

Never Say Never

I always thought it would last forever
I never said that I was smart
I mean I really knew it
But I never really thought through it
Guess you have to feel in in your heart

You never know what will happen
Every day is a mystery
Every day, everything gets older and older
We're as young as we will ever be

Never Say Never

Always live for every moment
Everything can change
I mean things are going great
Then there's a change of fate
And suddenly only hope remains

Every day is different
Every day is the same
Every day, every one of us gets older
We're as young as we will ever be

Never Say Never

And as the days keep on passing
Sometimes I think that I'm past
But then comes the morning
With its' hope and glory
And I know it's not the last
