

Going Broke vs. Going for Broke

Going broke
means you're losing;
going for broke
expresses your longing.

Going broke
is depressing;
going for broke
is exhilarating.

Going broke
is unfortunate;
going for broke
is testing fortune.

Mismanagement and inefficiency will make you go broke;
inspiration and perseverance will prod you
to go for broke.

Care and circumspection will help you avoid
going broke.
You throw caution
to the winds
when going for broke.

Loneliness and isolation are signs that emotionally you are going broke.
Self-sacrificing love
and total commitments
are invitations
to go for broke.

When assessing your spiritual capital
you notice your soul
going broke,
faith in the Lord
and trust in His providence are ways of going for broke.

True,
when prospects are slim
and your motive is impure, it is foolhardy
to go for broke,
since it is likely
you will go broke.

However,
there are times in life
when, even though
your dreams may
end up in smoke,
it is worth the try
to go for broke!

© Msgr. Walter Niebrzydowski
June 29, 2006
Fr-Walter@nyc.rr.com
www.fatherwaltersparish.org