Confession and the Early Church

November 30, 2018

Lord Jesus, please open our hearts and minds to receive the wisdom of the ages past when you first anointed and appointed men to carry on your work on Earth, through the anointing of the Holy Spirit. Amen.

Well, my beloved family of Heartdwellers, it is time once again to move up the mountain and embrace the words of Jesus, that many have denied and labeled as heresies. But the Scriptures do not lie. So, let's proceed and see what they have to say about forgiveness of sins through an appointed, ordained servant of God. And as we do so, let us examine how the Early Church interpreted and practiced the Scriptures.

Now, in order to do this, I had to pull up some kind of objection, the things that I've typically heard in ministry for years and years and years. Interpretations of the Scriptures that were twisted to deny the fact that the Lord instituted the sacrament of Confession.

So, I'm going to go ahead and read from a source. I'm not going to bother to mention what the source is, but I'm going to read what represents the general attitude from the churches that don't follow the Early traditions of the Apostles. The Evangelical, Pentecostal, Baptist - all the different churches that have a totally separate belief system.

This is commonly what I've heard.

"The concept of confession of sin to a priest is nowhere taught in Scripture. First, the New Testament does not teach that there are to be priests in the New Covenant. Instead, the New Testament teaches that all believers are priests."

First Peter 2:5-9 is what he cites.

This describes believers as a "holy priesthood" and a "royal priesthood." Revelation 1:6 and 5:10 both describe believers as "a kingdom of priests."

Okay - that's the statement. And this is false. And here's why. First of all, the Presbyter and Priest. Those words were used synonymously. How could there be any order in a church without a pastor, leader, teacher someone to administer the sacraments? These were appointed by the laying on of hands, and breathing, to receive the Holy Spirit.

"The English word "priest" is derived from the Greek word presbuteros, which is commonly rendered into Bible English as "elder" or "presbyter."

But that's not accurate. A Presbyter is a Priest.

The ministry of Catholic priests is that of the presbyters mentioned in the New Testament (Acts 15:6, 23). The Bible says little about the duties of presbyters, but it does reveal they functioned in a priestly capacity.

They were ordained by the laying on of hands (1 Tm 4:14, 5:22), they preached and taught the flock (1 Tm 5:17), and they administered sacraments (Jas 5:13-15). These are the essential functions of the priestly office. So, wherever the various forms of presbuteros appear--except, of course, in instances which pertain to the Jewish elders (Mt 21:23, Acts 4:23) --the word may rightly be translated as "priest" instead of "elder" or "presbyter."

That definitely disagrees with this gentleman's idea that there was no word for priests in the New Testament, that they didn't exist. They were the Presbyters.

"In the Old Covenant, the faithful had to approach God through the priests."

No, that's false. In the old covenant people could approach God directly in prayer, but the priest was the only one who could offer the sacrifice for their sins, in the Holy of Holies. Jesus tore that veil when He paid for our sins, but He continues to ask us to carry our Simon's cross as a fast offering for the good of others.

And He even gave us the injunction to carry our cross.

"Is any one of you suffering? He should pray. Is anyone cheerful? He should sing praises. (I like that one.) Is any one of you sick? He should call the elders of the church to pray over him and anoint him with oil in the name of the Lord." James 5:13-14

So, here the word is being interpreted as the 'elders' of the church. But also, it could mean the priests of the church. It's all a matter of which language you're coming from, which tradition you're coming from as to how you interpret presbuteros.

"And the prayer offered in faith will restore the one who is sick. The Lord will raise him up. If he has sinned, he will be forgiven." James 5:15

Now, in 1 Timothy 2 Paul says: "I desire therefore, first of all, that supplications, prayers, intercessions, and thanksgivings be made for all men: For kings, and for all that are in high station: that we may lead a quiet and a peaceable life in all piety and chastity. For this is good and acceptable in the sight of God our Saviour, Who will have all men to be saved, and to come to the knowledge of the truth. I Tim. 2:1-4

So, here Paul is stating that he desires that we stand before God and offer prayers, supplications, intercession for all men. This truly is the work of restoring men to God, the entire purpose of the priest.

Next, he is stating that only one is the mediator (and redeemer) of man—and he is qualifying that in the context of salvation and paying the price for our sins. Redeemed, as if in a transaction, paying the price to free the slave.

He goes on to explain that the mediating of Christ was to pay for our sins. That in no way infers that we should not pray for others to be freed of their sins through the Name of Jesus.

"For there is one God, and one mediator of God and men, the man Christ Jesus: Who gave himself a redemption for all, a testimony in due times." I Tim. 2:5-6

So, it's obvious here that there is some confusion in people's minds about what it means to be the one Mediator. Because anyone who prays for anyone else is a mediator! We stand in the gap. And we're told so many times in Scriptures to take that position. Stand in the gap. Pray for one another. We're also taught to sacrifice for one another - even as the Lord sacrificed Himself for us.

Whereunto I am appointed a preacher and an apostle, (I say the truth, I lie not,) a doctor of the Gentiles in faith and truth."

So, here Paul is declaring that appointment from God to his person to be a preacher - a minister of the Gospel, one whom God has ordained and called out from the general body of Christ, the general priesthood of the Elect, to be an apostle and teacher.

The author states, again, "the concept of confession of sin to a priest is nowhere taught in Scripture."

Well, that's false. But here the precedent is set when people came to John the Baptist, confessing and having their sins remitted. Scripture says that, "People went out to him from Jerusalem and all Judea and the whole region around the Jordan. Confessing their sins, they were baptized by him in the Jordan River." Matt. 3:5-6

And that's a precursor to the new priesthood that the Lord appointed when He breathed on them and said, "Receive the Holy Spirit. Whose sins you forgive, will be forgiven." John the Baptist was a precursor to that.

"And again the people came forward to confess their sinful acts to the apostles Many who had believed now came forward, confessing and disclosing their deeds." Acts 19:17-18

That was in the book of Acts, and it had to do with people who were practicing magic. And they burned all of their books and scrolls that had to do with that. And they repented.

So, the thing we most often hear, as an objection to the priesthood is we are to confess our sins to God (1 John 1:9).

Well, yeah - we confess our sins to God. But there's another dimension to that. You can take it in the 21st or 22nd Century culture. But you need to go back to the New Covenant that the believers in the Early Church practiced. How did they interpret this?

And the author again says, "As New Covenant believers, we do not need mediators between us and God. We can go to God directly because of Jesus' sacrifice for us. There is one God and one Mediator between God and men, the man Christ Jesus." 1 Timothy 2:5

And this was the line I brought up earlier.

This is the scripture Evangelicals hang their hats on to discredit the priesthood, and confession to a priest. Well, what is a mediator? A go-between, negotiator, conciliator, peacemaker, go-between, middleman, intermediary. What is that? That's someone who stands in the gap, again.

So, when we pray for another soul, what are we doing? Are we not standing in the gap and petitioning God for mercy, pardon, justice, and healing?

So, one who prays for another is a mediator between God and man. He goes THROUGH Jesus. But still, he is a part of the mediation. How many times have you experienced, when someone prays for you, that there's a breakthrough and you finally connect with the Lord?

So, this is a very basic teaching that has been twisted to exclude the intercession of the saints and the forgiveness of sins as a sacrament. And confession.

Okay.

Pray ye one for another. One who prays for another is a mediator between God and man, who also approaches God in the Name of Jesus. The Lord has commissioned us to pray for and exhort one another.

When we do this according to God's will are we not standing in the gap for the other soul? Of course, we are. So, let's stop insinuating no one but Jesus can pray for us, no one but Jesus can ask favors of God. No one can fast and pray for us, for a breakthrough.

And no one can forgive sins. Didn't the Lord give us this power when He said, "Teach ye all nations; baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost.

Teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you:" Matthew 28:19-20
And let's stop saying no one but God can forgive sins. Does that sound familiar?

And this is from Mark, the 2nd chapter:

AND again, he entered into Capharnaum after some days. And it was heard that he was in the house, and many came together, so that there was no room; no, not even at the door; and he spoke to them the word. And they came to him, bringing one sick of the palsy, who was carried by four.

And when they could not offer him unto him for the multitude, they uncovered the roof where he was; and opening it, they let down the bed wherein the man sick of the palsy lay.

And when Jesus had seen their faith, he saith to the sick of the palsy: "Son, thy sins are forgiven thee." And there were some of the scribes sitting there, and thinking in their hearts: 'Why doth this man speak thus? He blasphemeth. Who can forgive sins, but God only?'

Which Jesus, presently knowing in his spirit, that they so thought within themselves, saith to them: "Why think you these things in your hearts? Which is easier, to say to the sick of the palsy: Thy sins are forgiven thee; or to say: Arise, take up thy bed, and walk? But that you may know that the Son of man hath power on earth to forgive sins, I say to thee: Arise, take up thy bed, and go into thy house."

And immediately he arose; and taking up his bed, went his way in the sight of all; so that all wondered and glorified God, saying: 'We never saw the like.' Mark 2:1-12 Douay-Rheims Bible

I find it very interesting that the very things Jesus presented as beliefs of the New Covenant, met with such resistance in His day and even in our day by some denominations.

"As the Father hath sent me, I also send you." When he had said this, he breathed on them; and he said to them: Receive ye the Holy Ghost. Whose sins you shall forgive, they are forgiven them; and whose sins you shall retain, they are retained. John 20:21-23 Douay-Rheims Bible

All power was given to Jesus by the Father and through Jesus we receive the same anointing: "All power is given to me in heaven and in earth. Going therefore, teach ye all nations; baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost. Teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you: and behold I am with you all days, even to the consummation of the world." Matthew 28:16-20

Now let's take a look at what was going on in the Early Church as far as confessing to the priest goes:

St. Cyprian of Carthage 250 AD

The Apostle likewise bears witness and says: ... "Whoever eats the bread and drinks the cup of the Lord unworthily will be guilty of the body and blood of the Lord" [He's quoting from 1 Cor 11:27]. But the impenitent spurn and despise all these warnings; before their sins are expiated, before they have made a confession of their crime, before their conscience has been purged in the ceremony and at the hand of the priest...they do violence to his body and blood, and with their hands and mouth they sin against the Lord more than when they denied him.

...Of how much greater faith and salutary fear are they who...confess their sins to the priests of God in a straightforward manner and in sorrow, making an open declaration of conscience. God cannot be mocked or outwitted, nor can he be deceived by any clever cunning...

Indeed, he but sins the more if, thinking that God is like man, he believes that he can escape the punishment of his crime by not openly admitting his crime....I beseech you, brethren, let everyone who has sinned confess his sin while he is still in this world, while his confession is still admissible, while the satisfaction and remission made through the priests are still pleasing before the Lord.

Well, that's certainly a very different interpretation! That confession, the sacrament of confession, than what is offered to us by Evangelicals. This is a whole different perspective. And this is the perspective in 250 AD of the Early Church.

St. Basil the Great 330 – 379 AD

It is necessary to confess our sins to those to whom the dispensation of God's mysteries [that is, the Sacraments] is entrusted [that is, the priests]. Those doing penance of old are found to have done it before the saints. It is written in the Gospel that they confessed their sins to John the Baptist [Matt 3:6]; but in Acts they confessed to the Apostles, by whom also all were baptized [Acts 19:18].

St. Augustine of Hippo 354 – 430 AD

Let this be in the heart of the penitent: when you hear a man confessing his sins, he has already come to life again; when you hear a man lay bare his conscience in confessing, he has already come forth from the sepulchre; but he is not yet unbound.

So, what he's saying here, is he's coming forth out of the grave, but he's still bound in the grave clothes.

When is he unbound? (Augustine continues.) By whom is he unbound? "Whatever you loose on earth," He says, "shall be loosed also in heaven" Rightly is the loosing of sins able to be given by the Church... (Psalms 101:2-3)

Yet those who do penance in accord with the kind of sin they have committed are not to despair of receiving God's mercy for the remission of their crimes, however serious.

Iniquity, however, sometimes makes such progress in men that even after they have done penance and after their reconciliation to the altar they commit the same or more grievous sins....and although that place of penance in the Church is not granted them, God will not be unmindful of His patience in their regard.

There have been those who would say that no penance is available for certain sins; and they have been excluded from the Church and have been made heretics. Holy Mother Church is not rendered powerless by any kind of sin.

And that's from Augustine of Hippo.

Okay. St. Ambrose 333 – 397 AD

But what was impossible was made possible by God, who gave us so great a grace. It seemed likewise impossible for sins to be forgiven through penance; yet Christ granted even this to His Apostles, and by His Apostles it has been transmitted to the offices of priest.

St. Jerome 347 – 420 AD

Just as in the Old Testament the priest makes the leper clean or unclean, so in the New Testament the bishop and presbyter or priest binds or looses not those who are innocent or guilty, but by reason of their office, when they have heard various kinds of sins, they know who is to be bound and who loosed.

That's interesting. Can you imagine the people in a church coming to confession, and confessing their sins. And the priest gets the whole dynamic of what's going on in the church. Who is responsible for what. And is given a good look into what the remedy might be.

And you know - we're not talking about having a parish or a large congregation. This is more for family home groups. The way the Lord wants to restructure the churches in very small groups. Tiny home groups, not great big congregations with 500 people. But several home groups in a town or city. And what an advantage it would be to the priest, to know what were the dynamics behind the sin that was created. I mean, that's... It would give him a lot of insight into what's going on. And of course, there's always, always a possibility of corruption. But when the Lord returns, that won't be even possible. Because we'll be governed by Him and His saints and His angels.

Okay. Theodore Of Mopsuestia c. 428 AD

This is the medicine for sins, established by God and delivered to the priests of the Church, who make diligent use of it in healing the afflictions of men. You are aware of these things, as also of the fact that God, because He greatly cares for us, gave us penitence and showed us the medicine of repentance; and He established some men, those who are priests, as physicians of sins.

(That is so true!)

If in this world we receive through them healing and forgiveness of sins, we shall be delivered from the judgment that is to come. It behooves us, therefore, to draw near to the priests in great confidence and to reveal to them our sins; and those priests, with all diligence, solicitude, and love, and in accord with the regulations, will grant healing to sinners. The priests will not disclose the things that ought not be disclosed; rather, they will be silent about the things that have happened, as befits true and loving fathers who are bound to guard the shame of their children while striving to heal their bodies.

That's beautiful. And reminds me so much of the Desert Fathers, who always rush to cover the sins of others.

And this is by St. John Chrysostom 344 – 407

Priests have received a power which God has given neither to angels nor to archangels. It was said to them: "Whatsoever you shall bind upon earth shall be bound in heaven; and whatsoever you shall loose, shall be loosed." [Matt 18:18] Temporal rulers have indeed the power of binding; but they can bind only the body. Priests, however, can bind with a bond which pertains to the soul itself, and transcends the very heavens...Whatever priests do here on earth, God will confirm in heaven, just as the master ratifies the decision of his servants. Did He not give them all the powers of heaven?

"Whose sins you shall forgive," He says, "they are forgiven them: whose sins you shall retain, they are retained" [John 20:23].

What greater power is there than this? ...The Father has given all the judgment to the Son. And now I see the Son placing all this power in the hands of men. They are raised to this dignity as if they were already gathered up to Heaven, elevated above human nature, and freed of its limitations....

The priests of Judaism had power to cleanse the body from leprosy — or rather, not to cleanse it at all, but to declare a person as having been cleansed. And you know how much contention there was even in those times to obtain the priestly office.

Our priests have received the power, not of treating with the leprosy of the body, but with spiritual uncleanness; not of declaring cleansed, but of actually cleansing...What mean-souled wretch is there who would despise so great a good? None, I dare say, unless he be urged on by a devilish impulse....

God has given to priests powers greater than those given to our parents; and the differences between the powers of these two is as great as the difference between the future life and the present....Our parents beget us to temporal existence; priests beget us to the eternal. The former are not able to ward off from their children the sting of death, nor prevent the attack of disease; yet the latter often save the sick and perishing soul — sometimes by imposing a lighter penance, sometimes by preventing the fall.

Priests accomplish this not only by teaching and admonishing, but also by the help of prayer. Not only at the time of our regeneration at Baptism, but even afterward they have the authority to forgive sins....

Great is the dignity of priests. "Whose sins you forgive," He says, "they are forgiven them." The things that are placed in the hands of the priest, it belongs to God alone to give.... Neither angel nor archangel is able to do anything in respect to what is given by the Father and Son and Holy Spirit Who manage it all; but the priest lends his own tongue and presents his own hand. Nor would it be just, if those who draw near in faith to the symbols of our salvation were to be harmed by the wickedness of another.

Okay. And the last one is St. Athanasius of Alexandria I saved that one for the end. And by the way, Ezekiel's Bishop's name is Athanasius. And this is in 295 AD

Just as a man is enlightened by the Holy Spirit when he is baptized by a priest, so he who confesses his sins with a repentant heart obtains their remission from the priest.

Lord, have You something to add?

Jesus began, "I have much to say to My precious ones. There are many reasons I gave this authority over to My priests, more than I could enumerate here. This is a gift of freedom. Freedom from guilt, false or true.

"It was never meant to be institutionalized. No, this was to be a time of intimacy and healing for the hurting soul. For in truth, sin hurts the soul and deprives it of sanctified life.

"My heart is to free each of you from sin immediately when you have recognized and repented of it. This is the main concern. Taking it to a priest who has only your healing in mind gives them the opportunity to share wisdom and insight from My Holy Spirit, so that the sin is not repeated.

"Yes, I know it is difficult for you to reveal your shortcomings to any man. But this also brings you into the realm of humility, without which you will not enter Heaven. This happens when you confess to a priest or to a group. It brings you down to the level of all humanity and engages others in following your example and learning from you.

"To see and understand your struggles is to allow others to deal with their struggles. Continuously, Satan is accusing all of you and trying to make you feel like you alone are the reprobate and there is no hope, as if everyone around you is perfect.

"The moment you open up to another, I fill you with a new grace, a certain humility that frees you from having always to be right or perfect. You are, in those moments, confessing who you are before God and who you are not. This helps to deliver you from the social games of self-righteousness. You can live and breathe freely; you are no longer pressed into proving how superior you are. You are accepted by Me and by the minister, having now been cleansed by My Blood.

“This is a sacrament—that is, a help to bring you to Heaven, standing clean before your Savior. As such, a certain grace is imparted to strengthen you, so you do not repeat the same sin. It is as if you were in jail. I came, unlocked the door and said, ‘You are free now...go and sin no more.’ And with those words My grace accompanies you, leading you away from occasions of sin and into a new, more productive way of feeling and living.

“The absolution from a priest is a mighty gift to deliver you from the grave clothes of sin. Please do not despise nor reject this gift. It is My gift of love and freedom to you.

“I bless you now, My Precious ones, with a portion of My Mind and Heart that you might walk in the fullness of holiness I have called you to.”

New Beginnings & Pastors with Failing Churches

December 4, 2018

Lord, I am so excited about Your Words to me!
“Forget the past and its failures, look and perceive it, I am doing a new thing in your midst.” Wow. Thank you for these wonderful opportunities! Amen.

There is so much I want to share with you, Family. Some amazing things are happening at Heartdwellers. It seems that the persecution from YouTube has elevated us to a new level. We've all come together, tighter than ever, to make things work.

Not necessarily on Vimeo, but as far as our help and family relationships are going. And the plans that we have for the future, for our own website. So, we won't be dependent on any venue.

Well, my first husband, whom I had four children with, decided to come out to Taos to be with his kids—and came on board as a member of our Team. Imagine that! He is a very good person, and in love with Jesus as well; experienced in call centers, he has a beautiful touch with people.

And my daughter, who is a Seer. Has visions, dreams and insights into people and she's deeply devoted to Jesus. She is handling a lot of my correspondence, because I no longer can. In order to make music, dear ones, I need at least 9 hours of time per day, and there is no way that is going to happen unless I start delegating. So, the Lord has sent me some wonderful people to take over. A little bumpy getting started in training, but we're very, very excited about what the Lord has for the future.

I am overwhelmed with joy, because the people around me and on the Channel are going way past me in what they have been taught by Jesus, on our Channel. They are holier, more on fire, more dedicated, more talented—and just bursting with new life! I am utterly amazed at what God is doing. Once I got over the tempter's insinuations that I should be jealous: "How dare they!!" Once I got over that lie (and sent it back to where it came from) all I can do is look around me and rejoice at the ripe fruit dropping everywhere around me! New ministries, as well!

How amazing You are, Lord. Thank you, Lord, for my life has not been in vain. This is so exciting, dear ones—but it will require a bit of patience with me. Please? I am going to be introducing other gifted Seers, so they can share what's going on in their lives and how Jesus handles it. As well as any words that they get about the nation. I will discern these postings thoroughly, rest assured. I want you to receive the best. What is happening in their lives is so rich and fruitful. And I want you to hear what they are doing, and how their relationship with the Lord has grown. It really is exciting!

Many of these have been ostracized from ministering in their churches, because they have taught what Jesus gives us on this Channel, especially the knee-jerk reactions to Mary and the Sacraments. So, they have paid a very high price to grow in the Lord, and we can all benefit from hearing their testimonies. Carol is one. My daughter is another. And a couple on the prayer Team also have things to share.

For the time being, I am not going to give our enemies their names. Suffice it to say, they are amazing, and I do so want you to hear how God is moving in their lives. Some of the testimonials of the Blessed Mother are heart-stoppers, they are so amazing.

I will still be posting messages and teachings as the Lord continues to give me things for you. And I am remaining with you, but shifting the bulk of my work to others, so I am free for music. Please pray this transition goes smoothly. All of them are highly capable. I just don't know exactly how to handle all this help yet, so I can be freer.

Now, a little secret for those of you that are really wanting to talk to me, or really wanting to have situations discerned, or get help with them. The best way to do that is to send a message on Vimeo. Writing a letter is NOT the best way. The reason being is, I don't have time to read all these letters, and then answer them. But I can get on Vimeo and read a message and be able to answer you a whole lot faster. So, right now, we're running a month behind on answers to people who have written in. And a lot of those letters are going to be going to my daughter to discern, because I just don't have the time for them. And she'll pass any back to me that are serious and really need my attention.

So, I'm gonna kinda miss all the beautiful mail I get, but not seeing it all the time. Because some of you are so sweet and so loving. And you absolutely make my day! But I have to do something in order to be able to make any progress at all with the other part of my mission.

Lord, have You anything to add?

Jesus began. (Boy, I didn't expect Him to say this - I really didn't!)

Jesus began, "What you are doing is totally My will for you, and it is right. And a good sign, that those around you should surpass you and out-do you! This is what I want for ALL My ministers. You teach, I empower, they grow and it's time to send them out. It has also been My way to raise up ministries from a pastor's hard work. Sadly, there is Jealousy and Control that hampers the ones I send them, and they end up bearing no fruit.

"I wish I could get it across to you Pastors... You are here to raise up, not hold back, the talented in your midst. It has always been a challenge to let go and let them fly. Your insecurities have killed many of your churches. And the ones that remain, tend to do so out of habit or relationship to the leader's family. Tragic, that so many have been held back. Absolutely tragic. "A church that is not raising up new ministries has serious problems. Jealousy and infighting, controlling and censoring has destroyed many souls I had great hopes for.

"Dear, dear Leader. When I send you people, watch for the ones that are ready to move into their own ministries. Encourage them! Mentor them, assign them, tend to them with love—and enable them to move into their own giftings. Do not tolerate jealousy in your congregation. If you make all the decisions I suggest to you, those who cause these problems—many of them wealthy or influential—will leave your congregation. And that is a GOOD thing. That gives you the freedom to lead your flock according to My wishes.

"There is very little that is more detrimental to the Body than controlling members of the church. I will not be controlled by anyone—and neither should you. Let them leave, and you move into a smaller house to survive. I will bless you with more in My timing, but you remain faithful to Me.

"For some of you pastors, that is a great test. You have grown comfortable in your lifestyle and have fears about the big donors leaving. I would rather have a poor church following Me than an affluent one following each other to nowhere.

"Worship suffers substantially when you bow to the demands of people. The anointed are left out and they wither in discouragement."

Boy, I've experienced this one, first hand...

"Their gift is compromised; their future is altered. Unless, of course, they leave and find a church that will receive them.

"I'm not talking about letting anyone get up and lead worship. What I am talking about is the ANOINTING. When you see it in a musician, you have a heart-dwelling musician. Work with them and raise them up. Do not let them be attacked by jealousy and controlling members of your congregation. Defend the anointing!

“Many of you are still very immature and want to protect your standing in the church. Never should that be an issue. If you are standing before men, but not standing before Me, you and your people are in serious trouble. I cannot do 2/3 of what I want to do in a body of believers because of jealousy and infighting, vying for position, competing to be top dog.

“If you want to be pastoring My flock, Holy Spirit is to be honored over all others. How many of you, right now, are squirming in your seats? Am I bringing something to the surface? Are you feeling conviction?

“I honor your dedication and hard work—but it is all in vain if you do not honor My Presence. My Anointing in those in the congregation that might be looked down upon. I need you to throw off the fetters of comfort and materialism and stand tall for My anointed ones. Stand tall. Defend. Enable! Train up these little ones and watch My Spirit move. Watch your church fill up with people who are hungry for God. Hungry for Me. Not pew-warmers.

“I am with you in this; there is no time like the present. Consider My words and begin in your heart to recognize the anointing in your congregation. And don’t be surprised if those very people are criticized, because jealousy is a deadly poison that is allowed to run rampant and control a congregation.

“I am the ONLY One Who wants to control that congregation. And it's up to you to stand in what I want and to see to it that My will is done. Then My Kingdom will come, on Earth as it is in Heaven. And you will be shocked at the beautiful people who will fill your church, because you are truly moving in My will.

“Rise up, My true pastors and shepherds. Rise up and follow Me. Follow My anointing, for I am with you in this.”

Sherene’s (Rainbow’s) Choice

December 8, 2018

Clare: So, I was told that Grannie Ingrid wanted you to call her and you said that you have a message for them. Could you go ahead and speak that message for me?

Sherene: Well, Mother Clare said that she got the call. And said to call Granny Ingrid, which is my grandmother. I miss you, by the way. And I miss (?) too. I'm gonna try not to cry right now, because I'm just broken hearted at this moment.

Dearest Family. You're probably wondering why I left without saying anything. It will be pretty hard to say anything, anyway. You refused to believe me the first time. I was a normal girl in a world I thought was normal. Well, that changed when I gave my life to Jesus. Then I began to realize things I wouldn't have realized if I didn't (..?) If I didn't look carefully. And now when I thought my life had no purpose, it suddenly does. I can't explain to you in details about what the Lord wants me to do, and how I'm even close to achieving it. And I cannot tell you what He has ordained for me in this life, because this is a walking experience for me.

But I can tell you, I am living by God's law, not the law of this world. And what He says, goes. All I have is (...feet?)

I just need to let you know that He will be protecting me. I am safe. I am under His covering. I shall not be harmed. But before I give you any insight in anything, I must address some things.

First of all, I love you all, so much! And I forgive you. And I forever and always will. I want to say, I am so grateful for everything you all have done for me. And I will continue on to keep you in my prayers. I will indeed miss you all, so much.

But when the Lord calls you, there is no thing, no going back. Remember me always, whenever it rains. Or you see animals or toys anywhere.

The Lord is with you all. You'll see it, maybe small, now. But if the Lord can grant me a miracle, then He can do so for you, too. Get right with God, please! I beg you. If you don't want (..) then say it, "Lord. I hold You in my life. Please, come to me. I believe You died on the Cross for me. I need You. I give my life to You.' Get baptized. And live the Word of God, and I guarantee you will be taken up when He comes for His people.

Time is running out, family of mine. I need you to gain your salvation. I will be safe with the Lord looking out for me.

Looking for me is actually wasting your time. And calling the police also is wasting of time. I'm going on a mission and I'm not coming back. I don't want to come back. I don't know what house I am staying at, but this is what the Lord wants. The Lord told me that nice people, Christian people that will provide for my every need - so I will be okay. No need to worry about me.

And Dad. Before you saying, wasting your time on me, I want to say I appreciate what you did for me. And Mom. I love you. (Shanti? ...) you're my little sister. I wish I could have been there for you, but I love you. Granny. Uncles. Aunts. (Pat ?) My whole family. And any family I won't get the chance to meet. I love you all. I am so sorry that I am not the perfect daughter, but I tried to be, man.

I appreciate the 16 years of hard work you put in. Someday. I love you. Thanks for being a good sister. (Connie?) I thank you and am thankful for all you have done for me. I also say thanks to Bishop - the head of our church. All my friends and people who because of them made acquaintance to me.

Carl, everyone. And (____) you are and still is my best friend. Please don't change that, anyone. Be just the way you are. I had to go. But you'll see me in Heaven. I'm not disappointing anyone here. I'm going to further my education under the Lord's will. I'm going to further my education wherever He takes me. and I will become something in this life or in Heaven. You'll see.

For the person and persons I did not mention, I love you all so much. I am going to be safe. I am okay. You'll see me again. I'll come to visit you all when I'm older, that's if the Lord grants it.

I love you so much. Please give your life to the Lord.
Love,
Sherene.

Clare: Amen. Thank you, Sweetheart. Boy, that's a tear-jerker, for sure. I hope they understand. I really hope they let you live your life. Any way. I'm gonna go ahead and put this together for them, okay, Sweetheart?

Sherene: Oh...?

Clare: I know, I know. It's very hard to say goodbye. Especially to people that you love, no matter how hard it was when you were living with them. You still love them!

Sherene: I...I love them so much. But it's what I have to do. Being an adult means making decisions. And also sacrifice...This is my big sacrifice. But I'm ready to do this for my family.

Clare: Right

Sherene: I do this by myself. Last night, I wrote everything. I just wanted you guys to know that I'm okay. I'll be safe.

Clare: Okay. Alright, Sweetheart. You gonna be okay?

Sherene: I think so...

Clare: Okay. Alright, Honey, try to recover yourself, alright?

Amelia's Dream

December 8, 2018

Dear Fellow Heartdwellers. May the peace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you all.

My name is Amelia, and I am the daughter of Mother Clare. I wanted to share with you a dream that I had the other day. It has quite an interesting story to go along with it.

In my dream, I was standing in a white space, looking beyond myself. In the distance, I beheld the sight of a child pulling a bag of something that seemed quite heavy. She was pulling and pushing, stumbling here and there. But she was quite determined to accomplish this task. Getting up and continuing to drag the bag until she was standing at my feet.

Relieved that she had reached her destination, she said to me, "Hi! Well. These are for you! I have been told that you need to do something with them." She then smiled, and skipping off into the distance said, "Well. I have a lot more for ya, so I'll be seeing you soon. Bye for now!"

Perplexed, I looked around. No one was there. Looked off into the distance where she had faded away. She wasn't there. I had no chance to ask her, "What IS this?"

So, I bent down and, naturally, opened the bag. And it was full of letters. LOTS and LOTS of letters!

Upon waking, I thought, 'How is this significant to me, anyway?' I felt like the Lord WAS trying to tell me something. And that young girl? She was definitely an angel. She had such a sweet, loving spirit about her.

But...letters? What could He possibly mean? I NEVER get letters. Like... NEVER.

So, naturally, I entered into prayer and asked the Lord to guide me and give me clarity on this matter. "What are You trying to tell me, sweet Jesus? What is it that I need to do?"

Hours later, my mother called me and told me about all kinds of letters that need a response. What?! I thought, 'This is it! This. Is. It!' She told me she felt an overwhelming need to respond to every single one. But the Lord has given her so many things to do. And she desperately needed my help.

I was not surprised, as the Lord had already told me. But I felt a huge sense of clarity as my mind had that 'aha' moment.

"Thank You, sweet Jesus," I said. "For the head's up."

I knew that I must help her. I was afraid at first. I mean, how am I supposed to know what to say?? But... who could ever say 'no' to the Lord? For He would never give me a task that I couldn't handle.

So. Of course, I agreed. And from this time forth, I will be assisting my mother with all these letters as the Lord has asked.

Now, I think that it is such a wonderful thing that any moment of clarity that you need, all you need do is ask the Lord. And I also think that it's amazing that I had such a quick response. And for this, I am absolutely and utterly grateful.

Alright, brothers and sisters. I hope that this story that I have shared with you could bring you clarity, possibly in the future, with my role in helping my mother in the ministry. I hope that you all have a blessed day. And may the peace of God be with you.

Bye for now!

Sherene: Jesus Saved Me from Suicide

December 8, 2018

Dear Family, I'm sorry you haven't heard from me for days, because I've been intensely involved with a young woman who ran away from home in Trinidad. Her name is Rainbow, the 16-year-old girl in Trinidad that we talked about several months ago. And we were encouraging her and counseling her to hang in there. She was very suicidal at the time.

And she was in a very difficult and delicate situation, physically. Needing to be someplace safe. And she was under serious threats from her father. There was even a remark about a death threat.

I cannot repeat these circumstances to you at this time, but since you've been on YouTube, on the YouTube Channel with me, you'll remember what they were. But at this moment, I just can't reveal them.

Anyway, she was a frequent visitor, and we commented back and forth for a long time. And thank God. She had attempted suicide and failed. In fact, she attempted it several times, but she survived and found comfort in Jesus.

Thank you for all your prayers for her.

And here's a little more of her testimony, and what's going on in her life right now. And I'm appealing to all of you to pray for her and her family.

First of all, I want you to explain how you met me.

Sherene: Well, I was into the Internet and what not. Then I found your Channel on the Internet. I wrote down in the comments - the comment section - like, I need your help. I'm being abused. I'm being verbally, emotionally and psychologically abused and I feel like I want to kill myself. I feel like I can't do this anymore.

Clare: I need you to give me an example of the abuse. Can you do that?

S: I can...

Clare's sidenote: I've had to edit some of these things out, because of a personal nature. They really are something for Child Protective Services - it's not something I want to put on the Internet. I'm not going to cover the full scope of what she went through. But I'll cover part of it, so you can understand.

C: In your environment at home. In your living environment you said there was a lot of strife and you were constantly being hollered at. Can you explain what you mean by that?

S: Well, it involved my Albinism - the color of my skin.

C: Oh - the color of your skin, okay. She's an Albino.

S: My dad, he's rich but, well... He says he's not, but it's actually true. So, basically, because of that this isn't things that I can't have. And sometimes when I say that, 'why can't I have friends?' He's like, 'Who's these friends? Black people don't care about you. And these so-called friends you have don't care about you. And they're gonna leave you there, and you're gonna fail in life, and what not.'

And it's been that way as long as I can remember.

C: You mean, you weren't allowed to have any friends?

S: It's only when...this is 10th grade. It's only when I got into my last grade of school, that's the last grade for us. He started to be ___ But I thought it would be the right thing to introduce them to him.

C: Right.

S: He tells me that they are bad influences. That he doesn't want me around them. That I can't hang out with them and whatnot. So, ____ No, I don't want you around those people, so I would have obeyed and let them go, and then hung out with other people. And then he would say, "I don't want you hanging out with THESE people." And so, that was continuing.

C: yeah.

Well, here I'd like to say that, I think it's very important that a father knows who the friends are. In my own instance with my four children, I was extremely careful about who they hung out with. They still had friends, but I would watch and make sure that nothing was going on that shouldn't be going on when they were younger. Of course, when they get older you don't know what's going on, when they're not at home. But I would watch their behavior very carefully. And if I started spotting bad behavior, then I knew there was a problem with the friends that they had. So, I don't fault him for that. I think that's wisdom.

But to turn away ALL the friends is a little bit harsh, to the point where she has no-one else. That becomes a problem, because then she's isolated. And that seems to be the theme of the thing that was driving her to suicide all along. Was the isolation and the abuse.

And it's only because I love my children that I was so careful about who they hung out with, so I can understand how he felt about that.

S: I mean, I'm not saying that I didn't have my case of bad friends. I did.

C: Right. So there was some good reason for him to say, 'No, don't hang out with them.' Right?

S: Yeah.

C: But you had some friends that were not bad, and you couldn't hang out with them, either.

S: Not at all, no. I mean, when I would be talking with them on the phone, and I tell my Mom I'm on the phone. She asked me who I am talking to. "Mom, I'm talking to my friends." And then she start yelling constantly. She'd start yelling and yelling, and I'm like, "Mom. I'm talking to them. Why would I lie to you about that?" And then after that, like every time she started that yelling and whatnot, they would never call me back. They stop - they don't want to hang out with me anymore. They don't want to talk to me anymore. They don't want to hear my Mom yelling.

C: Well, I have to say that I totally believe that, because I was on the phone with you, talking to you one day. And met your sister, you let me talk to her for a minute. And then she went in the other room and told your mother that you were on the phone with a friend. And I heard your mother start screaming. And then she told you she was taking your phone away for a month. Which she did do a few days later, I guess. She took it away for a month, and we couldn't talk for a month. So, I know that that's substantiated. I've experienced that. I've seen that.

You think this is just because you're Albino? Did she do this with your other sister?

S: No.

C: So the other sister was allowed to have friends.

S: She never did this before. But I realized that, like, only recently... she started yelling at her. But not as much as she would yell at me.

C: Yeah.

S: I mean, I don't know if it's because of my skin color. I hate to agree so, because mothers are supposed to love their children.

C: Well, do you feel loved by your mother?

S: At times, yes. Other times, no.

C: yeah. Well, I understand.

S: It's like she has two split personalities or something. One minute she's 'I'm gonna hit you!' And the next minute, she's like, 'How are you doing? What's up?' And I'm like, what is going on??

C: Right. Well, and she may have...she may have a mental disorder. You just don't know.

S: Yeah, but I can't tell her that. She'll get mad at me.

C: Right, right. And you know, I want to say that with Ezekiel and I. He had a problem. He had received a lot of blows to the back of his head. And what that does is, it causes the brain to hit the front of the skull, the front of your skull. And what that does is impair the way you deal with situations. They're more likely to freak out and lose your temper and so on and so forth. And who knows what she went through as a child. Circumstances...

S: She was abused.

C: She was abused - yeah. So, you know the cycle continues. The cycle of abuse. It needs to stop here. Because Jesus...

S: I'm trying to break that generational curse, Mom. I don't want that.

C: Right. And you know? You may be tempted to, if you have children, to holler at them. And I was, tempted. But the Lord go a hold of me real quick and He showed me that's not the way. That's not working, all it's doing is upsetting you and upsetting them. There's another way. And He taught me, basically, how to discipline them without making them feel bad. And we all need discipline when we're growing up. Yeah, but none of us need to be put down. Or told you'll never amount to anything. And I guess this is something you heard pretty frequently.

S: yeah...

C: And you've told me that at one point your father kept you out of school for a year? And told your mother to burn your uniform. What happened with that?

S: That's a long story... I really don't want to bring up. But...

C: Were you wild and misbehaving?

S: I'm not gonna lie. I had my misbehaving moments. But as soon as he talked to me about it the first time, I stopped. And I don't know what happened after that. I really did stop, and after that, it just took off from there. He's like, "I'm taking you out of school, and you're never going back there. Burn her uniform." And I'm like, 'Dad. I stopped! I'm sorry! I'm not saying that I didn't do anything wrong.' I've had my wrong moments.

C: Well, what did you do that he considered so wrong that he would take you out of school?

S: Because of my isolation, I didn't want to ask him to go, like to take me anywhere. It's that he didn't have time, or he will say, 'Okay, we're going.' And then we never end up going. Then sometimes he probably call and ask me a lot of questions as to why I want to go. So, I decided Okay. Let me not ask it. So, because of my isolation I wanted to explore. I wanted to go places. So, after school. I....decided to make out with my friends and I went to the Mall. And I know it was wrong. It was wrong. I didn't tell my parents where I was. But I ended up asking him if I could go to the Mall for an hour, and he did say 'yes' that first time, but after that... It was such a cool experience, I wanted to do it again. And then one time, I snuck clothing in my bag. And after school, I went over to the Mall.

C: Is that the reason why he took you out of school?

S: I was friends with someone at the time. Someone dear to my heart. My teacher ended up seeing us walking together now one time. And she told my dad. And then everything just went worse from there.

C: Right. I understand.

I just want to fill in a couple blanks here. I don't have Rainbow on the line right now. She was seeing a young man. And her father didn't approve of this young man. He found out. She was seeing him behind his back. And that's when he took her out of school, and he brought her home. And seriously beat her for having disobeyed him.

S: After that, he took me home from school. And he beat me so bad! I felt horrible! But how can I deny my feelings for someone like that, just because my parents told me not to?

C: I just want to add a little detail here at this point. At the time when she was on our YouTube channel, the young man that she is talking about here was also on our YouTube channel. And I have to say, I have never met such a young person that was so spiritually reliant on Jesus and prayer. He was a very mature soul in the Lord. He was kind of passionate and had a bit of impetuous temper, to say... to put it mildly. He was impetuous and strong. Had strong feelings. Which we all can have strong feelings when someone we love is being hurt.

But other than that, he didn't do drugs. He wasn't a drug runner. He didn't drink. He didn't carouse. I mean, he worked hard at a full-time job. He just loved her. He just wanted what was right and good for her. He really cherished and honored her. And I would look at that as marriage material. But then, the relationship was broken. And I think this is a great deal of what she suffers from right now. That she really cared about him.

S: ...as long as I wanted to ride then. But every time I asked to go somewhere, they tell me 'no'. And if I DID want to go, I have to go with my sister, and my sister stalk my every move. Just to be back to tell them.

C: Right. So, it was like your mother, your sister and your father were kind of in cahoots to watch everything you did. You told me that you were locked in the house. Your mother had the key in her pocket and that you could never go outside? During that time, was that true?

(Bear in mind, this was for an entire year.)

S: Yeah. That happened. I didn't like being inside all day. I mean, I was inside all the time when he shot me from school. So, it was very boring! I didn't have a phone, so there was no social media. No, I didn't have my phone. He took it away. And so, I was bored. So, I decided, you know,in the night. And so, I would go out and fall asleep. And I would be outside in the night, then. I would sit there, and I would just kind of think my thoughts and pray. Think to myself and console myself. She caught me a couple of times. And she thought that I was meeting people outside. And so, she started locking the door from me going outside.

So, I was cooped up in the house 24/7.

C: wow.

S: Because I think somehow after this. You can't expect me to go out in the day, where the sun can affect my skin. But I didn't talk to her that, because I think she would have understood. The kind of connection I really wanted with my Mom was... I would tell her everything, and she'd give me my advice. When she started yelling and reacting that way, always telling me that my father is right, even though he was wrong. And telling me that at the end of the day, my dad, and I disobeyed. And I understand that. When your father is abusing you, how can that be right? I wanted close relationships with them. I just... Felt like I was being pushed away because of their behavior. It's not their fault. It's not their fault at all. It's the enemy that's pushing them.

C: Right. Obviously, the enemy has been pounding you for a long time. And one of the things I want to say is that, when a soul has been heavily abused their entire lives. And they meet Jesus. And Jesus begins to love them and heal their wounds, they are in a perfect position to counsel other souls who are going through the same thing. And I believe, really, Rainbow. I believe that God is preparing you for a ministry. And that it will be a healing of hearts ministry, because you've been there. You know what it is. You know what it is to suffer. You know what it is to want to take your life. And you told me once that you got into such a rage over your mother and your sister - you wanted to kill them! And I can understand that.

S: Yeah. That was bad.

C: yeah, it was bad.

S: I really had picked up a knife and I was going to stab my sister so badly that she'd never... And when I calmed down, my Mom was like, 'Leave her alone! Leave her alone!' And I said, 'No! She deserves this.' And when I realized - what if I HAD killed them? Then they would have never have gained their salvation. Then I would never see them in Heaven. All my hopes for them in seeing Jesus would be nulled. That's why I didn't do it.

C: Not to mention the fact that you'd be going to jail and maybe getting the death penalty, yourself. For doing that.

S: Yeah. That's bad. I wouldn't have the opportunity to be saying this right now. That I forgive them and I love them so much. And I never meant to do the bad things that I did.

C: Well, I think that goes for all of us. There comes a time when it builds up so bad that we just explode. And we can still control ourselves when we explode. But some people can't. But we explode, and when we explode we hurt people. Mentally. Emotionally. Even physically. And that's just a symptom of being pent up. And you've been so repressed in your life, denied so many things. So many innocent pleasures that it was like you were incarcerated. It's like your house was a jail. And after a while, it's just... You cry out to God, but the problem... You're going through this, 'Why is my life like THIS? I can't take it anymore.' You know. And you get desperate.

S: And then at the same time, to me it's like, she doesn't even know. They don't even know that they're doing this to me. And at first maybe because I refused to tell them my feelings. It grew like that. I just got used to being inside, that I didn't want to go anywhere with them at all. Even though they would have invited me to come. Like, I don't wanna go. I'm okay inside. Like, I don't wanna be around anyone right now. I just want to be by myself. Because I feel like, I could just trust myself one way. But all that changed when I gave my life to Lord Jesus.

C: In what way did that change?

S: Well. It helped me see different, to take a picture, like. It helped me understand that killing myself wasn't the answer. It helped me to forgive and to understand that no one was born wicked. You're not gonna hear a little child say that she wants to become someone that robs back. It's always, 'I want to be a comfort. I want to help people.' And so, it's what others go through in life that, you know, what they become because of their faith. And that's how I learned how to forgive them. Because they, too, went through things. But that still doesn't make it okay to treat someone like that. But I do forgive them, because the Lord taught me forgiveness. He taught me to see the good side of them, rather than just look at all the negatives. And that has helped me a lot in making decisions. And becoming, living one step up from a child.

C: And that's beautiful. And one of the things I know that you are attracted to on the channel, as we talked about forgiveness a lot. And we also talked about suffering. How to endure suffering. How to endure suffering and offering it to God for the salvation of the other person.

S: And I've been doing that. Every night I go to bed. And I am down on my knees, begging for mercy for them, because the Lord doesn't take things like these lightly. And so, I decided I don't want to see them perish. I want them to see what Heaven looks like and whatnot. And then I just go down on my knees and like, "Lord!" I'm crying and I'm begging Him. And it's weighing - because it feels like something I wouldn't do, yet I am begging for myself to get out of this. I'm like, "Lord, please. Just have mercy on them. I know they're wronging me, but I just need Your mercy on them, please." I mean, it's like the next morning, they are nice to me. But then after that, they're back to normal. I never stopped. And I will never stop praying for them.

C: Right. Well, and that's what we're called to do. You know, when the Lord was hanging on the Cross, He said, 'Father, forgive them, they know not what they do.' And He'd been terribly abused by the soldiers by the time He even got to the Cross. Let alone what all the Pharisees and scribes were saying about Him. And one of the things that we teach is that we're going to be conformed to Christ. Our persons. We're going to experience the same things that the Lord experienced. And we are formed in His image, even as we live our lives. And when He comes back for His Bride, the Church, He's gonna recognize the ones who have suffered and prayed instead of lashing out and being cruel. Those who have suffered and prayed for others. He's going to see His image in them. And He's gonna recognize His Bride just by that alone, because we were willing to suffer for those who were abusing.

S: I just hope they turn their lives back to the Lord.

C: Well...

S: Really. What I really for them. I don't want anything else, except for them to grant you permission to help me. But also, to regain their salvation with the Lord, so that I may be able to see them in Glory, in Heaven. And know that they made it!

C: Alright. And I know that you would like to separate yourself for a season. But someday, you'd like to at least go back and see them. And spend time with them, as well.

S: Yes. I would love to.

C: And we would do anything to encourage you to do that and to help you reach that goal, when you are ready for that. How many times did you consider suicide, seriously?

S: Um. I've tried it. It didn't work. I've considered it probably more than 10 times. I was cutting myself badly. I tried cutting myself, but that didn't work.

C: You tried what?

S: Stabbing myself.

C: Stabbing yourself. Oh, gosh...

S: But that didn't work.

C: Okay. Well. Just to make it clear to everyone who's listening to this. This young lady was on for probably a good year and a half, and I took notice of the fact that she was threatening suicide. And my heart went out to her. And we started talking. And I told her there was hope. And to wait on Jesus, that He would help you. That's true. And that the Lord would show you what you had to do, right?

S: Yes, indeed. And He has.

C: And He has. And He's rescued you. And I really want those of you who are listening to this. I really want you to understand that you're dealing with a young lady whose had a profound conversion experience with the Lord Jesus Christ. She is totally in love with Him. Like a sister in a convent, she loves Him that much. And you don't understand. A person like that, who's willing to even die for the Lord, unless you've been there. And He, of course, wants to draw everyone into His heart. He wants everyone to know how much He loves them. But this young lady has responded with her entire being to the Lord's call, to do whatever He leads her to do. And I've stayed out of it, to the point where I've told her only to seek God and to seek His will. And that she would have a peace.

S: That's true. You did tell me that.

C: That you would have a peace - yeah. And that you would have a peace when you knew what was right to do. It might be difficult, but you would have a peace. And that under no circumstances should you take your own life. Ever. Right?

S: Yeah. And then I just stopped with everything and it got... After that, I didn't see the need to commit suicide, because I found Jesus. Because I found Jesus, I just loved Him. And it was just clear to me that suicide wasn't the answer. And so, I just started building my faith and my trust in Him. And then I just stopped with the cutting and trying to kill myself.

C: See, this was over a period of months. And you and I would talk, and I would tell you the Lord will deliver you. There'd be different situations that would come up in your environment that would be scary. You know, like your father threatening to take you to some remote place on the island, to move the family. And I told you just, if it's God's will, it will happen. If it's not God's will, He will prevent it. And the Lord did not allow him to do that. That didn't happen, right. And you were so frightened by that

S: I was!

C: I told you each time, you know. Wait on the Lord. Wait on the Lord. Wait on the Lord. And because of that, you're in a safe place right now. And you're able to get your mind back and understand what your life is all about, to some degree. And you've gone from being a little girl to a woman in a very short amount of time. Someone who was persecuted and abused, to someone who recognized that God lives in her. Christ lives in her. And that you have a life. And God is calling you to a life.

And to share with whoever is listening, I want to say that she is anointed. She is very anointed as a person of prayer. A person of intercession. She has great wisdom and great self-control. Most people would flip out and do whatever they felt like. But she suppressed all those feelings in order to wait on God, to see what doors He opened for her. And what doors He closed. And because of that, she's in a safe space right now.

Really, what need to happen, I believe, is that her family needs to release her. Completely release her. A situation with her father is very scary and that's the reason why she wants to be in America. She doesn't want to deal with that threat. And so, we're making an appeal. I'm making an appeal, 'cause I'm gonna share this on Vimeo. I'm making an appeal to you to pray for her. To pray for her deliverance, that she'll be able to be set free and follow her life. Follow what God has called her to do.

And I've told her, I will put you to work, here in New Mexico where we live. I'll give her a job and she'll be a busy lady. A place to stay and everything else. Right now, she just needs to be in a peaceful, peaceful environment and recover herself from the bondage that she's been in 'till now. It's taken her this far, but she's grown up. She's a woman now. And she needs to have the control of her life, so that she can make the right decisions under the Lord. And she'll come to me and ask me, 'What do you think about this? And what do you think about that?' And sometimes I just don't have an answer, so I tell her we just have to wait on God and see what He does. Is that correct?

S: That's true. It's kinda really hard. Especially when you have like, a mental health disorder, like bi-polar. And are accustomed to one way, and the Lord just takes you out of your comfort zone. And He puts you in another. When you really look at this, it's the best thing. And it's like the best blessing.

C: Right. And the Lord has made a way. The Lord has made a way where there was no way. Part of this is an appeal to the parents. And especially the mother, 'cause she has full custody, even though the father tries to usurp that authority. And make decision for the family. He does not have custody. And she just wants to be set free. And basically, in Trinidad, I know there is a rule about that. And it involves a person at least 16 years old or older. And able to take care of themselves. Able to provide a place to live for themselves and what have you. And at this point, I have a job for her where we are in New Mexico. And I would definitely make her substantially self-sufficient. And all of this is in the Lord's hands, on how He wants to accomplish this. But I'm just asking for all of you to pray for her and for her family, who is grieving. But pray especially that there is a resolution that is healthy all the way around.

God bless you Heartdwellers. Thank you so much for your prayers.

Comfort Me. Come Back to Me, My People

December 9, 2018

Father God, in this season we are invited into so many distractions that take us away from Your Son and the true celebration of His Birth. Please, Father. Give us the grace to return our hearts to You and to be a comfort to Your Son, who is left so abandoned and desolate in this season. Amen.

Well, my dear ones. I'm not against celebrating Christmas, as long as the baby Jesus is the heart of the story, and it's not a materialistic orgy. Buying and buying and buying and buying. And that's that way it's been for me for many years. He's had to work very hard with me, to get me to put down that materialism and all the temptations that come this time of the year. And I don't want you to be ignorant. Satan has his minions working very hard during this time of the year, to get your mind off of God and the things that are important. This is one time when he really, really draws you away from God—if you allow it. So, let's return to the true meaning of this time of the year. And whether the Lord was born in December or September is not the point. The point is, we celebrate His coming and the miracle of His birth.

Well, today in adoration and worship, I saw the Lord Jesus in agony, with the crown of thorns dripping fresh blood, tears streaming down His Holy Face. And all I could do was reach out and hold Him, stroke His cheek, and cry. Why, Lord? Why are you suffering this way? He gave me to understand it was over the condition of the world.

Jesus began, "So many have deserted Me, Clare. So many! They are totally caught up in the world and do not see the signs of the times. 'Life goes on,' they say. 'Who knows? Maybe we have another 20 years!' But I say, NO. You do not have another 20 years. Get your house in order. Do you want to be with Me when I Rapture My Bride? Then be with Me NOW in THIS season. Do not abandon Me for the ways of the world.

"Those who lie in bed and suffer, consoling Me, will shine brightly in Heaven. You look down upon them saying, 'Poor thing, such suffering.' But secretly saying, 'I'm glad that's not me!'

"If only you knew the riches of grace I shower on such a one of these. Grace so great, it makes you look like a pauper in rags. And in truth, the more you luxuriate in the world and take in it's many pleasures, the more layers of rags are clothing you.

"How can you change this? Abandon these vain things and spend hours of quality time with Me. Put on your dwelling music, turn off all the distractions, and enter into our Heavenly chamber in your heart."

Just as an aside. Some of you don't know what dwelling prayer and dwelling music is. It's music that touches your heart. It could be songs directly about God, or indirectly about God. But it touches your heart and it makes you want to worship Him and to be in His presence. It leads you to be in His presence.

And what we do, is we have a huge playlist. And we put it on shuffle. And we trust the Holy Spirit to bring up the songs that are going to speak to our heart in this moment. Speak to our situation in this moment. And it works! I have to tell you, it's quite amazing. You really do perceive and understand the Lord through the songs that Holy Spirit chooses for you to hear. So, that's what dwelling music is. And dwelling prayer is just dwelling with Him.

He continued, "Abandon friends, amusements, distractions, shopping. Even abandon the busyness of your ministries and be infused with My Love.

"Yet better still—come to Me, wanting only to console Me— for the sins of this world are beyond reckoning. They are at a level never before seen in history. As Nibiru approaches and the earthquakes become more common, you will see the Earth reacting to mankind, who inhabits it. Yes, you have already seen how the Earth is reacting. But it's going to get much more violent. More earthquakes, more shuddering in the bowels of the Earth for what men are doing to one another on the face of the Earth. And the life that once was so perfect on this planet. The Earth, an entire Eden, but soiled and desecrated by sin.

"I need you, My Bride. I need you to comfort Me. The pains I suffer are excruciating, and I suffer them alone. Oh, what I would give for a tender glance in My direction amidst the busyness of the season! Oh, what I would give for the touch of My Bride on My cheek, wiping away the blood, the spittle, and the tears. I long for such tenderness from you, My blessed ones. Please, please do not forget Me.

"Times are perilous, and I wonder from day to day if My Father will permit one more day to pass. Truly, I wonder. I cannot understand His mercy as He withholds His wrath.

"Some of you will say to Me, 'But You paid the price, once and for all. And now You are free from the cross.' No, no, how mistaken you are! Yes, I paid the price and opened the gates of Heaven for you who repent. But I continue to suffer unspeakable torments as I behold the sins committed against children, the elderly, nations betrayed by their elected officials. Desecration of the Earth, destruction of civilizations, nations, and the environment.

"Do you think I am deaf to the cry of a child stolen and forced into sex? Do you think I'm not there when it's happening, and that I don't see, I don't feel, I don't suffer with that child? Do you think I don't hear the betrayals in marriage, in churches? The back-biting, jealousy, fear and repression? Do you think I am blind to these things? Do you think I do not hear the desperate calling of young ones so abused and misused by their families?

"I hear it all. I see it all. I feel it all. And Rainbow was right when she begged you to repent, for there is much sin in your family. She is crying out to you for Me. She is My ambassador to you, bringing you the warning you have so often ignored in church. In the Scriptures. In the whispering of My Spirit in your hearts. She speaks the truth to you, yet you are so filled with self-interest, you are blind to what she has spoken to you amidst great sacrifices on her part."

Here, the Lord is talking about a young lady, Sherene. Rainbow. That we just posted two videos about. She's 16 years old and ran away from home.

Jesus continued, "Do you understand, My People? This child is but a speck of sand on the Earth. What she cries out to you, I cry out to millions who have no idea where they stand before Me. You are blessed to have this child in your family. And you will not lose her if you let her go. She will mature more and more and serve Me. She will come back to you in ways you never imagined. Grasping at her, locking her up, will only permit the Devil to further demoralize and destroy her, and you will lose the great beauty in this soul that she could have been, had you granted her the freedom she is asking of you.

"But the Crown of Thorns, the tears on My face, and the fresh blood dripping from the thorns is not over Rainbow, alone. It is over you who have hardened your hearts and are losing your souls. It is for the indifferent who say, 'Things are well with me. I will build another barn to store more goods in.' Yet on the horizon destruction approaches. Chaos increases in your cities. Immorality and witchcraft run through your streets like sewage.

"I have given you a foundation of fire-trying gold in My Gospels. What you have built upon that foundation is but wood, hay and stubble, ready to be consumed by the fires of judgment."

And here He quotes Scripture: "For no one can lay a foundation other than the one already laid, which is Jesus Christ. If anyone builds on this foundation using gold, silver, precious stones, wood, hay, or stubble, his workmanship will be evident, because the Day will bring it to light. It will be revealed with fire, and the fire will prove the quality of each man's work. If what he has built survives, he will receive a reward. If it is burned up, he will suffer loss. He himself will be saved, but only as if through the flames." I Corinthians 3:11-15

Jesus continued, "So, I tell you, My dearly loved ones. I miss you. I miss your true worship of Me. I miss your repentance and self-examination to see if your deeds are done in the Light or in the darkness. I long to see justice and mercy in families, but instead I must see jealousy, selfish ambition, unrighteous judgment, dishonesty, repression, adultery and worse.

"I want to heal you of these things, but you must first forgive others. And then I will forgive you. Yes, unconditional forgiveness. I will forgive you, if you come to Me with true contrition and sorrow over your sins. I will wash away the stains and put clean garments on you. I will draw you into My Heart, where you will find rest and contentment for your souls.

"I will do this, because I love you so much I died to have you in Heaven with Me. I cherish each and every one of you, even those who reject Me in favor of secret societies and covens. Yes, I cherish you. I wait for you to come back to Me so that I can bless you with a holy and productive life—a life that will endure in Eternity. A life that will qualify for you to be with Me.

"Come. I wait for you."

Will You Be Left Behind Because of Judging, Anger & Bitterness?

December 10, 2018

Precious Holy Spirit, please come and possess us. Let Your Holy thoughts and temperament and all Your ways change what is left of the flesh in us. Amen.

My dear ones, some of you have expressed a bit of anxiety over whether or not you will be Raptured with your loved ones. I want to address those of you, especially, who have been fighting the good fight—especially against judgment and a bad temper.

Beneath this temper are seeds of bitterness, with layers and layers of disappointment for that seed to grow into a huge, strangling vine. Some of you, dear ones, have allowed yourselves to have a seething temper and a raging attitude against others. I am telling you that unless you conquer that, you will be left behind.

When you hold the sins of others against them, you build up anger and rancor. You are nourishing Satan's seed in the garden of your heart. You are feeding a monster that will choke out all that was good in you and leave you for a bitter, shriveled mess.

You will not stand before God, because you are clinging to the wrongs, or what you feel are the wrongs, of others. It is this way. One who holds unforgiveness in their hearts is offering a chalice of poison to the person who hurt you. But they don't drink—you do. They go on their way with their lives, perhaps not even knowing how you feel about them.

In the meantime, that bitterness turns to poison and feeds a thriving root of bitterness that chokes out everything that is good.

Have you ever met someone who is always on the edge of anger? Always finding fault with others? Always over reacting to situations and ranting? That person has a huge root of bitterness in their hearts that is now bearing very bad fruit.

Were you abused in your childhood? Are you persecuted by those you hoped would love you? These are the weapons Satan uses to put you in bondage, and ruin what could have been good in your life.

Jesus demonstrated to us how to handle the Romans who were extremely cruel to Him. He said, "Father, forgive them, they know not what they do." This is the posture we must have when dealing with wounds in our lives. We can not afford to let them fester and breed with all kinds of bacteria, making our hearts a sewer of indignation and self-righteousness.

Dear ones. Judgment, criticism, hatred—all of these things are like a stinky diaper. The Lord wants us to know we are dealing with people who have been broken, wounded, and never forgave their parents, their boss, etc. They carry around their hatred for everyone and open their mouths to give self-righteous judgements about others—not understanding that they themselves are turning into the same kind of person.

We have an expression around here, when something sounds like gossip. Ezekiel and I will pipe up and say, "Dirty diaper! Uh, uh...leave it alone!" And it works... But that's how the Saints perceive it. It makes a terrible stench for the Cloud of Witnesses standing around. It's a horrible odor.

Rather, the Lord wants us to bind the broken-hearted, to pray for those who persecute us, and refrain from judging. Sure, the abuse is wrong! But don't assign motives to the other person as to why they are reacting that way. Understand that underneath is bitterness and disappointment they let grow to a huge root of bitterness, never forgiving those who hurt them. And what these people need is to know how much they are loved by the Lord. And need kindness, gentleness, understanding, and compassion.

If you react to them THIS way, you are side-stepping Satan's deadly Bitter trap, and you are becoming more compassionate and kind. Loving as Jesus loved—even the Romans.

Our little friend, Rainbow, has Jesus' heart living inside of her. She was abused but tried with all her strength to forgive and pray for them. On the other hand, she is quite human and had her own outbursts of frustration and even vengeance. But because she listened to the Lord, she knew it was wrong, and she repented.

When you say something derogatory to another, you are sinning. When you call names and accuse, you are sinning. When you look down on your sister or brother, you are sinning seriously. When you judge and accuse, you are sinning. God will not take those of you with these faults in the Rapture. You must first overcome your bitterness and inner hatred for others.

The long and short of it, is that if you want to go in the Rapture. If you want to make it to Heaven—you must lay down all your grudges, disappointments, anger, rage, rancor, retaliation, vengeance. Lay them all down at the foot of the Cross and tell Jesus, “Lord, I may not feel like forgiving. But I make an act of the will to forgive them. Lord, please help me.”

Mind you, the enemy will return with an invitation to hate. But you must conquer that with the Love of Christ living in you.

How does the love of Christ come to live in you? By repenting of your sins, asking Him to come into your heart and change you. By confessing that Jesus Christ is your Lord and your life belongs to Him. Soon enough, He will help you forgive.

How does this closeness happen with Jesus? Well, there are many ways. One is meditating on Scripture. Reading Scripture and finding something that really touches your heart. Stopping there and really getting into it. Meditating on that particular Scripture. Holy Spirit, when He touches your heart in that way, is drawing your attention to an aspect of God that's important for you to know.

I also highly recommend what we do, which is Dwelling prayer, which I talk about on this Channel. We have several videos on that. It simply is the act of wooing the Lord into your life and allowing Him to woo you into His heart.

I have many quiet songs that talk about real feelings. Like Kari Jobe’s song, “I Know That You Are for Me”. And Julie True also has very quiet, calming songs about how much He loves you. And I do as well, like “Come to Me”, “Turn to the Lord”, “Be Still and Know That I Am God”.

How do you put a soaking list together? Or a dwelling prayer list together? You find the quiet, deep songs that touch your heart. Bundle them all up on one playlist and then put that playlist on shuffle. I promise you, the Holy Spirit will arrange the order of those songs to speak directly to your heart in that very moment, with all its worries.

If you want some suggestions, please go to our website and find the list of mine that I use. PLUS, I just put up the names of 184 more songs—that should be on the website soon. Also, ALL of our Dwelling Songs on our music channel here on Vimeo. All of them are free to download. So, please help yourself.

I promise you that if you give at least 1 hour of uninterrupted time in Dwelling prayer, He will take all your bitterness and rancor away. But you must dedicate yourself to getting rid of it. One day is not the answer. It is a way of life, every day that helps you become calm and gentle, forgiving and non-judgmental. This will change your life Heartdwellers! You will find out just HOW much in love with you Jesus Christ really is, and just how much He cares continually for you every day.

Lord, do have you anything to add?

Jesus began, "What you have shared with them is a priceless gem to deliver and heal. But they must also approach Me with contrition for their sins. If they spoke a word of judgment, harshness, were unkind, or harbored bad thoughts in their mind. If they looked down on others and treated them below themselves—all of this behavior must stop.

"You must love your brother as you love yourself. You must honor others above yourself. You must pray for them and ask Me to show you how they suffer their own private hell, so you can have compassion on their faults.

"And remember always: what you see as a fault in your brother may be his only fault. But what you don't see in yourself might be a huge stack of faults I have not yet revealed to you.

"Self-righteousness is deadly. Lashing out at others and judging them is deadly. Finding fault with others is deadly—that is, if you want to be Raptured. If you want to be counted worthy.

"These things MUST stop. And I will help you if you make an honest and consistent effort. I will turn a raging, bull-headed monster into a gentle and kind person—always aware of the needs of others. Always patient and praying for others, understanding their pain, and even caring for them in spite of the disagreements they might have with one another.

"Your life will change. You will love your brother as you love yourself, no matter how cruel they have been to you. You will see things from their viewpoint. Even if you think they are blind, you will at least understand. And you will come to know the vile sewer of sin you still have left in yourself, hidden away. And this will keep you from lifting an eyebrow at another soul. You will have contempt for yourself and patience for your brother.

"You will be a living saint.

"This is where I wish to take you. The question is: is this where you want to go?"

All Anger is Anger at God & Prepare, Then Rest in Jesus

December 11, 2018

Thank You, Lord Jesus, for revealing to us why we become angry from the trials in our lives. Please give us the grace to overcome our carnal nature and receive the difficult things in peace and even in thanksgiving. Amen.

The Lord gave me this message just a few moments ago, so I'm going to go straight into it.

Jesus began, "My children, I want you to understand where your temper comes from. At the base of your anger is anger at Me. Nothing happens without My permission. If you belong to Me, if you have given Me your free will and your life, you can expect trials. Some very painful; others too small to even notice. The Trials I give you are to bring you into a greater level of holiness and a greater level of reliance on Me.

"If you consider that, without a doubt, I am in control of all that pertains to you, how can you become angry? The painful things cultivate virtue in you when you receive them as from My very own hands.

"How can I allow evil to seemingly triumph over good? This is a mystery you will not understand until Heaven. But suffice it to say that there is a history to your lineage that predisposes you to certain events.

"In the film The Shack, the man who, as a teen, killed his father with poison in his bottle of whiskey is coming to terms with the death of his daughter. This man took a human life into his own hands, and that opened the door for what happened to him.

"You see, I loved his father just as much as he loved his daughter, even though he was a cruel man. He, in fact, was living out what was done to him as a child. That doesn't make it right; it only sheds light on what makes a human being act that way.

"Before that movie was over, the father of the daughter learned forgiveness. And that bitter root that was in the garden of his heart was turned into a magnificent fruit tree. This is what I want in your heart—a magnificent fruit tree. And this does not come easily; it involves hard work and pain. Suffering IS hard work. But I will give you this grace if you will lay down your anger and receive your lesson as from My hand.

"Remember this: I am in control. What I allow is ultimately for your own good. Do not allow people to anger you. Remember that what they are doing to you comes from demons they have allowed into their lives. The fact that it has affected you should pose a question to you, not a reaction of anger or hatred.

“And in those moment, ask Me, ‘Lord, what are You doing here? Please help me to get Your perspective and not react in anger and hatred.’ Then watch Me move in your life, and consider that the outcome will be the very, very best for you.”

And that was the end of His message. And I've talked about this very dynamic before. The dynamic of why bad things happen to people. I'm not sure exactly which video it is, but there has been quite a bit of information that I've shared with you from the Lord as to why these things happen.

Now, the thing that spurred on this particular message was a reading from the Rhema book. And I feel like I need to read it to you, as a part of this message. It's under Patience, on page 340.

“There will be tests and trials in the coming days. Many tests and trials. You are entering a new plateau, climbing a new mountain as it were. Many will be tried in new ways, for as we go forward there must be progress. You must be always embracing more and more holiness, patience, humility, and steadfastness. These are the things that qualify you for advancement in My service. When you handle one level well, I advance you to new challenges in order to prepare you for new graces.

“I will be with you in all of this. It is for My glory and the salvation of souls. You know I never waste anything. Remember, everything is in My hands and it's not about you—but My agenda. And graces will flow like a river.”

That was taken from Your Designer Cross from Jesus.

And then there were a couple of other readings here that also were pertinent.

“There is a purpose for everything, My children. There is a very specific purpose and dynamic for every single thing that takes place in the lives of every single person.

“But I bring these things to your attention to tell you that you are 'working' when you endure these sacrifices with equanimity and patience. You are doing a job that requires intense and careful vigilance. It's not just an inconvenience; it is a necessary work to alleviate the suffering of another.”

That's the Simon's Cross that we talk about.

“Now I am addressing you while you are in the waiting posture. You know this place well, but there is still much tension in your hearts. I want you to rest in Me. Allow Me to carry the tension and you put yourselves in a posture of rest in My arms and do whatever is before you. Worry and fear will wear you out, and when you are tired, you are an easy target for Satan.

"Rather, I want you to be resting in Me, being strengthened every day, fully aware that at any moment the whole world could be turned upside down. Many of you, if not all, who listen to this channel and take My words to heart are ready. Your lamps are lit, you carry extra oil and you are ready.

"It has taken a good 12 months to get you to this point, but now you are here. You know well what your sins and vices of the past are and you are alert, paying close attention to yourselves, lest you should fall. And you are not over-investing in this world, because you know your time here could end at any moment.

"Maintain this disposition, Dear Ones. Maintain it with the added virtue of resting in Me. Trust. Patience and Confidence."

And that's taken from the message Rest in Me Until I Carry You Over the Threshold of Eternity.

So, I think this message could have to do with the Rapture, or it could have to do with personal events in your lives. So, please take it to heart and apply it where it needs to be applied.

God bless you, Dear ones. And thank you for your prayers and your support of our channel. We deeply appreciate it.

I Will Calm the Storm

December 12, 2018

Oh, deliver us.
Won't you save us?
Hear our calling and our crying
Supplication to You?

Yahweh
Yahweh, save us. (Save me, save you.)
Hear my crying, Lord.
Yahweh. (He will surely save me.)

Herod's Designs

December 13, 2018

Thank you, Father God, that Your plans are bigger than men's plans, and you are well able to rescue the innocent. Amen.

It is time for us to move on, Heartdwellers. And remember the Nativity of our Lord. What a beautiful time of the year to be born. But as always, there are dangers. The Devil prowls about seeking the ruin of souls. Who will stand with God and do His bidding?

I have recently become aware of a life and death situation and prayed very hard that God will triumph.

In prayer this morning, Father God began, "I want you to Trust Me. That means no crying, no doubting, only complete confidence in My ability to save ALL. When you fret like this, you only make things worse for yourself and others. Yes, My daughter, I want you to Trust in Your Daddy God.

(That's a song that He played for me this morning, called, "Oh, Daddy God", covered by Dominic Chin. And it was written by a Chinese pastor. It's absolutely beautiful. You should check it out.)

Father continued, "These plans of Mine were made long ago. You are but a lowly instrument I am using. I will indeed deliver, and none can stop My plans. I want you to stand securely on this and proceed with your day -to -day work. Let it go at the foot of the Cross, knowing full well it is finished according to My will.

"And you are not God. I am. Do you really think I am deaf???. Have I not always delivered from difficult situations? How many miracles have I done for you in your life, that you should doubt Me? Now is not any different, do not waiver in your faith, Clare. Please stand strong and confident. Do not allow the demons to plant suggestions in your mind. Rather, focus on My Almighty hand holding up and covering over this situation. Protecting it."

And that was the end of His message.

And, I'm going to make one more appeal here. For those of you who have been with us for a long time, I'm sure you'll understand. For those of you who have not been with us a long time...um. I can't explain it...

But I'm making an appeal to all Heartdwellers. Is there not ONE among you with the influence and power to assist and deliver this situation? Is there not one among you whose heart has not been rent by the desperateness of this cause? All of you, men and women of power, wealth, influence—do you not see the nativity in this? Has the Lord not moved on your heart to do something extraordinary to deliver?

Do you know that this kind of person is worth a great deal to the witches, some in very high places in government and law enforcement? And the judicial system.

Yes, this type of person frequently disappears from the face of the Earth, to be used in sacrifices to gain spiritual powers. There are several indicators that this intention may have been there (though I cannot discuss this with you openly).

Lives are in danger Heartdwellers. Who among you has recourse to deliver the innocent from Herod? Who among you cares? Is there no one with power and influence to make the difference here? I wait upon the Lord, I count upon the Lord—but I still hold out hope that there is at least one person who could handle this in a heartbeat, without any complications.

If there is, will you come forth? Pray for God's perfect will to be done, His Kingdom come on Earth as it is in Heaven. And do whatever He tells you to do. Amen.

Now, in the process of getting ready for this message, Psalm 119 PE came up:

Wonderful are Your testimonies; therefore, I obey them.

The unfolding of Your words gives light; it informs the simple.

I open my mouth and pant, as I long for Your commandments.

Turn to me and show me mercy, as You do to those who love Your name.

Establish my steps through Your promise; let no sin rule over me.

Redeem me from the oppression of man, that I may keep Your precepts.

Make Your face shine upon Your servant and teach me Your statutes.

My eyes shed streams of tears because Your law is not obeyed. Psalm 119:129-136

And that's the end of Psalm 119 PE.

So, I'm making an appeal to you, dear ones. I can't go into details, but those of you who understand - if you have recourse, please get in touch with me.

Love you, guys. And I thank you for your prayers and your donations. They really help keep the boat afloat over here!

So, take care until next time. God bless you.

Are You Living in Hopelessness?

December 17, 2018

Oh, thank you, Lord Jesus, for Your promises to those who are living in bondage. In the bondage of oppression and abuse.

My precious family, I have to tell you—as an only child, I had no idea what family meant. My father left when I was only 6 months old. An only child, I led a pretty isolated life, even in school. Then I chose a career that kept me isolated, as a nature photographer, always looking for the raw beauty of creation. I really never knew what it was like to have a family until I married and had four children. But even more recently when I had the YouTube channel. And now, with the Channel on Vimeo. Having known all of you and having really fallen in love with almost all of you! You are so beautiful. What a family!

Now I really know what family's like. And so many times, when I hear from you, I get glimpses of Heaven. Of the sweetness of Heaven, because so many of you are so kind and sweet.

You are the most wonderful people I have ever met in my entire life. You have been loyal, kind, supportive. And even honest, at times, as to things that could help me grow. You are gentle, wounded Healers.

And above all, your sacrificial love for Jesus is a splendor to behold. And an inspiration.

When I took on the challenge of wanting to help these two, that were so unhappy. And on the verge of suicide. When I took that challenge on, I had no idea where it would take me. But something inside of me said, 'You have to help them.' And once I latched on to it, I couldn't let go.

But then, the feelings that come with caring about other people...

All I knew is that they were suffering terribly, and my heart was broken over their situation. There is a bit of history in my own life that parallels theirs, in the sense that my own mother kept me from the man I loved. And my life took a drastically different course than what it could have been if I had married him. Still, when I ponder that, in the end I have to say, "God allowed it."

Our first Bishop had the same situation in his life as a young man. His parents and a minister lied to him about the girl he loved. As a result, he was heart-broken, and ended up marrying someone else. And was unhappy his whole life. After she passed away, he found the woman he had loved (who was now a widow) and they got married.

How many times have we had ministry in situations like this??? Well, I can think of at least four more people who went through the very same tragedies.

I guess that is why my heart was torn by these two dear souls. The young man wanted a really different kind of relationship with a wife. He wanted someone who was deep.

And she is a very deep person, another thing I could relate to. She doesn't know exactly what the Lord has for her to do, but she loves Him with all her heart and she wants to serve Him.

Max is the same way. Except both are still a little young to know the fullness of their callings. I know that right now their major calling is to love their enemies, not to allow bitterness to overtake them. And forgive as the Lord forgives us, as well. Repenting for foolish choices we've hurt others with in the past. They have embraced these critical growing points as challenges they must overcome with God's grace. And I am very impressed by their deep resolve to follow the Lord.

Still, my dear ones, your little Mother is struggling with questions. I know as Christians, at least, in the monastic environment which I most feel called to. (isolation again) I know that we are not to have worldly attachments or strong desires for anything outside of Jesus.

In other words, no soldier gets involved in civilian affairs...right?

That sounds so stable and mature, doesn't it? But what do you do when your heartstrings get plucked big time, and St. Pio from the Great Cloud of Witnesses comes to you, with a soul who is chained in bondage following behind him. And the soul stretches their iron-clad wrists out to you, and the Saint says, "Free her."

Wow! Well, that's exactly what happened a few mornings ago in a vision.

So, not only did I have a personal attachment and a real familial love, but also a commission from Heaven. How does that wash with the word "detachment?"

And I realized today, in a minuscule amount, how very much our Lord suffers—because there are situations like this all over the world. And even worse! Child trafficking.

Oh God, how do you do it? My Lord, I have come face to face with my limitations again—a wall of emotions. Caring, concern, commitment to help no matter what—even though I am a nothing, with nothing to give but prayer and hope.

How, dear God, do you carry this burden?? And even more so, how do I carry it? Lord, please tell me. How do I serve You best in situations like this?

Jesus began, "My precious little Clare, you have a foundation: your trust in Me with all your heart is your foundation. Yet you are human, are you not? So human. A heart of flesh and gold, one that aches for others. Oh, Dearest, you are so much like Me—yet so unequipped for such strong emotions.

“I have been carrying you, Clare. You have not been walking these past few days, dearest. You have been carried in My arms and on the prayers of the very special souls on this Channel. Yes, I have wanted you to feel as I feel—yet not fall into despair. I wanted you to know and see even as I do—yet without collapsing. I have held you up and you are not far from victory.

“My people, do not avoid emotions. Do not dodge situations that could potentially create great tides of emotion that might ‘disrupt’ your day, or even your life. The heart of the law is Love. Without Love, you are pitifully poor and destitute. Yet when you love there is always the pain and burden.

“But not to the point of collapsing you, for I do indeed take on the cause you respond to. I do indeed swing into motion with plans that are out of the realm of your possibilities. I coach you to lay down your burden in My capable hands, yet I retain your prayers and tears as offerings to My Father, that you should all be delivered from harm’s way.

“And you have questioned, ‘Was I in the flesh, Lord? In the beginning, by taking this on?’ No. You were not. I intended to deliver these two, and I intended for you to go deeper with your feelings. Yet in the end analysis, even as you have done with your biological children, you must let them go once they are out of harm’s way.

“I have arranged all of this for My glory. I have put forth these situations so that others who are oppressed and without hope can see that I do have a mighty arm, waiting to deliver them, if they will but completely put their trust in Me. Not just blind trust, but faith in action, making moves to deliver themselves according to My counsel in their hearts.

“It truly is bitter for Me, Clare, for there are thousands upon thousands of hopeless situations like this all around the world. And because of cultural norms, much of this sin is accepted as a valid way of life.

“NO! It is not valid.

“NO! You do not lock up and belittle a child, saying 'no' to their every hope and dream.

“NO! You do not abuse My precious gifts to you. You do not beat them, tell them they are no good, criticize them constantly because you, yourself, are frustrated and unhappy.

“NO! This is not life. This is a living Hell and Death. They were My gift to you, entrusted to you so they could reach full maturity in confidence, good health and morals.

“Yes, you were treated this way. Does that make it right? Is that an excuse?

“NO! It is no excuse, because I have been tugging at your conscience for years to treat them tenderly with love. But you didn’t listen. You didn’t try. You didn’t come to Me and ask for My help. You went on with your busy and productive life, not having time to take on the challenge of changing your attitude and behavior.

“But there is yet hope for you, as well as for them. If you will turn to Me.

“My dearly beloved children, caught in oppressive and impossible environments. I want you to wake up to the fact that I am God. Intimately involved in your heart’s desires. I am a God who knows you, because I formed you—and there is nothing I do not know about you.

“But there is much you don’t know about yourself. The most wretched of you are to Me the sweet hope of a rosebud, ready to reveal the beauty and fragrance inside, once you are in an environment where you are able to bloom.

“I am fully acquainted with the grief and oppression you suffer every day. I am for you, not against you. I do NOT represent your parents. I am unlike your parents; I am God! Endlessly patient, endlessly forgiving, teaching, inspiring and helping you to stand in who you are in Me.

“I want you to come now and relate to Me. Speak with Me and ask for My help and I WILL GIVE IT.

“There are two very critical things to this process. One must NOT hold anger nor bitterness against the offenders. One must know: Satan hates you! And all you love—he seeks to destroy. When you see this clearly, you will stop reacting in rage and anger to those who Satan is using.

“The other critical thing to understand and accept—without complaint—is that I have allowed this in your life. It may have to do with an ancient curse, or the misdeeds of your parents, for which you receive the curses. And those things which are ancient and passed along to generations, do need to be repented for and broken—by you. And then, you must accept your situation, knowing there is a reason beyond your comprehension that this has been ‘justly’ allowed by an All Just God.

“Once you have these concepts down, and cling to Me with all your heart and soul and mind and strength—then we can begin the redemption from your bondage. Then we can painstakingly proceed to extricate you from what has been hopeless for years. Then the beauty that you are, that I KNOW you are, can come forth.

“I will bring you out of the only thing you have known your entire life: gloom and bondage. I will bring you out into the full light of day. I will water, fertilize, prune, weed the soil around you— and you shall come forth as the soul I created. A delight and a fragrance to My heart.

"I do not care what people have told you about yourself. They are mere men. They know not as I know. They do not know the gifts and talents I created within you. They know nothing of your inner life, nor of the plans I have for you.

"Many of them are themselves consumed in the bondage of men's opinions of them. And when they open their mouths, they speak the things that have been spoken over them for years. Lies! All of them lies from Satan, meant to cripple and destroy the beauty I wove into your being in your mother's womb.

"I am calling you, My deeply oppressed ones. I am calling you into the Light of day—a relationship with Me. Guidance from Me. Protection and inspiration from Me.

"But first, you must come to believe, that if I can keep the Earth in her orbit, so can I get you into yours. This I will do, because I know you. I believe in you. I cherish you—and you have a beautiful future in Me."

Who Will Wipe the Spittle from My Face?

December 18, 2018

Lord, forgive those who say atrocious things about Your people and the true ministers of the Faith who are slandered by pretend Christians. Help us to remember to pray for their souls.

Well, Family, Still Small Voice was mentioned in a very obnoxious Shout Out on Google Plus. This soul ranted on and on about government and religious organizations that are part of the Beast, in his opinion.

He used sewer language in every sentence and I was struck by the bitterness and rancor of this person. He was so over-the-top, I thought... "Is this some government employee posing as a Christian to denounce ministers? What is this?"

It didn't make any sense, and it certainly was the most foul language I've heard since the slums. But nonetheless, I felt it important to defend the church. This person was ranting on and on about all the churches, Catholic included. I couldn't understand what he hoped to accomplish. But still, there is enough bashing going around that the subject really needs to be addressed, because those who are doing it think they are working for the Lord, yet they are dividing and confusing the Body.

So, I wrote back to him. "The Lord is doing a new thing with His people. He is returning them to the innocence of the Early Church, the first 300 years of the church in Jerusalem...before Rome, before Luther, and before Benny Hinn.

“Once there was a beautiful and whole child born to a Royal family. As the child grew, somehow it contracted leprosy. Rather than growing strong and straight, it was sickly, repulsive and badly behaved. The parents were devastated. They cried and cried for this child to be healed. Healers and prophets came and prayed over the child. They tried every remedy and surgery known to man to get this child healed. Nothing seemed to work.

"Every day they got more and more insults, as the crowd began to throw garbage on their porch, egging the house and breaking windows. Finally, the father stepped out onto the porch and asked, ‘Who among you is without spot or sickness?’ The crowd grew quiet. He then said, ‘Let him be the first to condemn this child.’

“Who is this child? It is the Lord's Church. Their parent is Jesus, who weeps over their sins. Who are those who hurl insults at the sick child? Those who are not praying for healing, those who are self-righteous and think their sickness and disease doesn't show.

“You who use your freedom of speech to destroy and attack rather than pray, heal, and reform—you are heaping up wounds on our Savior's head as He weeps over His sick Church. He looks for the good Samaritan but finds only the self-righteous Pharisee. No parent wants to be told how sick His child is. They already are suffering for them and doing all in their power to heal them.”

Jesus began, "Who among you will comfort Me, My People? Who among you will wipe the spittle from My face? Is there not one who has pity, who is willing to step forward and offer Me consolation? Is there not one among you who recognizes what I gave the Early Church? Is there not one among you who will restore and rebuild My Church?"

"No, I say to you. You are all wrecking balls inspired by hell to divide, condemn and destroy. You have no clue of the sickness in your own lives, yet you are taking great delight in telling the whole world about the sickness in My Church.

"Who among you will console and build with Me? Who will restore the ruined homesteads and turn the hearts of the children to their Fathers?"

"Come, YOU are My joy. You discern rightly your own sins and do not point the finger.

"Come. I have a place for you, now and in My Kingdom.

"Come. For very soon now you will enter into your Master's joy."

ONLY Intense Prayer NOW...Will Keep Him Alive

December 19, 2018

Dear God, please send a spirit of supplication upon our people like never before, that they may wake up and stop this event.

Family, I have some very bad news for you. We are not praying enough to stop the tide of evil. Too many Christians are caught up in celebrating the holidays rather than defending their President and country with prayer.

If we don't change, you can expect the very worst to happen... soon. I've been feeling it for weeks, but now we are at the very end of the open window to change anything. Once that window shuts, it's the end.

Everyone is focusing on celebrating, when they should be weeping and fasting. The enemy knows well what you do between Halloween and New Year's Day, so he plans his most deadly assaults on the nation during that time, when everyone has deserted their prayer closet.

One of our most sensitive prayer warriors sent me this message.

She said, "I received this from Glynda Lomax, and Mother, when I saw it, fear came upon me and gripped me. For sometimes, I've been having what I thought was imagination of Trump being hurt in some way—like taken out of the way by some horrific thing, and I just can't shake it off.

"What do you think about this prophecy from Glynda?"

Normally, I don't share prophecies outside of what Jesus gives us on our Channel. But I think this one is worthy of being shared. But before I do that, I want you to hear Ezekiel's dream. 'Cause this event happened as well, in the same time frame.

Today, Ezekiel, upon waking from a Rapture dream, confirmed Glynda's word with the Bible Promises when he opened to Holy Spirit, as well as it was confirming the dream he had just had.

Ezekiel dreamt that there was some kind of Guerrilla force in Cali, Columbia, S.A. They were bombing the poor section of town and using heavy equipment to collapse buildings on children playing in the street and on poor families. In the meantime, the wealthy were partying, going out on dinner dates, and celebrating a holiday in grand style.

Jesus appeared in the midst of the mangled bodies, looking over at the other part of town. Then He turned to us, a small group, and began to lead us out of there. He said, “Don’t worry about these, they are with Me,” as we stepped over the mangled remains of bodies. The implication was: worry about those who are partying.

We continued to walk and soon came to a bridge shrouded in mist. It was so very long, we could not even tell what it was crossing over. I saw us all in our wedding gowns. Then the Lord said to me, “It is time.”

After that, we just lifted off into the air and were Raptured.

Now here is Glynda’s word from the Lord:

She titled it Disobedience

“I have told you in My Holy Word to pray for those in authority. Some of My Children are being obedient to this, but many of you are not. An event is coming soon to remove one I have placed in authority to bless you. This event will be very terrible and is not My Will. But My Will is not carried out when My People refuse to pray.”

The Lord did not say who He was referring to, but I kept seeing the face of President Trump. There were also other faces, smaller, around him, but I did not recognize any of those.

The word continues, “If this event transpires, I will hold accountable those of you I have instructed to pray, if you have not obeyed.

“My Children, if you refuse to obey Me, there is little I can do to bless you. Do not run out to play and pursue your own interests, ignoring what I have asked you to do—and then expect answers of all the things you desire of Me.

“I desire obedient children. I bless obedience. I do not bless those who are disobedient.”

And that was the end of the Prophecy.

And one of the greatest blessings we have from the Lord is His protection. His Divine Protection.

So, at this point I started communicating with Him, and I said, “Lord, I’ve been feeling it...looming...trying to push it away, but it is so deep. I feel the darkness overtaking the world. I feel that we’re losing ground as Christians and I wonder, how can You bear it anymore?”

"I know I am guilty of being distracted and not praying as I should for the country in the past week or so, as my focus has been on helping others. But please Lord, receive the cross of pain I feel over their situation and all that's entailed in it—for the sake of the President?"

And Jesus began speaking to me. He said, "What you are hearing, what you are seeing, all that you and Ezekiel and others are feeling is but an atom of the disgust with the state of this world. How I love the world! But how disgusted I am with the headway Satan is making, while My people are out shopping for presents and making merry, with no thought at all of what I want them to be doing. And now there is something terrible coming upon them for their disobedience.

"Children, the enemy has waited for this time when you would not be on the city wall guarding those within. You are very close, so very close to losing everything.

"I have asked. I have begged. I have pleaded that you continue to pray for your President with great intention, responsibility for his welfare. But when I look upon My Christian people and what they are doing, I see they are not on their knees. Their houses are bright with lights and decorations, but that brightness in the Spiritual world is not Light—but a dense darkness. It twinkles and shines on the outside, but within it is dark—the substance of which is death, materialism, and Godlessness.

"The enemy knew you would be distracted, so he waited to move forward into his most devastating plans. You do not attack when they are guarding the walls. You attack when they are decorating the walls, making merry, getting drunk on the things of this world. Now he will call his forces forward in the most devastating attack on America that will ever go down in history.

"THIS DOES NOT HAVE TO HAPPEN!

"What I am asking of you in this moment is to repent! Stop the shopping and spending and get down on your knees! Fast and pray and come against this tide of darkness before it is too late.

"Yes, it IS almost too late. But if you heed this message and spread it, put your hearts into prayer, it will be stopped.

"This is your last chance. If you do not act on this now, there is nothing more to do than wait for disaster to strike. But it is true. If you have not prayed, I will hold the disobedient accountable for this. Because it was not My time, and I wanted you to hold back this tide of evil that is even now rumbling beneath your feet."

And you know, it was strange when He said that. I heard marching, like thousands of BIG soldiers marching. Burly, hairy soldiers—not the kind of soldiers that we have in the military. Like giants. Like 10-foot giants. And the ground beneath me was thundering from the sound of this monstrous crowd in the bowels of the Earth.

Jesus continued, “Yes, the minions of Hell, the soldiers of darkness hidden deep in the Earth are panting to be released on the nations. They are lusting for your blood and working up a storm of fury.”

“Clare, dearest, all of these things are but whispers compared to what is real and soon to come.”

Today, during dwelling prayer, I was dancing with the Lord in my wedding gown, and He was so tenderly aware of my struggles. And I was really trying to focus on His. He had given me a red rose. I was holding it in my left hand. And apparently, I had pricked my finger with it, because blood was running down my wrist. At the same time, He was in His wedding tux, but wearing a bleeding crown of thorns. Yes—the thorns were exuding blood...

Oh, Ezekiel and I have known that He was suffering. But in addition to that, Rainbow had a dream yesterday of the very same thing. She was dancing with the Lord in her wedding gown, but He was wearing a crown of thorns, dripping with blood.

Lord, I can only feel and sense from this that it is again the great suffering the world is causing You.

Jesus continued, “My Beloved, you have no idea the pains I am suffering because people are ignoring Me in My very real Passion, all over again. For what is yet to come... It's devastating. I suffer very real pains with very few to comfort Me, My Bride.

“I long for all of you to recognize the agony I am going through in this very moment, because of the peril so many souls are in. Please comfort Me. I love it when you wipe My brow with your gentle caresses. I love it when you touch My cheek and tell Me how sorry you are for your sins and the sins of the World. I long for this attention more than any of you know.

“Evil increases exponentially (rapidly that is, like an explosion) And yes, the Earth continues to quake more and more as Nibiru draws near.

“Oh, do wake up to pray, My people, and pray! The heavenly bodies can go retrograde and be stalled—this I will gladly do as you pray and fast. Offer Me all that you have. Give Me deep sighs of regret for your shortcomings and the frozen hearts of so many of My people whose interests and caring don't go beyond their doorstep.

“Yes, terrorism is dreadful. But what is even more devastating is the cold hearts of My Chosen ones.”

Oh, Lord, forgive me. My heart is so small, my mind so narrow, and my perseverance so short.

Jesus replied, “I will let you in on a little secret about yourself.”

What is that, Lord?

“You are beyond tired. You are utterly exhausted, and each day when you awake and cry out to Me for help, I come and lift you up—and I do not set you down. I carry you the entire day.

“You are doing very little, Clare, but hosting Me. What is being accomplished is My doing; you are merely My hands, My feet, My mouth. Your efforts are turtle steps in the desert; Mine are the waters of the cool oasis. Walk on, My little one. Soon I will sweep you up into My arms for eternity. But for now, you must walk on and know that I draw very well with broken pencils.

“All of you, Heartdwellers, are My masterpieces. You have come to Me laying down all you have. I, in turn, have picked it up and made it into something beautiful to last through eternity.

“I know you are weary of those tiny, turtle steps. But oh, how great is the fruit of your renewed efforts every morning when you feel like going back to bed for a week, yet you stay up and call to Me for strength to revive you.

“But now I want to bring this all together and tell you. YOU MUST PRAY—or your President is a dead man. You must pray, because what is planned is on a greater scale than you can even imagine.

“I will tell you this much. A horrendous event, such as what is being planned, is vulnerable at several points. It must pass through each one of these points to succeed. Your prayers are capable of stopping enough of these points that it will simply—fail like all the others.

“But because you don’t believe that, because you prefer to celebrate rather than suffer and pray... Because of that, Satan may succeed this time.

“It is TOTALLY up to you, Heartdwellers. You have stopped these events many times. But this event is much bigger and requires much more prayer.

“Are you with Me? Are you for Me? Will you obey Me? Your destiny is in your praying hands.

“I am counting on you to change your focus mid-stream and plow into prayer to stop this from happening. None of the criminals he is bringing to justice will be brought to justice if you do not pray. They will all get away and continue their detestable practices, stealing and consuming children and handing this nation over to her enemies.

“It is in your hands. Are you with Me, My People???”

From Repentance to Resurrection of Our Dreams

December 24, 2018

Good morning, Heartdwellers.

Clare received a message from the Lord last night, and she asked me to record it for you all today. Please keep her and Ezekiel in your prayers. We were all called into heavy travail and intercession again, early this morning.

She began with this prayer:

Lord, turn our hearts and realign them with what is important to you in this season. Amen.

Today in prayer, I felt lukewarm, but pressed in—and finally the Lord ignited my small flame with a big flame and I began to feel the passion for what He wants me to do, again. The passion rose up and so did my prayers asking for things I thought were impossible already.

But I know how He is. He does not give us a passion for a prayer without the answer to that prayer being within our reach. So, you see, as this tide begins to turn because of our continued travailing, if it really turns—all the dreams we had abandoned will be brought forth for restoration.

Repentance for Sloth in prayer is the sin that masks the deeper sin, Unbelief. Repent of these things and set to work and I believe He will send resurrection life into our crumpled dreams.

And now, Jesus began to speak to her, "I have looked, My people, and I have seen brokenness, contrition, and repentance. I have seen those who have taken these messages to heart—and those who have not. And for the sake of those who have cared with all their being to turn the tides, My Father has changed His plans. I will not go into any depth, because this is a time of probation. A time of testings, to see if you will remain faithful to your fasting and watches, crying out for humanity.

"Those of you who do, I have a great reward for you. I have set aside the enduring peace of His Kingdom in a very special way for you.

"But I caution you, Children. This is an uphill march with very heavy weights on your shoulders. The weight of the world harnessed to your backs as you continue to climb and pray and repent for nations of sin and degradation into which I have injected holy souls to lead them out of bondage. Pray for these holy souls that have been sent into every nation on Earth to turn the tide.

“I cannot even begin to tell you the reward for those faithful to that mandate, but it brings to mind the broken dreams lying at the bottom of your hearts. It speaks of resurrection and new life, new opportunities and restoration. The more you pray, the greater the restoration.

“If only I could explain to you the weight of your prayers when weighed in the balance with evil. If only there were an adequate way to describe how one of you, acting from a broken and contrite heart, changes the course of history. Just as it takes but a tiny flame to burn down a whole forest, so it takes but a tiny prayer, coming from the very depths of the soul, to resurrect all the good that could have been—that the devils have destroyed.

“Yes, there is yet hope. But now you know—this is the kind of prayer I need from you. Deep, grieving prayer, lowly and contrite, totally repentant. This kind of prayer, while only a tiny flame... sets the entire mountain of God on fires.

“Do not settle for anything less. Do not give up hope. Take those broken pieces down in your heart and lay them out before My Father’s eyes. Grieve over them, and beg Him to restore, totally restore, lost opportunities. Failed purposes. Motivation lost for lack of faith and the ensuing laziness to pursue these dreams.

“Yes, there is repentance for you, Children, for some of you have given in to the suggestions of the enemy, because you were tired. I understand tired, but I do not understand you not coming to Me and begging for restoration. It is because you did not believe it could be restored. But I say to you, those are lies. Press in with repentance and hard work and you will see restoration.

“Yes, My people, My Body has been partly asleep and allowed their dreams to be stolen. But now that you know, you MUST vigorously intercede for this nation and the Earth. Now that you know that, blessed and restored will you be if you do it!”

And that was the end of Jesus' message.

And then, Clare wanted to include this note:

I want to take the time to thank you, dear Heartdwellers. To thank you for your faithfulness. Unfortunately, our donations are down a bit, so we have not been able to share with our shelters for trafficked children. We have had several desperate calls from the utility company and gave until we were down to rock bottom.

So, if the Lord moves on your hearts, please remember us and the poor we are taking care of.

For all of you who did donate, we thank you so very, very much. You've made the difference and covered our salaries.

Hugs to you all, have a blessed Night of the Nativity, tonight. And I do hope all our families out there will show a movie on the nativity to their family to help bring the real meaning of Christmas back.

Heaven Salutes Those Who Are Praying

December 24, 2018

Lord, Your words of encouragement mean so much to me. Thank you.

Well, Heartdwellers, the Lord has a very sweet 'thank you' for you who have been denying yourself and reaching out and praying.

I had just finished a Divine Mercy Chaplet and a Rosary for the world and things had been flashing through my head. Such as a movie about an innocent man caught at the airport on the way to a meeting and put through the most tortuous interrogation. But it was obvious, the man didn't know anything. So, the CIA called a woman who was way up in the government and told her, "He doesn't have anything." But she insisted on sending him to Iraq for more torture and questioning. Rather flippantly. The man's pregnant wife managed to get into a meeting where this official was, and begged her to release her husband, because he was innocent. And of course, she didn't...

Anyway, towards the end of unbelievable tortures, an interested party managed to get him released and smuggled out of the country back to his wife.

Then other things. Like underground human food cafeterias being exposed. The bones of dead children. Other horrendous things we have heard about: the assassination of J. F. Kennedy. The lies and intrigue and destruction of all that is good.

And for POTUS' safety, his family and team. I cried out, "Lord protect and save this man." I just began sobbing....

Oh, Jesus, what little I know is staggering beyond belief. Oh, how horrible this Earth is! Oh, how very horrible. How can you possibly take this, Lord?

He came and squatted beside me and said, "For the sake of a few, for their sake, My Father holds back His justified wrath—but not for much longer, Clare." As He spoke, I saw that He was covered with blood. A bloody crown dripped—and I understood the effects of evil on His person—even now.

Jesus continued, “But you see, things are coming to a head. Evil is being exposed. Every day a deeper layer is exposed, and evil is being prosecuted. But had you not prayed and rallied the Heartdwellers, this moment in history could look much different than it does right now.”

I heard the President was going to Mara Largo for Christmas and I felt unsettled. Then I heard that no, he was staying at the White House. And somehow, I felt better about that. And I thought, ‘Surely there is a missile defense system there?’ But then it came to mind, “Unless the Lord guards the house, those who guard it do so in vain.”

Dear Heartdwellers, your prayers are the Lord’s protection and hedge around him.

Lord Jesus, is there something You want to say?

Jesus began, “Except for this hedge, many of you would be dead in this moment. The world would be in turmoil and chaos, Putin would have fired on America, and you would be in the midst of plague, war, and disasters so numerous there would be no hope of rescue.

“You do not see now what you who have been praying have done. But in Heaven, you will see your part in this great drama. I know it has been a great sacrifice to forego Christmas festivities for fasting and prayer, but if this were your last Christmas, wouldn’t you want to honor Me, rather than immersing yourselves in the contamination of this world? Have no regrets, Little Ones. You have fulfilled My will by cleaving to Me during this time in prayer.”

He paused for a moment and said, “Tell them I am grateful. So very, very grateful they made sacrifices to honor Me. I am SO grateful.” He repeated as a tear came rolling down His left cheek.

“What you have done for this nation and this world is beyond your comprehension now. But I have united your prayers to the angels and Saints, who continually intercede. Along with the elements and plants and animals—who continually intercede for an end to this madness. Indeed, the entire world cries out from its roots, ‘Come quickly, Lord Jesus!! Save us!!!’ If you could but understand the language of groaning in the Earth, you would see that what I am telling you is the Truth.”

And you know, guys? It's been amazing. 6.2 or more earthquakes, every day. Several - all around the world. It's just unbelievable.

Jesus continued, “Do you understand, My People? Nothing exists that is not held together by My Love and permission and power to exist. NOTHING. And so, I am intimately tied to My Creation—all of it—as a mother is tied to her child.

“And all of Creation echoes what is in My heart, and bears witness to the desolations of men’s workings and laments for freedom from this crushing disease of darkness Satan has yoked the Earth to. His sin saturates the very soil and rock and magma. And Creation cries out to be liberated from this deadly evil.

“And the time is nearing. It is even at the door—waiting in readiness to be released; when all things shall be brought back into the captivity of My Word and purpose for the Earth and its inhabitants. Made in My Image but defiled by the wiles of the enemy.

“I will come. I will restore. Pain, suffering and death shall no more exist. But first—the Purification.

“And I applaud those of you who have taken these messages to heart. The angels and the Saints salute you who have dropped to your knees at My request. You have done a very great work for Me and humanity, and I am safeguarding your reward.

“Continue to carry My Cross, Beloved Ones. It will soon be over.”

And just as an aside, the Lord brought to mind Romans 8:19. For those of you who have never heard that the Creation actually does cry out.

"For the creation waits in eager expectation for the children of God to be revealed. For the creation was subjected to frustration, not by its own choice, but by the will of the one who subjected it, in hope that the creation itself will be liberated from its bondage to decay and brought into the freedom and glory of the children of God.

"We know that the whole creation has been groaning, as in the pains of childbirth, right up to the present time. Not only so, but we ourselves, who have the first-fruits of the Spirit, groan inwardly as we wait eagerly for our adoption to son-ship, the redemption of our bodies. For in this hope we were saved. But hope that is seen is no hope at all. Who hopes for what they already have? But if we hope for what we do not yet have, we wait for it patiently. Romans 8:19-25

The Lord bless you, Heartdwellers. Well done. Well done! Please continue to carry this cross of prayer. These are critical weeks ahead of us for our nation. Very critical. Let's stand behind our President and all that God wants to do to redeem this nation.

December 26, 2018

My dear Family, this is an urgent message, calling for prayer.

Ezekiel has been going through a painful passion for the last 45 minutes. And he just had a vision. In the vision was a giant clock. God the Father was on the right of the clock. Jesus was on the left. And over the center of the clock was written 'Mercy'. The clock was one minute to midnight. Beneath the clock was the United States.

And Ezekiel heard 'One minute of Mercy left'. Then he had a vision of Air Force One travelling north. And it was hit in the very center by a missile shot straight up, in the belly of the plane. He said he thought it was red, but he wasn't sure. But it was hit and it broke apart.

So, please, please pray for more Grace, more Time, more Grace, more Mercy.

Along with your Divine Mercy Prayer, for the sake of His sorrowful Passion, have Mercy on us and on the whole world. Grant us more time, more mercy. More time, more grace, more mercy.

That's all I have for you right now, but I'm putting it out as an alert. Let's get on our knees. This is critical.

Love you all.

Air Force One in Danger Now

December 26, 2018

Heartdwellers, I'm requesting emergency prayer for President Trump's plane. He is currently in the air, going from Iraq to Germany. And when Ezekiel saw that missile hit, he was heading north. So, please, pray for the safety of Air Force One.

The angels of God surround it. The Lord put HUGE angels to surround it. And the Lord send angels to completely snaffu any missile. Any device. Any weapon aimed at Air Force One. That it would be totally destroyed, or it would never launch.

Please, pray for our President! He's got four hours in the trip, and he's already gone through one hour. So, please pray for his safety in Air Force One.

Lord Jesus, we repent for the sins of America. For the sins of materialism and ignoring You at Christmas time. Forgive us, Lord. Forgive us for our materialism. Forgive us for not loving You more than we love the world. Please, Lord, grant us more Time, more Grace, more Mercy! Please, Lord, grant us more Time, more grace, more Mercy! Please protect our President. Surround him. Protect him. And send a spirit of repentance and contrition across this nation, to touch the hearts of people. That the Lord will honor the prayer for more Time and more Mercy, because of the repentance.

Please, send that spirit upon us, dear God. That we might be able to live out the Times that You had for us to live out before the Rapture. Thank You, Lord. Thank You for hearing our prayer.

Special Thank You to Heartdwellers in Trinidad & Tobago

December 27, 2018

The Lord bless you, Heartdwellers. This is just a very, very short notice. A couple of people in Trinidad came forward to help us with our situation. And I wanted to send them something as a thank you. So, I don't remember who you were? If you would please leave a message here, I'll get in touch with you.

God bless you and thank you so much.

Continue to Cover the President in Prayer

December 28, 2018

Thank You, Jesus, for continuing to remind us of the importance of covering our President. Please help us to be faithful to that call when you send it out to us. Amen.

Well, as many of you may know, this is a particularly critical and dangerous time for our President. We just never know when they will make an attempt on his life. But Jesus knows. And if you, all of a sudden, feel a heavy grief or call to prayer, please do not be like me. I tend to finish what I am doing before I go to prayer. So, don't be like me. (Although, I am trying to change!) But go directly into high gear intercession for him, without delay.

By the time my last message got put up, I think he may have already landed at his destination. But Ezekiel had gone through an attack which causes him to travail—very similarly to the Lord’s passion. He was in travail during the time frame they were going to shoot the missile at Air Force One, and his travail and all of our prayers were answered.

We need split-second timing, dear ones. We need to be ready at a second’s notice to call for mercy and offer our supplications, our pains and inconveniences—everything. As fast offerings for his safety.

Lord, have you something You want to add?

Jesus began, “I do. You have no idea of how close you came to losing him yesterday. It was the perfectly planned plot and came very close to succeeding. What stopped it was YOUR prayers and sufferings. And I will call upon you in a split second to offer yourselves as living sacrifices for your President, because you have been faithful in asking for this anointing.

“I can tell you, Ezekiel loves his guitars and a keyboard. He loves his music and how we work together. But he has come to love his bed of sufferings even more, more than life itself. He understands the great part he and all Heartdwellers play in safeguarding this man, and he is willing to give up all things that mattered to save him.

“This is where I want all of you Heartdwellers to be. Centered in My Heart. For understand, the repercussions of losing this President will be the beginning of the end of this world as you know it.

“And this is Satan’s delight. To destroy every man, woman and child and use this nefarious organization to do it. And then destroy the organization and laugh all the way down to the bottom of the Pit as he chooses the appropriate torture for each one of his servants.

“That’s right. The servants of these organizations are working for a reward, unlike any other. But what has been offered to them is a myth! And the reality of it is the Lake of Fire. Make no mistake about it. If you are working the dark side, thinking is it the right side, thinking of rewards you’ve been promised—you have been fed a bed of lies that will lead you to a bed of torment.

“Not for the two seconds it takes to twist and maim your body in a car accident. No, for today, tomorrow, next week, next year. 10 years from now. 100 years from now, 1,000 years from now and into infinity.

“Remember what I have always told you who work for the dark side. The Devil has taught you how to lie, because he is the master of liars; it is his native language. So, taking into consideration his character... do you really think he loves and appreciates you? Do you think he is sincere with only you?

"Think deeply on this. His nature is to kill and destroy, lie, steal, and cheat. So, do you really think he has a 'good' side?? A side just for you who serve him?"

"I tell you this, before it is too late for you: he is pure evil. He hates you with a passion and laughs hysterically when you are dragged into Hell. He hates you, because I love you and he wants to hurt Me."

"The only way he can hurt Me is by hurting you and destroying the Earth. So, he plays on your sensual nature: money, sex, power. And feeds your dark and selfish side to entrap you."

"Then when you meet him face-to-face, he laughs you to scorn."

"I will never omit to tell you this, because I love you. If you think you've seen his kingdom and it's beautiful, you were shown an illusion—just the way you make illusions to manipulate others into the dark side."

"My precious ones, be patient with Me as I call your brothers and sisters forth from the kingdom of darkness. Never cease to offer prayers for their conversion. For many will come up to you in Heaven and say, 'Thank you for praying for me. It was your prayers that softened my heart and led me to be open to the truth.'"

"We have many such guests from the dark side, dear Family. And I cannot pass by the opportunity to tell them they are so loved by Me—and deceived by Satan. They mean too much to Me. And they should mean that much to you, as well."

"I wish I could tell you it is going to get easier to protect your President. But for the time being, it is like climbing a rocky mountain with nothing to grasp onto but My promises to protect him."

"There is a very intense stretch of time coming upon you now, where certain guilty parties are going to be processed and executed. And the backlash will be violent against those who support what is right."

"Cultivate a desire for fasting and you will be far more prepared for this than if you were self-indulging all the time. I want you to know the dark side is fasting, praying and offering their sacrifices—and they are on fire for the devil, committing themselves to defeating the President and everything he stands for."

"Much depends on this window of time you are entering, including the timing of the Rapture."

"My people, it is day by day that I am sustaining you and that My Father is holding back the Rapture. It is day by day. There is no guarantee of entire seasons. No, it is day by day. And if there's a serious lapse in prayer, everything could come down."

"So, continue to pray with all your heart and know that your prayers are vitally important for the world. Not just America, but for the entire world.

"I love you, and I am with you. And I whisper in your ear. And I love it when you respond to Me. Be blessed, My dear Intercessors. I know how tired you are, and that you labor under sickness and tiredness, and all kinds of opposition. But be blessed, for you are My favorites. And you will experience much glory in Heaven."

Well, just as an aside, Ezekiel had a dream that barricades were being put in place around the center of towns all over America. It was not a FEMA lock-up thing. It wasn't Martial Law. It was a "We're protecting ourselves," thing. I'm not totally sure what that meant, except that we may be looking at a period of terrorism being unleashed in our country. But the one thing I do encourage is serious prayer for Donald every day.

God bless you dear Family. Some of you have heard my cries for the children and the poor, and we were able to send substantial offerings to the ones who labor in the field to save these trafficked children. Thank you for that. They also have been feeling a drop in donations and I was so happy to be able to help them.

We also pay local electric bills for widows and buy firewood for families that live out on the mesa and use sagebrush to stay warm. Which...doesn't work real well, and it's very smoky. So, this help is going a long, long way.

Thank you so very much. The Lord bless you for your kindness.

Also, if you want to see more about our outreaches, please go to our website: heartdwellers.org. And click on the Outreach tab. We're going to be putting some new pictures up on that very soon. But that will give you an idea of who we're taking care of. Who YOU and I are taking care of. The Lord is taking care of... God bless you, dear Family.
