pay-day by pay-day. Our objective of $1,925,000 is a minimum designed to cover the entire twelve months of 1960. And every dollar ... every cent counts! So if you can't give much now, give over a longer period. SOMETHING NOW ... SOMETHING LATER!

Distinguished officials of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics in Montreal are studying Canadian methods in factory and general building construction, particularly related to the Mechanical, Electrical and Air Conditioning trades.

At the request of this Department of our Government, Canadian Comstock Company Limited, Montreal, are arranging for them to visit typical plants in and around Montreal, review various engineering techniques and other matters of their interest. The picture portrays an initial visit to the Canadian Comstock Company Limited on Monday, Sept. 14th. The order of seating is - right to left:

Step Nearer New High School

Possession of fifteen acres on the Elm Ridge Golf Course to meet future Catholic high school requirements in Dorval, will become a reality within a month's time, it was announced by Mr. Guy Pager, Chairman of the Dorval Catholic School Commission, in an address to graduates and parents at the St. Stephen's High School graduation exercises last Friday evening, September 11th.

Mr. Pager pointed out that a large grant from the Quebec government and aid asked of Federal authorities had made possible an enlarged program for Dorval Catholic schools this year.

Mr. Pager also stated that a resume of Commission expenditures for the 1958-59 school year should be available shortly to every Catholic taxpayer in the City. He pointed out that with the cooperation of City Hall, school taxes had been collected early this year.

While on the subject of expense, he drew attention to the fact that higher salaries than in Montreal are paid teachers in Dorval. This, he said, allowed the Commission to set very high standards of training and achievement for teachers entrusted with the instruction of the children.

During his talk, Mr. Pager expressed high praise of Dr. P. Pare for his unselfish devotion to the work of the Commission, and Mr. M. Bergeron in his capacity of Secretary-Treasurer.

Motorcoach Tour To Highlight 1960's Top Events

Two outstanding events will highlight the 1960 travel year -- the Passion Play and the Olympic Games.

Scandinavian Airlines System and Percival Tours, Inc. will feature these top attractions in the Club Tour - 1960, a well-balanced 39-day itinerary offering an overall view of the European scene.

The Passion Play, which is staged once every ten years, will be presented in the little Bavarian town of Oberammergau as it has since its first performance in 1634. The dramatic reenactment of the Passion of Christ attracts thousands of visitors from all over the world. Rome will be the host city for the Olympics, and reports indicate that hotel reservations there are already at a premium, if not impossible to obtain. Confirmed hotel accommodations and tickets to the events are built-in features of the tour.

SAS has scheduled six Club Tour departures from its four gateways; New York, Montreal, Los Angeles and Anchorage. Transatlantic and transpolar transportation will be by Douglas DC-8 jetliners which will join SAS' fleet early next year.

All six tours include the Passion Play. Passengers leaving on the first three departure dates (May 20, June 10 and July 8) will take a two-day extension from Rome to Naples, Sorrento and Pompeii. Those on the last three (August 5, 12 and 19), will remain in Rome for the Olympics which open August 25.

New York and Montreal passengers begin the tour in Edinburgh and the Trossachs. Los Angeles and Anchorage passengers join them in London for comprehensive sightseeing in the city and through the Shakespeare country. The tour crosses the North Sea by steamer to the Hook of Holland where it transfers to a private motor coach designed especially for "travelling parties."

The Continental route passes through the Dutch and Belgian countryside into Germany for a Rhine River trip; ranges through the Black Forest into Switzerland, and crosses the Aarberg Pass into Garmisch and Oberammergau.

The itinerary includes visits to the Austrian Tyrol; the postage stamp countries of Liechtenstein, San Marino and Monaco, and Italy's great art cities. From the French Riviera, it continues on over the Savoy Alps by way of Grasse, Grenoble, Geneva and Dijon to Paris where the conducted portion of the tour ends. However, group members have three days in Copenhagen before they leave for home on SAS' DC-8 jet express.

Based on present air tariffs, the all-inclusive cost of the tour is $1293 from New York or Montreal; $1439 from Los Angeles, and $1553 from Anchorage. Complete details are available from SAS offices, Percival Tours, Inc., of New York and Los Angeles, or local SAS travel agents.

The dogs so frequently photographed with Her Majesty the Queen and other members of the Royal Family are Welsh Corgis of the Pembroke variety. They are a small good-natured dog whose special talent, states The Canadian Kennel Club, is in herding sheep and cattle, and serving as a watchdog over livestock and property. While not so well-known in Canada, a number of Corgis are to be found on Quebec farms and some excellent breeders are located in Quebec, Ontario and British Columbia.

Diary of a Vagabond

BY DOROTHY BARKER

Now that I am home, incidentally preparing for another trip, I like to look back to the recent day when I took the Dayliner from Regina to Saskatoon. I was thrilled at the time to find that for miles we rocketed along in the extended verdant growth of the lower Qu'Appelle Valley. Fat, sleek cattle grazed on the lush grass and seemed almost superintelligent as they avoided the noxious areas that seemed so tempting, covered with prairie sage.

From my window I could see the farms where these beasts could boast an owner. They were quite different from my idea of western homesteads. The houses were trim and neat and beside each one was a healthy kitchen garden. The barns were disappointingly small, but then I realized most of the cattle are sold for beef after they have fattened all summer on the range.

Wild roses and pale pink morning glories twined about the fences along the tracks and at one stop I saw a sign that intrigued me. It took up all of the flat front of the little store and read "Vickery's Gen Store"; the abbreviation meaning the store's stock consisted of everything from soda crackers to high rubber boots. In a "Gen" store on the prairies, I am told, you can buy almost everything from corset stays to pumpkin seeds.

The red and gold sunset, low on the horizon, made me feel that old Sol intended floating right into the Dayliner for the night. In the mountains, or in any other part of Canada I have visited so far, one looks up to the setting sun. Not so on the prairies. There the sun seems to be laying the promised pot of gold from the end of the rainbow right at one's feet as it slips below the flat, thin line of far-away pastures.

I awakened next morning well on my way to the west coast. Beside the tracks, motorists raced along the Trans-Canada Highway every time it came in view. Where several of them had purchased the antlers of deer they had strapped on top of their cars, I could only guess. They were not an uncommon sight, nailed to the doorways of cabins that cling to the railway right-of-way. In fact, I grew quite accustomed to seeing bear or deer skins stretched on barns, or sheds, in some stage of being cured. These either end up on the floor of the natives' huts or in some posh den of the perpetual tourists, for the inhabitants have a price on everything they own. It is said.

After we passed Hinton, Alta., where mountains of cut wood attested to the fact that here was the largest pulp and paper mill in the west, I noticed the wild flowers had changed character. Where mauve and yellow had predominated in the colour spectrum of the prairies, now vivid orange and the red of the Indian Paint Brush and wild galdardias painted the scene with a bright splash.

We had a half-hour stop at Jasper and, as I was to visit this haven in the heart of the mountains only on my return journey, I strolled in leisurely fashion up the main drag. I should never enter a shop, or ask tourists where they bought the "cute little covered wagon", for it is one sure way of running the risk of missing my train.

I was waiting for my change in a fascinating Jasper shop simply jammed with gifts guaranteed to capture any tourist, when I looked at my watch and realized I had just two minutes to run two blocks and board the train before it pulled out of the station. Clutching the miniature covered wagon, twelve scenic postcards and a souvenir brochure of Jasper Park, I sprinted like a deer down that hot street, over a low cobblestone fence, and arrived at the tracks just as the sympathetic conductor, who had been watching my progress, gave the signal to the diesel engineer to get going.

I was almost as breathless later in the afternoon as day closed down on the exciting race the train was having with the Fraser River. My only compensation was that on my return, I would see all this glory by daylight, for Canadian National Railways officials have been thoughtful enough to route their crack transcontinental train so that their passengers see all the mountain glory, either going or coming, on their holiday journey to the west coast.

Premier Maurice Duplessis, the man who led Quebec's destinies for 18 years, is laid to rest in St. Louis cemetery, Three Rivers, beside his father and mother. His funeral, one of the largest in Canada's history, was attended by an estimated 60,000 people, including many of the highest dignitaries in the land in the political, religious, judicial, industrial, and military fields. Cardinal Leger and Msgr. Maurice Roy of Quebec, Primate of all Canada, headed the delegation of Catholic Church leaders at the graveside.

Churches Urge Red Feather Support

Close to 100 Protestant and Orthodox churches in Greater Montreal will take part in activities this coming Sunday (20th) centered around the Red Feather Campaign for $1,925,000.

September 20th has been declared Red Feather Sunday by the Red Feather Church Liaison Committee headed by Canon Ralph R. Latimer, Rector of St. James the Apostle.

Congregations will hear speakers on Red Feather and many ministers will make a special plea for members to give full support to the 31 agencies whose welfare and health services benefit nearly every community on the Island of Montreal.

A special message signed by all members of the Church Liaison Committee, as official representatives of their denominations, has been sent to every Protestant and Orthodox Church. The message states in part that "The most careful budgeting makes this objective the minimum required for the year's needs. The work of these agencies, covering the fields of family welfare, child care, health and recreation, both in Greater Montreal and in the surrounding suburbs, is performed by experienced, devoted, efficient workers who are qualified to make the best use of the money given. In this appeal they, in effect, are saying to us: 'Give us the resources and we will do the job'. That job affects the well-being of nearly 100,000 people."

C.W.L. MEETING

Catholic Women's League, St. Veronica's Parish Council will hold their membership meeting Wednesday evening September 23rd, at St. Veronica's School Hall, Dorval at 8:15 p.m. Members are requested to attend and bring friends. Refreshments will be served.

The Dorval Dukes defensive line-up neatly blocks an attempted touchdown plunge by Westlake in this dramatic shot taken at last Saturday's Lakeshore Minor Football League opener at Courtland Park. Dorval won 18-13.

OUVERTURE OFFICIELLE LA SAISON DE QUILLES

Le 14 septembre, le Comité de Dorval faisait l'ouverture officielle de la saison de quilles 1959-60. A cette occasion, le Rev. Pere P. Piette, nouveau cure de la paroisse "La Presentation", presida la ceremonie accompagnée de Armand Verrier, marguillier et Roland Boyer, marguilliers. M. Rene Anglignon, nouveau gerant du Centre "Paroissial", ainsi que M. Frederic Guindon, gerant de la salle de quilles, etaient aussi presents.

Tous les quilleurs ont remarque avec plaisir et satisfaction, que les allies avaient ete remises a neuf et que la plus grande propreté regnait partout. C'est le desir de l'administration de faire tout en son possible pour donner un service courtois, non seulement aux joueurs de quilles mais aussi a toutes les organisations tant sportives que sociales, culturelles ou charitables. Nous voulons que "chez-nous", vous vous sentiez "chez-nous". Nous souhaitons donc, a tous et chacun, la plus cordiale bienvenue.

HUNTER'S FAVOURITE

A favourite among hunters in Europe for generations, the Brittany Spaniel is now gaining attention in Canada. He is the only pointing Spaniel, and is being used on all upland game from woodcock and grouse in the east to Hungarian partridge, sharp-tailed grouse and pheasant in the west. For further information on this interesting breed, write The Canadian Kennel Club, 667 Yonge St., Toronto, Ont.

Special Offer - Variety In Adult

It seems that a losing team for some reason or other has more team spirit than a winning team and it goes right up to the coaches and managers. One of the best points of Little League is that it is all on a voluntary basis. If the coaches give their time and effort it is free and there are no strings attached. If the boys work very hard to make the team and learn all they can, and also gave up many other pleasing activities in order to follow the team's practices and games, it is again of their own free will. If parents & families give up parties, excursions and many other things so that their boy can play Little League, it is again of their own free will and you would have to go far these days to find another part of life where everything is done so freely and willingly by everybody, adults and children alike.

There is nothing more rewarding for any coach and for that matter, for anyone who does volunteer work, to have a boy come up after losing thirteen straight games in a row and say "Well coach, we may not be the best team in the league, but if I have a chance to play next year I will be very proud to play on your team". Or have a boy come to your home one day, a boy you hadn't seen for a couple of years - and at 15 years of age, say "You were asking for volunteers for your Little League this year. I remember when I played for your team a couple of years ago and all the fun we had and the good time all the boys spent in Little League activities. As I will be away all summer I can't volunteer as I would like to do, but I have been saving on my weekly allowance and here is my donation to help provide for the boys what I received in Little League some time ago."

The DORVAL DUKES opened their 1959 season with a nice victory over Westlake Saturday morning by the score of 18 to 13. The game scheduled to be played at St. Annes on the MacDonald grounds had to be cancelled and both teams moved to Dorval at Courtland Park and played their first game of the season. Just now the Westlake team is without a playing field but hopes to be able to get a place to play their home games soon.

As the score will tell it was a close game. Touch-downs were scored by Kevin Morris recovering his own kick; then Art Cross went for another major on a running play and the third and last touch-down was scored when Bernie Rodtwitt recovered a Westlake fumble in their own end zone and the Dukes went on to score what proved to be the winning points in the game.

The next and very important game will be played Friday, September 18th at the Lachine Stadium at 8:00 p.m. when the Dukes meet the powerful Lachine Lakers and it should give us a very good idea of what the season will be. Lachine is rated the top team in the league again this year but the Dukes proved that they can beat them and will certainly do their best to take the lead in the league. A victory now is very important and we hope that our Dukes will come up with that big win. All football fans are invited to support the Dukes at Lachine next Friday. Kick-off time 8:00 p.m.

YMCA Offers Variety In Adult Evening Program

Program officials of the Lachine-Dorval YMCA have just announced a series of afternoon and evening classes and activities for men and women.

Heading the leisure-time program for adults is a series of informal courses. Millinery, effective reading, linoleum mosaics, metalcraft, ladies' day out, beginners bridge, study-discussion groups, sewing, painting and sketching, smoking and a short course on Christmas decorating will be included. Most classes will meet once a week for ten weeks. Qualified instructors will be in charge of each class it was reported.

The effective reading course which starts on Tuesday, October 6th, is designed to teach a person to read much faster and to increase his capacity to get clear, accurate meaning from the printed word. This course develops the "thinking" skills as well as the visual skills of reading. Instructor for this course is Mr. Lea M. Read who has led similar courses for educational and business organizations. Mr. Read is lecturer in Personnel Management, Human Relations and Executive Training at Sir George Williams College.

The course in painting and sketching is open to both beginners and experienced students. Elementary and advanced sketching and drawing from still life and models will be included in the art program. Instructor for this course is Mr. Andrei Zadorozny of the Montreal Museum of Fine Arts. Mr. Zadorozny is well-known for his own works as well as for having taught for many YMCA groups during the past years.

A new adult program to the Lachine-Dorval YMCA this year is a six weeks study-discussion course entitled "Living With Yourself and Others". Feeling comfortable about other people and being able to meet demands of life are the three basic elements of a wholesome mentality. These subjects will be discussed along with the use of specially prepared films by participants of the group. This program is being presented by the Lachine-Dorval YMCA in cooperation with the Mental Hygiene Institute. A professional leader from the Institute will lead the discussions.

Registrations for adult activities may be made at the YMCA now. A brochure giving dates, rates and further information is available on request by calling the Lachine-Dorval YMCA at ME 7-2511.

Over 500 Pupils In New Jewish Peretz School

When the new Jewish Peretz School opened its door last week, there were over 500 pupils enrolled in the 24 classes of the different Day and Evening courses, revealed the Principal, Mr. Jacob Zipper.

This new school -- located at 7950 Wavell Road and which will replace the old 120 Duluth Street school -- was built with aid of representatives of various cultural and educational bodies as well as a number of influential community leaders under the auspices of the Louis Zuker Jubilee Committee. In accordance with their decision, the new Peretz School was named for Louis Zuker, one of the most deserving community leaders in the city, and will be presented to him as a gift on his 70th birthday and 50 years of untiring devotion to the Jewish community of Montreal.

A group of 30 qualified teachers will conduct daily classes in Yiddish, Hebrew, English, Bible Study and Jewish History, in addition to the full curriculum prescribed and approved by the Protestant School Board of Greater Montreal, said Mr. Zipper.

History and Aim

Founded in May 1913, the Jewish Peretz School in Montreal has always exerted itself on continuous devotion to Jewish education. The aim of the school is to educate the Jewish child to become a responsible citizen in the land of his birth and to help build a strong Jewish future.

To date, this institution counts 40 graduating classes of their Elementary School, 18 graduating classes of their Junior High School and 10 of their Senior High School. Among the thousands of former students and over the 900 graduates may be found many authors, journalists and artists of renown, teachers and community leaders who occupy positions of trust both on this continent and in Israel.

The new Jewish Peretz School will also fulfill a great need in this district by serving as a cultural center for adults. Plans are now being formulated to sponsor a broad educational program for adults through special courses and forums.

The opening of this new school, is a great victory registered by the Jewish citizens -- like Louis Zuker -- who devoted their life for the survival of the Jewish culture in Canada, concluded the Principal.

Strathmore United Church Visitation Evangelism

Some forty elders and other members of the Strathmore United Church will undertake a special visitation this month in many homes of the community. They will go forth in teams of two with the purpose of talking to people about the things of God.

Realizing that people often have doubts, difficulties and misunderstandings about the meaning of being a Christian, it is the desire of the visitors to share with others their experience of Christ.

This method of visitation is patterned on the practice of Christ in sending forth the Seventy, two by two, to declare the Kingdom of God.

Young people, as well as men and women, will join in the visitation, which will be conducted from 21st - 24th September.

The visitors will be given appropriate training and then commissioned to their task at the morning services on 20th September.

Dorval Churches Participate In Lakeshore Project

News has been released that the St. Andrew's Anglican Church and the Strathmore United Church are participating in the Lakeshore Sector Project again this year.

The campaign opened officially with a Training Dinner Meeting at Valois United Church on September 16th, and will continue until Visitation Sunday, November 15th.

Dictionary terminology defines the word "Sector" as a part or area, and this terminology may be applied logically to the project now underway. Sector is part of the Church's overall effort to increase the individual's awareness of his or her Christian responsibilities. Sector's theme, "IN HIS SERVICE", is aimed at developing increased participation in a programme designed to meet the needs of a growing Church, locally, nationally, and throughout the world.

Information dealing specifically with various phases of this year's Sector project will be released in due course. All families associated with the participating Churches are urged to acquaint themselves with Sector, not only through the medium of the press, but also by participating in the work involved, and by offering suggestions and recommendations which will contribute to the success of the project.

Winner of the contest was Eric Wilson of Pointe Claire who typed for 21 hours and 12 minutes to win a Remington Quiet-Riter Portable Typewriter. Second prize of $50.00 was shared by Doff and Bullock who lasted 18 hours, 6 minutes.

Sponsored jointly by Duke's Gift Shop and Remington Rand, the "Typathon" started off with twelve contestants at 6:30 p.m. last Friday evening and ended Saturday afternoon around 3:45 p.m. Each entrant was allowed a three minute rest period every hour but otherwise had to type continuously. Arrangements for the contest were coordinated by Mr. W. Melvin of Duke's Gift Shop and Mr. R. Valentine of Remington Rand.

Red Feather Supports Homemaker Service

Can there be a substitute for Mother?

Under certain circumstances there can - thanks to a group of women who work for the Homemaker Service, a unique family-help program operated by the Red Feather Lakeshore Welfare Services.

What is the job these women do? They help families stay together in times of emergency - not by giving money or medicine but by doing the chores and supplying the comfort that mother usually supplies. Family emergency, they know, can arise overnight. It may be caused by illness, accident, death or by a happy event such as the arrival of a new baby.

Director of Lakeshore Welfare Services is Mrs. Mary Coulter. "We feel that the Homemaker Service is one of the most concrete forms of assistance we can offer the public and we know from experience that people in every economic category need it," she says.

From her office at 15 Cartier Avenue, Pointe Claire, Mrs. Coulter dispatches homemakers to homes all along the Lakeshore.

Recently the agency sent a homemaker to a house in Dorval where a mother had a breakdown following the birth of a fourth baby. Because a homemaker was able to take charge of the home and care for the children, the father was able to keep his family until together the mother regained her health.

As far as possible, the Homemaker Service attempts to fulfill all legitimate requests. Mrs. Coulter admits, however, that because of the shortage of staff this is sometimes not possible. "We hope for an increase in our budget so that we can pay salaries that will attract homemakers who meet our standards," she says.

As part of the Lakeshore Welfare Services, the Homemaker Service depends on the success of the annual Red Feather campaign for its support. When you give to Red Feather you ensure the continuation of this necessary human service.

This year the campaign for the support of 31 Red Feather agencies runs from September 21st through October 5th and has an objective of $1,925,000.

Lake St. Louis Anglers' News

The Directors are holding a meeting this Thursday, September 17th. This is the first meeting they have been able to hold for several weeks. Please try to attend on time, 8:00 p.m.

There is a local club here called the Lachine Fishing and Boating Club which appear to be doing the same work as our own club and have similar aims, i.e., to protect the game laws and help conservation. They, too, are members of the Que. Federation of Fish and Game. With this club and ours we should be working together in the matter of cleaning up our shore line and a few other projects.

The Dance tickets are going very well and the talk is that this dance will be our best, so members don't miss this affair on September 19th. We have the usual door and other prizes, and to one lucky person a beautiful Kodak Camera worth approx. $70.00.

Fly tying will start soon. Anyone wishing to join this class, please phone me at DO-5-0626 or write to the club at 3051 St. Joseph St.
