TOWN OF DAVIE OFFERING INDIAN FOLK DANCE & DRAMA CLASS

The Town of Davie will be offering an Indian Folk Dance & Drama Class will start January 9, 2009 through February 27, 2009. The eight-week session will be held Friday nights at 6:00pm in the Shenandoah Park Community Center (14601 SW 14 St, Davie) and instructed by Ranjana Warier. There must be at least 10 students pre-registered to start the classes. Registration closes January 6, 2009.

Ranjana has been dancing all her life and loves sharing her passion for dance. Her training includes a wide range of Indian Classical and Folk dances. Her innovative choreography and performance work have received rave reviews in the U.S. and abroad. The Class will be a fun-filled high-energy dance drama camp designed to provide for young people interested in the performing arts. The class is appropriate for boys and girls. The students are provided with an opportunity to immerse themselves in the thrill of Indian folk arts set to excellent music in several languages. Get ready to travel to the heart of India. Become a true explorer as we study the geography and culture of India through traditional/innovative dance numbers from various regions of India. Together, the students will perform their own play at the conclusion of the class!
