Pagan Roman Emperors ruled only as puppets of the Vandals. The Deadly Wound on Head #1 of Rev. 13 Beast is received when Pagan Rome is conquered by Herull King Odoacer in 476AD The boy (last) emperor, Romulus Augustus is exiled. Arian and Monophysite Christianity persisted in Italy until three heretical Christian barbarian kings (horns) were overthrown (plucked out): Vandals Herull Ostrogoths	Deadly Wound on Head #1 is healed by the restoration of Rome when Gen. Belisarius takes Rome 538 AD and the 2 legs, East (Constantinople) and West (Rome & Italy) are reunited in 554 AD by Justinian	The False Prophet of Rev 19:20 and the Little Horn of Dan 7: 8 is the succession of Popes. The 2 horned beast of Rev 13:11-18 has horns like a lamb (biblical symbol for Christ) and speaks like a dragon (biblical symbol for satan). It has the appearance of a Christian church but satan is in its heart (see Matt. 15:11 & Mark 7:15). The image of the beast is the Vatican with its civil/political horn and its religious horn made in the likeness of the Pagan Roman Govt. It speaks through its head mouthpiece, the pope with his words and papal bulls and causes the people of the world to worship the beast (Revised Roman Empire) with seven heads and ten horns (Rev. 13) and to take his symbolic mark or number of his name (ROMAN/LATEINOS - 666) on their right hand (work & worldly actions) or on their forehead (belief & allegiance) or face persecution to death at the hand of the kings and their armies who give their allegiance to him.
