Super Bowl Thoughts and Season Recap

The Super Bowl year in and year out is the most watched, hyped, analyzed, scrutinized and wagered event in the U.S. It's the game where gambling goes from being a sort of "taboo" among the general public to something tens of millions will partake in.

Because everyone wants to have a little "extra" something on the big game whether it be Super Bowl squares, side or total or the more than 1,000 Super Bowl prop plays, demand is at an all-time high for handicappers to deliver their customers winners on the big game. As for us, we think betting the Super Bowl side or total is mainly a "sucker's bet" as there is so much more value on a weekly basis during the regular season when there is 60+ games to choose from in college and the NFL combined. If you disagree with us and think there is a lot of value on the Super Bowl, look no further than the graph on the bottom right of this page. The Vegas books have shown a profit in 32 of the last 34 Super Bowls.

We feel there is much more value in the props market in the Super Bowl and that's why we give out a half-dozen or more prop bets every year to VIP customers. As for this newsletter, we did power rate this game at "Pick". The Eagles have the better roster but the Chiefs have the better HC and QB. Right now at the current line, we lean with Philly +1.

Win or lose, we would rather you judge us on the entire season where the VIP football best bets (including bowls and playoffs) have gone 79-56-2 (58.5%). That's the second time in the last three seasons we have been close to 60% for the entire season with our VIP selections. All-time we are now above 55% the last 10 years with our newsletter and VIP best bets.

Obviously we couldn't have had a successful last ten years without your support and patronage. Again, we can't thank you enough that you took a chance on us and for that we'll be forever grateful.

As far as the future goes, we are betting more and more each season and that will continue to get added focus. However, we will still be offering a VIP email and telegram service next season for $499. If that is out of your price range, we will still be releasing weekly CFB/NFL write-ups on every game, CFB power ratings, logs and opening line bets just like we did this past season. That weekly newsletter will be sent every Wednesday at 4pm ET and will cost $50 for the season (FREE for VIP customers). We will also be putting together a 2025 CFB preview with season win total bets, game of year bets, week one bets and Heisman future bets. That preview costs $40 and will be released in mid-July (FREE for VIP customers). Finally, you can consume a lot of our information and bets for FREE by tuning in all of our media shows and by following us on Twitter/X.

If you are still interested in any of our services and you are wanting to sign up for next season please check out the back page for special early bird pricing. The VIP services will begin in late spring as futures, win totals and week one become more widely available.

Super Bowl Betting Notes (Reported By ESPN)

-Last year, $185.6 million was bet on the Super Bowl at Nevada sports books. It was the most ever even with sports betting now legalized in nearly 40 states.

-The books have posted a profit in 32 of the past 34 Super Bowls (see below).

-Since Nevada Gaming Control began tracking betting action on the Super Bowl in 1991, the books are up $240 million. Their only losses came in 2008, when the New York Giants upset the Patriots, and in 1995, when the San Francisco 49ers routed the San Diego Chargers (see chart below).

-According to a report released by the American Gaming Association (AGA), Legal American sportsbooks could take an estimated $1.39 billion in bets for Super Bowl 59. The number represents an up tick from the estimated $1.25 billion placed with legal books for Super Bowl 58. Keep in mind, last year the AGA also estimated that $23.1 billion was bet on the Super Bowl from both legal and other channels so legal books are still only a very small piece of the pie.

-Football bettors will look to keep up positive momentum going into the biggest game of the year. In late January, the state of Nevada reported that its sportsbooks took a $5.3 million loss on NFL and college football bets in December 2024 -- their biggest loss on football since November 2012.

EVEN ✓'S SUPER BOWL 59 KEY ATS STATS

1. The team with better win percentage is 1-16 ATS in the Super Bowl since 2023 (Chiefs 89.5% win percentage vs Eagles 85% this year).
2. The underdog in the Super Bowl is on a 16-6-1 ATS run.
3. The straight up winner of the Super Bowl is 49-7-2 ATS.

Philadelphia 25 Kansas City 24. For the second time in three years we get a match-up between the Chiefs and the Eagles. It's just the second time in NFL history that the same teams have met in the Super Bowl twice in a three span. The Bills and Cowboys also did so in back-to-back years in 1992-93. Kansas City's Andy Reid vs. Philadelphia's Nick Sirianni will be the 5th head coach rematch in the Super Bowl all-time. The head coach who won the first meeting straight up also won the second meeting in all four prior instances. That includes Andy Reid vs Kyle Shanahan last year.

The Chiefs are in the Super Bowl for the fifth time in the last six seasons and are trying to become the first ever 3-peat champion. Obviously, the Chiefs are led by their star QB Patrick Mahomes. In the playoffs, Mahomes is 8-0 straight up and ATS when either listed as an underdog or a favorite of less than a field goal. On extended rest (8 or more days), Mahomes is 30-4 SU since 2019. Statistically, the Chiefs were only No. 12 in scoring offense, No. 19 in total offense and No. 22 in ypp this year (including post-season). TE Travis Kelce remains their top weapon outside of Mahomes. The KC D did rank No. 4 in scoring this season.

On the other side, the Eagles are making their 3rd Super Bowl appearance in the last 8 years. They are led by RB Saquon Barkley who is having an historic season with 2,447 rushing yards including the playoffs and 18 TD's. The Eagles have many more weapons as QB Hurts has 752 rushing yards and 18 TD's while WR's AJ Brown (1,199 yards) and DeVonta Smith (954) are more productive than their KC counterparts. The Eagles defense ranks No. 1 in scoring, No. 1 in total defense and No. 1 in yards per play allowed. Vic Fangio-coached defenses have faced Patrick Mahomes eight times. The Fangio defenses are just 0-8 SU and 2-6 ATS and Mahomes has a 10-2 TD-to-INT ratio in those games. However, Mahomes has had two of the Top-10 worst EPA games vs Fangio led defenses.

The underdog has gone 16-6-1 in the last 23 Super Bowls. While we think Philadelphia has the much better roster, the Chiefs have the clear edges at QB and head coach. Statistically, Philly was the much superior team but the Chiefs played the tougher schedule and have winning Super Bowl experience. It's a tough call but we think Philly +1 is the "sharper" side.

Lean Philadelphia (+1) over Kansas City. No opinion on total right now.
